Make Believe Moon:

Making Make-Believe Real Garry Wills, 2014-06-10 Shakespeare's plays abound with kings and leaders who crave a public stage and seize every opportunity to make their lives a performance Antony Cleopatra Richard III Othello and many others Such self-dramatizing characters appear in the work of other playwrights of the era as well Marlowe's Edward II and Tamburlaine among them But Elizabethan playwrights were not alone in realizing that a sense of theater was essential to the exercise of power Real rulers knew it too and none better than Queen Elizabeth In this fascinating study of political stagecraft in the Elizabethan era Garry Wills explores a period of vast cultural and political change during which the power of make-believe to make power real was not just a theory but an essential truth Wills examines English culture as Catholic Christianity's rituals were being overturned and a Protestant queen took the throne New iconographies of power were necessary for the new Renaissance liturgy to displace the medieval church state The author illuminates the extensive imaginative constructions that went into Elizabeth's reign and the explosion of great Tudor and Stuart drama that provided the imaginative power to support her long and successful rule Random Thinking O. E. Cramer, 2011-08-02 The book Random Thinking is my first attempt at writing a full-length manuscript and having it published as a writer It is a collection of short poems observations make-believe and not-so-make-believe things that pop into my head then suddenly appear on the written page This book as well as my children's book titled Non-sensibles is on my bucket list which simply put are things I want to achieve in my life Both are scheduled for release toward the middle of November this year Catalog of Copyright Entries, 1945 Moon's Crossing Barbara Croft, 2003-08-12 A stunning cinematic debut novel set at the 1893 Chicago World's Fair Moon's Crossing explores a unique time in American history when the romantic heritage of the nineteenth century merged with the industrial temperament of the modern age Jim Moon an idealistic Union Army veteran leaves his young wife and son to visit the World's Columbian Exposition which has attracted America's greatest artists and thinkers as well as its drifters and schemers Nick a fast-talking con man takes Moon to Pullman Town a model city south of Chicago that is the site of the complex labor strike of 1894 Moon comes to see that the bright future the fair promised is compromised by greed Unable to recapture his early vision of America he takes his own life and in so doing generates a surprising love story between a common young woman and a corrupt policeman as well as a major upheaval in the life of his neglected son Kaleidoscopic and fast-paced Moon's Crossing draws on such sources as the traditional tall tale to present a unique narrative style Moon's adventures are completely American and the legacy he leaves is ironically more significant than his failed life would have foretold Surveyor, 1967 Make-Believe Moon Kathleen Smith, Modern Publishing, 1988-01-01 Visit animal friends on a make-believe moon A rocking book on board pages Colorblind Leah Harper Bowron, 2017-07-11 The time is 1968 The place is Montgomery Alabama The story is one of resilience in the face of discrimination and bullying Using the racially repugnant word nigger two Caucasian boys repeatedly bully Miss Annie Loomis the first African American teacher at the all white Wyatt Elementary School At the same time using the hateful word harelip the boys repeatedly bully Miss Loomis s eleven year old Caucasian student Lisa Parker who was born with cleft palate and cleft lip Who will best the bullies Only Lisa s mood ring knows for sure Island Song Lyrics Volume 3 Larry W. Fiction and Imagination in Early Cinema Mario Slugan, 2019-11-28 Shortlisted for the BAFTSS Best Monograph Award 2021 When watching the latest instalment of Batman it is perfectly normal to say that we see Batman fighting Bane or that we see Bruce Wayne making love to Miranda Tate We would not say that we see Christian Bale dressed up as Batman going through the motions of punching Tom Hardy dressed up as Bane Nor do we say that we see Christian Bale pretending to be Bruce Wayne making love with Marion Cotillard who is playacting the role Miranda Tate But if we look at the history of cinema and consider contemporary reviews from the early days of the medium we see that people thought precisely in this way about early film They spoke of film as no more than documentary recordings of actors performing on set In an innovative combination of philosophical aesthetics and new cinema history Mario Slugan investigates how our default imaginative engagement with film changed over the first two decades of cinema It addresses not only the importance of imagination for the understanding of early cinema but also contributes to our understanding of what it means for a representational medium to produce fictions Specifically Slugan argues that cinema provides a better model for understanding fiction than literature
