Making Of An Historian:

The Making of a Historian K. M. De Silva, 2017 Making History Jorma Kalela, 2011-11-18 Everyone has a personal connection to the past independent of historical inquiry So what is the role of the historian Making History argues that historians have damagingly dissociated the discipline of history from the everyday nature of history defining their work only in scholarly terms Exploring the relationship between history and society Kalela makes the case for a more participatory historical research culture in which historians take account of their role in society and the ways in which history making as a basic social practice is present in their work Making History not only asks provocative questions about the role of the historian it also provides practical guidance for students and historians on planning research projects with greater public impact This book is vital reading for all historians lay and professional and will be an essential text for undergraduate and postgraduate courses on historiography and research methods Writing Exile Jan Felix Gaertner, 2007 The volume explores how Greek and Latin authors perceive and present their own real or metaphorical exile and employ exile as a powerful trope to express estrangement elicit readerly sympathy and question political power structures Authorship and Text-making in Early China Hanmo Zhang, 2018-10-08 This book is a timely response to a rather urgent call to seek an updated methodology in rereading and reappraising early Chinese texts in light of newly discovered early writings For a long time the concept of authorship in the formation and transmission of early Chinese texts has been misunderstood The nominal author who should mainly function as a guide to text formation and interpretation is considered retrospectively as the originator and writer of the text This book illustrates that although some notions about the text as the author's property began to appear in some Eastern Han texts a strict correlation between the author and the text results from later conceptions of literary history Before the modern era there existed a conceptual gap between an author and a writer A pre modern Chinese text could have had both an author and a writer or even multiple authors and multiple writers This work is the first study addressing these issues by more systematically emphasizing the connection of the text the author and the religious and sociopolitical settings in which these issues were embedded It is expected to constitute a palpable contribution to Chinese studies and the discipline of philology in general Historian's Procedures Manual Historic American Buildings Survey, 1983 Historian's Life Fay Anderson, 2017-04-28 Max Crawford was one of Australia's pre eminent historians As both a participant in and observer of many decisive episodes of the era Europe in the midst of the Depression America and Russia at the height of World War II post war reconstruction and the Cold War in Australia Crawford was regarded as a radical and outspoken defender of intellectual autonomy This biography considers Crawford as an historian and a public intellectual It relates his experiences as a student at Sydney and Oxford a struggling teacher during the Depression as the head of the History School at the University of Melbourne a diplomat in wartime Russia and a Cold War victim and accuser The study of Crawford's life provides insight into one man's experience in the midst of political turmoil and the limits of intellectual autonomy on Australian campuses as well as the suspicion of liberal intellectuals in Australian public life the repression of academic radicals and ASIO's attempts to stifle dissident voices Spanning his life 1906-1991 Crawford's political and intellectual journey suggests the changing nature of Australian progressive liberalism and the precarious state of academic freedom

Making History Jonathon S. Cullick, 2000-04-01 From his first published book to his last works Robert Penn Warren wrote novels poetry biographies and essays based on the lives of American historical figures Even some of his critical texts take a biographical approach to their subjects In Making History the first comprehensive survey of Warren's biographical narratives Jonathan S. Cullick tracks a clear development toward autobiography in Warren's career By applying narrative theory to that provocative trend he then makes an intriguing discovery Warren's discourse techniques dramatize his philosophy of history and ethics Cullick unearths what might be called the narrative syntax of Warren's historical vision in which genre becomes vital in the attempt to reconcile American past and present Making History considers all of Warren's major biographical narratives and their evolution from detached reporting to doubtful self-examination It offers a new reading of Warren's famed novel All the King's Men and close examination of several neglected texts including Warren's first book John Brown: The Making of a Martyr his essay The World of Daniel Boone and two of his final works Jefferson Davis Gets His Citizenship Back and Portrait of a Father

Making Animal Meaning Linda Kalof, Georgina M. Montgomery, 2011-12-01 An elucidating collection of ten original essays Making Animal Meaning reconceptualizes methods for researching animal histories and rethinks the contingency of the human-animal relationship The vibrant and diverse field of animal studies is detailed in these interdisciplinary discussions which include voices from a broad range of scholars and have an extensive chronological and geographical reach These exciting discourses capture the most compelling theoretical underpinnings of animal significance while exploring meaning-making through the study of specific spaces species and human-animal relations A deeply thoughtful collection vital to understanding central questions of agency kinship and animal consumption these essays tackle the history and philosophy of constructing animal meaning

The Local Historian's Table Book: Historical division, 1844 The Historian's Heart of Darkness Mark D. Larabee, 2018-01-04 Fiction has power to portray historical truth This book presents Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness to students and general readers as an insightful guide to the history of Europe and Africa in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The phrase heart of darkness has become a term commonly used to conjure an ominous sense of hidden or deeply rooted evil How did these words become so evocative The answer lies in the richness and acute insight of Heart of Darkness Joseph Conrad's story based on his 1890 journey on the Congo River Conrad's novella illustrates many crucial themes of European and world history through the last two centuries civilization exploration colonialism and imperialism race and conflict based on race trade and globalization commercial exploitation and the impact of changing technology especially for communication and transport Heart of Darkness deserves to be studied today for its value as social and cultural history In this edition Conrad's story is shown to reveal important truths not only about Europe and Africa a century ago but also about the historical forces that shape the world we live in now Featuring the texts of both Heart of Darkness and Conrad s autobiographical Congo Diary along with more than 200 annotations this book enables readers to appreciate the connections between Conrad s writing and its historical context Introductory essays explain how Conrad was uniquely positioned to chronicle history provide critical background information on how Europeans partitioned Africa and created the Congo Free State and describe how the ivory and rubber trades brutalized the natives Readers will learn how Conrad contributed to European awareness of the atrocities committed and understand how the story s literary qualities form an essential part of its historical meaning The numerous illustrations and maps depicting the historical Congo Free State provide a visual element to the story of Heart of Darkness a fictionalized tale that can be interpreted as history and that can help us interpret today s postcolonial globalized world

Exploring Big Historical Data: The Historian's Macroscopic (Second Edition) Shawn Graham,Ian Milligan,Scott B Weingart,Kimberley Martin,2022-02-24 Every day more and more kinds of historical data become available opening exciting new avenues of inquiry but also new challenges This updated and expanded book describes and demonstrates the ways these data can be explored to construct cultural heritage knowledge for research and in teaching and learning It helps humanities scholars to grasp Big Data in order to do their work whether that means understanding the underlying algorithms at work in search engines or designing and using their own tools to process large amounts of information Demonstrating what digital tools have to offer and also what digital does to how we understand the past the authors introduce the many different tools and developing approaches in Big Data for historical and humanistic scholarship show how to use them what to be wary of and discuss the kinds of questions and new perspectives this new macroscopic perspective opens up Originally authored live online with ongoing feedback from the wider digital history community Exploring Big Historical Data breaks new ground and sets the direction for the conversation into the future Exploring Big Historical Data should be the go to resource for undergraduate and graduate students confronted by a vast corpus of data and researchers encountering these methods for the first time It will also offer a helping hand to the interested individual seeking to make sense of genealogical data or digitized newspapers and even the local historical society who are trying to see the value in digitizing their holdings

The Historian's Red Badge of Courage Paul A. Cimbala, 2020-07-08 For someone who did not actually fight in the American Civil War Stephen Crane was extraordinarily accurate in his description of the psychological tension experienced by a youthful soldier grappling with his desire to act heroically his fears and redemption Stephen Crane s novel The Red Badge of Courage provides an extraordinary take on the battlefield experiences of a young soldier coming of age under extreme circumstances His writing took place a generation after the war s conclusion at a time when the entire nation was coming to grips with the meaning of the Civil War It was during this time in the late 19th century that the battle over the memory of the war was taking place This new annotated edition of the novel is designed to guide readers through references made through Crane s characters and how they reflect Civil War military experiences specifically how the youth s experiences reflect the reality of the multi day battle of Chancellorsville which took place in Virginia beginning on May 1 1863 and concluded on May 4 of the same year The annotated text is preceded by introductory essays on Crane and on the Civil War Crane s short story The Veteran is also included to allow readers to better understand the post war lives of Civil War soldiers

A Companion to Media Authorship Jonathan Gray, Derek Johnson, 2013-02-12 A Companion to Media Authorship Gray and Johnson have brought together a stellar group of authors whose works deftly explicate the complexities of negotiating authorship across a range of cultural production sites This definitive collection is an important and long overdue contribution to contemporary media studies Serra Tinic author of On Location Canada s Television Industry in a Global Market Wide ranging and global historical and contemporary brimming with insights enlarging our understanding of media production and reception this book is an important contribution to the study of authorship Michael Z Newman author of Indie An American Film Culture While the idea of authorship has transcended the literary to play a meaningful role in the cultures of film television games comics and other emerging digital forms our understanding of it is still too often limited to assumptions about solitary geniuses and individual creative expression A Companion to Media Authorship is a ground breaking collection that reframes media authorship as a question of culture in which authorship is as much a construction tied to authority and power as it is a constructive and creative force of its own Gathering together the insights of leading media scholars and practitioners 28 original chapters map the field of authorship in a cutting edge multi perspective and truly authoritative manner The contributors develop new and innovative ways of thinking about the practices attributions and meanings of authorship They situate and examine authorship within collaborative models of industrial production socially networked media platforms globally diverse traditions of creativity complex consumption practices and a host of institutional and social contexts Together the essays provide the definitive study on the subject by demonstrating that authorship is a field in which media culture can be transformed revitalized and reimagined
