Just One More Song Herbert Appleman, 2019-03-04 Just One More Song is Herb Appleman's account of coping with loss and grief following the death of his wife Dee It's also the celebration of a marriage that was a love affair for forty six years The book takes the form of a diary that Herb kept during his first fifteen months of widowhood and the entries are for the most part his conversations with Dee These weren't mystical experiences but as Herb says as real as memory imagination and love are real They came about because he couldn't sleep Even sleeping pills didn't help Nothing did until one night when he remembered a scene from the movie Sleepless in Seattle It was a scene in which Tom Hanks played a character who'd been recently widowed and was having trouble sleeping Out of the blue he imagined his dead wife sitting on the other end of the sofa talking to him and he felt comforted Herb thought he'd give it a try and imagined talking to Dee It worked From then on knowing he could talk to her at the end of the day gave him something to look forward to and after they talked he found it easier to sleep Their conversations were triggered by things that happened on a particular day but ranged as conversations often do over the whole of their lives The tone of the book is set in the dedication which begins Nearly every night before going to sleep Dee liked me to sing to her The song she'd pick would depend on her mood or the occasion if the day was special or simply on the time of year On the first day of fall when the colors began to change she'd always pick Autumn Leaves More often than not after I finished she'd say Just one more song This time you pick it The dedication ends For Dee in loving memory just one more song Just One More Song is enhanced by personal photos and reproductions of Dee's artwork it's a book to treasure and tell your friends about especially if they're in mourning or if they still believe that romantic love can last a lifetime And longer
