Infinite Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2013-06-29 What essentially is a garden Is it a small plot of land that we put aside to cultivate our favourite vegetables or to grow flowers for our personal enjoyment Or is it a symbol a mirror a reflection of our human passions Within the context of phenomenology onto poiesis of life we find the significance of the garden inscribed within the web of the Human Condition creatively unfurling its form from the vital basis to its loftiest swings of the period The aesthetic synthesis of our passions is carried by the logoic promise of life its infinite renewal and infinite response The topic of the present volume is the mysterious ways in which Imaginatio Creatix plays within the human ingrownness in natural life transposing dreams nostalgias and enchantments Architectural Thought: Michael Brawne, 2007-06-01 An introduction to architectural thought this text is a thorough and accessible discussion in search of the principles of the design process Documenting the non verbal processes and decisions that architects and designers make is a difficult task but one that is important when trying to understand the development of architectural design through the ages Michael Brawne uses his experience as a practicing architect academic and educator to provide an overview of the subject By looking at the practices and buildings of architects past and present he incorporates history and philosophy in the search for a theory of design

Museum Skepticism David Carrier, 2006-05-31 Prominent art historian looks at the birth of the art museum and contemplates its future as a public institution

Intersections Iain Borden, Jane Rendell, 2000 Intersections represents a newly emergent approach to the history of architecture that addresses both the relevance of critical theories to an historical understanding of architecture and the development of those theories

The Culture Broker Margaret Leslie Davis, 2007-08-20 Franklin Murphy It is not a name that is widely known even during his lifetime the public knew little of him But for nearly thirty years Murphy was the dominant figure in the cultural development of Los Angeles Behind the scenes Murphy used his role as confidant family friend and advisor to the founders and scions of some of America's greatest fortunes Ahmanson Rockefeller Ford Mellon and Annenberg to direct the largesse of the wealthy into cultural institutions of his choosing In this first full biography of Franklin D Murphy 1916-994 Margaret Leslie Davis delivers the compelling story of how Murphy as chancellor of UCLA and later as chief executive of the Times Mirror media empire was able to influence academia the media and cultural foundations to reshape a fundamentally provincial city The Culture Broker brings to light the influence of L.A.'s powerful families and chronicles the mixed motives behind large public endeavors Channeling more than one billion dollars into the city's arts and educational infrastructure Franklin Murphy elevated Los Angeles to a vibrant world class city positioned for its role in the new era of global trade and cross cultural arts

Smallest Mimes. Defaced Representation and Media Epistemology Paul Majkut,2014-05-20 This book proposes an alternate theory of media evolution that accounts for the appearance of a new medium in the malpractice of older media Smallest Mimes addresses complex issues of media transition the inherent confusion of media definition by use of metaphor instead of phenomenological description and the impact of individual media function and structure on both textual and imagistic content Bringing together Majkut s past speculations on media Smallest Mimes interweaves a general theory of media a theory of historical media change and transmission and a theory of media genesis in technological adequacy inadequacy American Museums and the Persuasive Impulse J. Donald Ragsdale,2009-01-14 In American Museums and the Persuasive Impulse Professor Ragsdale assesses American museums as means of visual persuasion He demonstrates that museums their contents and their manners of display are as capable of influencing visitors as speeches or advertisements and that an awareness of their social influence provides an insight into the cultural roles of museums The book considers a diverse array of museums ranging from such national cultural icons as the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Art Institute to such city museums as the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the Los Angeles Country Museum of Art and includes separate chapters on museums devoted to modern and contemporary art and to the specialized collections of individual connoisseurs In addition to these primarily art museums Professor Ragsdale assesses museums devoted to collections such as the National Air and Space Museum and to commemoration and remembrance such as the National World War II Museum and the US Holocaust Memorial Museum American Museums and the Persuasive Impulse makes an important contribution to the theory of persuasion and to visual communication art history and museology It utilizes a theory of visual signs based on the semiotic theory of C S Peirce In so doing it demonstrates that museum buildings the art and other objects contained within them and the spaces used for display may all be thought of in terms of means of social influence
