years old but already she has learnt about some of life's hardships and heartaches. With the loss of her brother, her parents' separation, and now having to endure life with her neglectful, drunken, and abusive mother, she also has to contend with being bullied by other girls in school and out of it. But by accident, Sara discovers another world in the forest at the end of her road. Things she had thought were only in stories and make believe, where as real as you or I. A commune of fairy folk take Sara into their hearts, and with their wisdom, protection, and love, Sara's life becomes bearable once more. The fairies she befriends bestow comeuppance on her tormentors in a mischievous but not dangerous way in order to teach them the error of their ways. So with a mix of sadness, mystery, humour, and spiritual uplifting, this book is a must for everyone's child, and the child in everyone.

Radio Script Catalog Gertrude Golden Broderick, 1950 Oral and Written Narratives and Cultural Identity Francisco Cota Fagundes, Irene Maria Blayer, 2007

This interdisciplinary volume centers on the interrelations of storytelling and various manifestations of cultural identity from written to oral and from autobiographical to regional and national. Indigenous storytelling as well as storytelling for and by children and the elderly are the main focus of these essays. Together, these fifteen texts make a significant contribution toward a deeper understanding of various aspects of textual and oral narrative; they broaden the lines of inquiry into multidisciplinary and multicultural interests, particularly those centering on the construction, expression, and contextualization of various types of identity, and they illustrate the deployment of storytelling not only as testimony, contestation, and subversion but also as peacebuilding. Many countries, languages, and cultures are herein represented, from the United States and Canada to Japan, Singapore, and Malaysia, from English to Japanese to Greek to Italian to the languages of indigenous peoples of Latin America and the Philippines.

The Mysteries of Life in Children's Literature Mitchell Kalpakgian, 2000

FAIRY TALES AND MYTHS have enriched childhood for centuries. In between "Once upon a time" and "happily ever after," we embark on adventures that seem an eternity away from our everyday lives. Yet nothing could be further from the truth. In The Mysteries of Life in Children's Literature, journey through a treasury of beloved fables and folk tales and discover the wisdom hiding within. In an age that rejects moral absolutes, children's literature restores the meaning of good and evil, beautiful and ugly, normal and abnormal, and helps us see the nature of our world more clearly than we ever have before.

Evolutionary Creation Denis O. Lamoureux, 2008-06-15

In this provocative book, evolutionist and evangelical Christian Denis O. Lamoureux proposes an approach to origins that moves beyond the evolution versus creation debate. Arguing for an intimate relationship between the Book of God's Words and the Book of God's Works, he presents evolutionary creation, a position that asserts that the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit created the universe and life through an ordained and sustained evolutionary process. This view of origins affirms intelligent design and the belief that beauty, complexity, and functionality in nature reflect the mind of God. Lamoureux also challenges the popular Christian assumption that the Holy Spirit revealed scientific and historical facts in the opening chapters of the Bible. He contends that Scripture features an ancient understanding of origins that functions as a vessel to deliver inerrant and infallible messages of faith Lamoureux shares his personal story and his struggle in coming to terms with evolution and Christianity Like many he lost his boyhood faith at university in classes on evolutionary biology After graduation he experienced a born again conversion and then embraced belief in a literal six day creation Graduate school training at the doctoral level in both theology and biology led him to the conclusion that God created the world through evolution Lamoureux closes with the two most important issues in the origins controversy the pastoral and pedagogical implications How should churches approach this volatile topic And what should Christians teach their children about origins
