Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments Michael Burke, Olivia Fialho, Sonia Zyngier, 2016-07-22 Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments is not just about what takes place in literary classrooms. Settings do have a strong influence on student learning both directly and indirectly. These spaces may include the home, the workplace, science centers, libraries, that is, contexts that entail diverse social, physical, psychological, and pedagogical variables that facilitate learning, for example, by grouping desks in specific ways, utilizing audio-visual and digital technologies. Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments puts together a series of empirical research studies on the different locations of teaching and learning. These studies represent literary learning environments throughout the world, including Brazil, the USA, China, Canada, Japan, and several European countries such as the Netherlands, Ukraine, the UK, and Malta. The studies reported describe quantitative and/or qualitative research and cover pre-primary, primary, high school, college, university, and lifelong learning environments. They refresh the enigmatic ambience that often surrounds the teaching and learning that goes on in literary studies and offer transparent, useful, and replicable research and practice.

Students and teachers alike are encouraged to take them and own them.

Reversing Lower Attainment Diane Montgomery, 2013-10-28 First Published in 1998 All learners and in particular lower attainers need to have a curriculum which is cognitively challenging, motivating, and enriching. This book aims to help teachers adapt their teaching strategies so that they can offer such a curriculum especially to lower attainers. The nature of lower attainment is examined in its various forms: the highly able, the slower learner, the dyslexic, and the disaffected. The origins of these problems and how they may be identified are also discussed. An evaluation of the different curriculum models and methods of differentiation is provided, and the author outlines the general principles and practices of good teaching with reference to a wide range of curriculum areas.

Mary F. Cleugh on Teaching Children with Learning Differences Mary Frances Cleugh, 2022-07-30 Dr Mary Frances Cleugh 1913-1986 was a philosopher and educationalist. She worked for many years at the University of London Institute of Education where she led a 1-year course for teachers of ESN children. Originally published in 1961, the three volumes of this work, which at the time took their place as complete and up-to-date guides to the subjects they cover, were written by former students, now practicing teachers, who had passed through the Institute's course. The volumes, each in a different setting, cover every part of the curriculum from the point of view of the slow learner. These books are re-issues originally published in 1961.
