Hollie Rankin, 2019-06-07

Currently, many children are unable to access emotional support services, and other members of a child's support network are required to provide this emotional guidance and support. This resource book has been written to support children when they have experienced a loss or bereavement. It is intended to be used as a guide by families and friends, school staff, and all other adults supporting children through their grief to help them to provide this emotional guidance. Guide to Supporting Children through Bereavement and Loss offers information, education, and guidance about how to understand grief, ways to support the process and emotions of grief, and to help children to express themselves and make sense of their changed world. It covers the stages of grief and holds many practical ideas and activities designed to help children to process and understand their grief as well as to express and explore their emotions. There is a section on undertaking group work for bereaved children as well as information on both self-care and what to do when a referral to a specialist service may be required. It is specifically written to be as accessible and as user-friendly as possible to help rather than hinder the user.
