Pupils are rarely taught the principles of effective co-operation, although being able to work effectively as part of a group is critical in all contexts: school life and work. The book is based on the author's practical experience of running the programme in schools and is underpinned by research into the development of pro-social behaviour and friendship skills. The 26 sessions are arranged in the sequence of the alphabet from Attitude to the Zest for life. In each session, there is a poster and a take-away activity, as well as full facilitator's notes for whole-class introduction, pair and share tasks, and a plenary. A unique feature of the programme is that it addresses the development of non-verbal communication, the ability to read social cues. The sessions raise awareness and understanding of the interpersonal skills necessary for friendships, including communication and co-operation. The teaching sessions cover topics such as Reciprocity, Commitment, Giving and sharing, Trust, Specific thinking skills.
