Making Better Drugs For Children With Cancer:

Making Better Drugs for Children with Cancer National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, National Cancer Policy Board, Committee on Shortening the Time Line for New Cancer Treatments, 2005-03-31 The successes that have been achieved in treating childhood cancers stand as beacons against the less dramatic improvements for adults with cancer Progress began to accelerate in the 1960s and 1970s as treatment regimens were built up primarily by building combinations of chemotherapeutic drugs However the near absence of research in pediatric cancer drug discovery threatens to halt the progress in childhood cancer treatment achieved during the past four decades Making Better Drugs for Children with Cancer identifies the major issues to be addressed in developing new agents for childhood cancers the gaps in research and development and the steps that have been suggested to move the process forward This report also makes a new proposal to capitalize on today's science to bring new treatments to children's cancers Pizzo & Poplack's Principles and Practice of Pediatric Oncology Susan M. Blaney, Peter C. Adamson, Lee J. Helman, 2025-09-16 Pizzo and Poplack's Principles and Practice of Pediatric Oncology 9th Edition remains the definitive comprehensive reference in pediatric oncology Under the expert editorial leadership of Drs Susan M Blaney Peter C Adamson and Lee J Helman this edition builds on a legacy of excellence spanning decades A world renowned team of international multidisciplinary experts delivers authoritative up to date insights into the biology and genetics of childhood cancer diagnostic techniques and multimodal treatment approaches The Ninth Edition integrates the latest research breakthroughs including advances in targeted therapies immunotherapies and precision medicine It also expands its in depth coverage of supportive care symptom management survivorship and the long term effects of therapy This award winning text continues to be the essential guide for pediatric oncologists hematologists researchers and trainees dedicated to improving outcomes for children with cancer Addressing the Barriers to Pediatric Drug Development Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Forum on Drug Discovery, Development, and Translation, 2008-09-12 Decades of research have demonstrated that children do not respond to medications in the same way as adults Differences between children and adults in the overall response to medications are due to profound anatomical physiological and developmental differences Although few would argue that children should receive medications that have not been adequately tested for safety and efficacy the majority of drugs prescribed for children 50 to 75 percent have not been tested in pediatric populations Without adequate data from such testing prescribing drugs appropriately becomes challenging for clinicians treating children from infancy through adolescence Addressing the Barriers to Pediatric Drug Development is the summary of a workshop held in Washington D C on June 13 2006 that was organized to identify barriers to the development and testing of drugs for pediatric populations as well as ways in which the system can be improved to facilitate better treatments for children Pediatric Drug Development Andrew E. Mulberg, Dianne Murphy, Julia Dunne, Lisa L. Mathis, 2013-05-20 Most medicines have never been adequately tested for safety and efficacy in pediatric populations and preterm infants and children are particularly vulnerable to adverse drug reactions Pediatric Drug Development Concepts and Applications Second Edition addresses the unique challenges in conducting effective drug research and development in pediatric populations This new edition covers the legal and ethical issues of consent and assent the additional legal and safety protections for children and the appropriate methods of surveillance and assessment for children of varying ages and maturity particularly for patient reported outcomes It includes new developments in biomarkers and surrogate endpoints developmental pharmacology and other novel aspects of global pediatric drug development It also encompasses the new regulatory initiatives across EU US and ROW designed to encourage improved access to safe and effective medicines for children From an international team of expert contributors Pediatric Drug Development Concepts and Applications is the practical guide to all aspects of the research and development of safe and effective medicines for children The Preferential Option for the Poor beyond Theology Daniel G. Groody, Gustavo A.

Gutiérrez, 2016-10-15 Since the 1973 publication of Gustavo Gutiérrez's groundbreaking work A Theology of Liberation liberation theology's central premise of the preferential option for the poor has become one of the most important yet controversial theological themes of the twentieth century As the situation for many of the world's poor worsens it becomes ever more important to ensure that the option for the poor remains not only a vibrant theological concept but also a practical framework for living out the gift and challenge of Christian faith The Preferential Option for the Poor beyond Theology draws on a diverse group of contributors to explore how disciplines as varied as law economics politics the environment science liberal arts film and education can help us understand putting a commitment to the option for the poor into practice The central focus of the book revolves around the question How can one live a Christian life in a world of destitution The contributors address the theological concept of the option for the poor as well as the ways it can shape our social economic political educational and environmental approaches to poverty Their creative examples serve as an inspiration to all those who are seeking to put their talents at the service of human need and the building of a more just and humane world

Treating Infectious Diseases in a Microbial World National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Life Sciences, Committee on New Directions in the Study of Antimicrobial Therapeutics: Immunomodulation, Committee on New Directions in the Study of Antimicrobial Therapeutics: New Classes of Antimicrobials, 2006-02-03 Humans coexist with millions of harmless microorganisms but emerging diseases resistance to antibiotics and the threat of bioterrorism are forcing scientists to look for new ways to confront the microbes that do pose a danger This report identifies innovative approaches to the development of antimicrobial drugs and vaccines based on a greater understanding of how the human immune system interacts with both good and bad microbes The report concludes that the development of a single superdrug to fight all infectious agents is unrealistic Cancer Control Opportunities in Low- and Middle-Income Countries

Institute of Medicine, Board on Global Health, Committee on Cancer Control in Low- and Middle-Income Countries, 2007-01-26

Cancer is low or absent on the health agendas of low and middle income countries LMCs despite the fact that more people die from cancer in these countries than from AIDS and malaria combined International health organizations bilateral aid agencies and major foundations which are instrumental in setting health priorities also have largely ignored cancer in these countries This book identifies feasible affordable steps for LMCs and their international partners to begin to reduce the cancer burden for current and future generations Stemming the growth of cigarette smoking tops the list to prevent cancer and all the other major chronic diseases Other priorities include infant vaccination against the hepatitis B virus to prevent liver cancers and vaccination to prevent cervical cancer Developing and increasing capacity for cancer screening and treatment of highly curable cancers including most childhood malignancies can be accomplished using resource level appropriateness as a guide And there are ways to make inexpensive oral morphine available to ease the pain of the many who will still die from cancer

Taking Action, Saving Lives Kristin Shrader-Frechette, 2007-10-19 In this book at once brilliant and accessible Shrader Frechette reveals how politicians campaign contributors and lobbyists and their power over media advertising and public relations have conspired to cover up environmental disease and death She also shows how science and regulators themselves are frequently captured by well funded polluters and special interests But most important the author puts both the blame and the solution on the shoulders of ordinary citizens She argues that everyone especially in a democracy has a duty to help prevent avoidable environmental deaths

Pediatric Oncology Nursing Pamela S. Hinds, Lauri Linder, 2020-01-23. This book presents the current state of the nursing science in topics relevant to the care of pediatric oncology patients and their families across the treatment trajectory and is framed within a precision health framework. The spectrum of topics covered is wide, including, for example, symptom management, self-care management, exercise, and physical activity, family-centered care, palliative care, the role of the nurse in treatment decision-making, patient and nurse resiliency, survivorship, and genetic counseling. Throughout, there is a focus on the implications of research for nursing practice, highlighting which elements of the available evidence are ready for translation into practice and which are not. In addition, careful attention is paid to the role that nursing can play in further advancing science through clinical research. The authors are leading experts from across the globe. The book will be of special interest for pediatric oncology nurses, including direct care nurses, research nurses, and nursing leaders, and will also be a stimulating source for researchers and non-oncology nurses.

A Parent's Guide to Childhood Cancer Dagmara Beine, 2024-05-16. Indispensable. Dr. Beine provides a practical primer on integrative cancer therapies for children based on a metabolic framework of understanding the disease. I can't recommend this book enough.

Chris Kresser MS, LAc, founder of Kresser Institute, New York Times bestselling author. An invaluable, revolutionary, research-based resource for parents grounded in nutrition, detoxification, and mental wellbeing while aiming to reduce suffering and promote long term recovery Your child has cancer Every day forty three American families hear these words thrusting them headlong into the terrifying and unfamiliar territory of pediatric oncology In A Parent s Guide to Childhood Cancer pediatric oncology specialist Dagmara Beine guides readers through the most difficult scenario a parent will ever face a child s diagnosis of life threatening disease and argues that the greatest tragedy of conventional oncology is its failure to incorporate safe effective and potentially life saving integrative therapies In A Parent s Guide to Childhood Cancer Beine teaches parents how to effectively incorporate these integrative therapies alongside conventional oncology including surgery radiation and chemotherapy Beine s approach is grounded in the metabolic approach to cancer pioneered by the work of Dr Nasha Winters applied to a wildly underserved cancer patient population children Topics include Understanding diagnoses and how to go about seeking a second opinion Assembling a medical team that includes both conventional and integrative oncology experts Essential tests both conventional and integrative and how to interpret them How to develop a metabolically healthy anti cancer nutrition plan Integrative therapies for specific diagnoses and reducing side effects How to harness post treatment detoxification and gut healing protocols The critical importance of sleep movement stress reduction and time outside Plus much more Therapies covered include Mistletoe N Acetyl Cysteine IV Vitamin C Cannabinoids Glutamine Glutathione Low Dose Naltrexone Melatonin Hyperbaric Oxygen And more With cancer Beine says there is no silver bullet But with a metabolic approach and the wise integration of simple and effective complementary therapies under the supervision of a metabolic oncology practitioner there is a path forward to what every parent wants for their sons and daughters a happy childhood
