Making To-Live-For Dolls Celia Desmond, 2013-04 This book is a must read for anyone making a porcelain doll wanting to enter in a competition In the book you will find tips and information from notes taken at seminars and private lessons with the top doll makers in the world today There are two main categories of porcelain dolls modern and antique Modern dolls are those sculpted by modern artists Antique dolls are those that were first introduced and sold either more than fifty years ago or by some definitions more than one hundred years ago Actual antique dolls can be purchased for enjoyment and possibly to use as models for the making of reproductions Excellent reproductions of the antique dolls can be made by modern day artists Modern dolls are those sculpted by current day sculptors Modern dolls can be painted and dressed in any way the doll artisan prefers They can have painted eyes or the holes can be cut out from the porcelain before the bisque firing to allow the insertion of glass eyes Neither technique is easy Each has its own challenges and both look nice when done well These dolls can be dressed in any way the artist wishes as well Reproductions of antiques must be done so that the artist reproduces the original patterns and colors as they were initially done on the specific dolls This means reproducing the eyes with the same number of lashes that the artists painted on the antique dolls the same slant and the same spacing Dressing the antique reproductions poses another challenge as the dolls should be dressed in a period costume appropriate for that doll The fabrics should be natural fibers often actual vintage or antique fabrics Significant research is required to determine what styles fabrics and colors should be used for specific dolls This book has a wonderful collection of tips collected from the experts These are helpful for all doll makers especially people preparing for competitions This book contains a wealth of information for lovers and makers of both modern and reproduction antique dolls The information has been collected over the years from most of the most talented and experienced doll makers in the world It is shared here with those interested in preserving this art approaching each aspect of the doll in the best way possible Doll Sourcebook Argie Manolis,1996 A Complete directory of supplies and services for making selling and collecting dolls Dolls , Art Making, Collections, and Obsessions Lynne Perrella,2010-04 Profiles the creative processes of thirty five artists who feel compelled to collect a wide variety of found objects which provide inspiration or are incorporated into their mixed media artworks ABC's of Doll Mold Making Kamelia Kay Williamson,1979 Mixed-Media Doll Making Linda O'Brien,Opie O'Brien,2011-10-01 Inspired by the Dada notion of making art from materials that would not typically be combined or expected to go together and driven by a similar sense of irony and humor this exciting book by Linda and Opie O'Brien shares their unique approach to making mixed media dolls It is not only a must have volume for anyone interested in found object art and the human form it is a thoughtful and provocative exploration of the power symbolism and cultural significance of dolls and representational figures In Mixed Media Doll Making the authors share detailed techniques for using surface embellishments creating faces heads and limbs using molds and molding products and building and transforming disparate objects into whimsical inspiring dolls Starting with a variety of substrates including a wood block a canvas a tin can a book and a box construction readers are guided step by step through five types of doll constructions Inside you ll find Complete instructions for making a box construction doll a wood block substrate doll a two sided canvas frame doll a tin can doll and a book doll Numerous variations on each of the core projects for further experimentation An inspiring gallery of mixed media dolls from leading artists who discuss their methods and share their very personal answers to the question What is a doll Catalog of Copyright Entries. Life Like Dolls A. F. Robertson,2004-03-01 Since the 1980s there has been a growing billion dollar business producing porcelain collectible dolls Advertised in Sunday newspapers and mailbox fliers even Marie Osmond an avid collector herself is now promoting her own line of dolls on the Home Shopping Network and sales are soaring With average price tags of 100 and 500 or more for a handcrafted or limited edition doll these dolls strike a chord in the hearts of middle aged and older women their core buyers some of whom create nurseries devoted to collections that number in the hundreds Each doll has its own name identity and adoption certificate like Shawna who has just learned to stack blocks all by herself and Bobby whose brown handset eyes shine with mischief and little boy plans Exploring the nexus of emotions consumption and commodification they represent A F Robertson tracks the rise of the porcelain collectible market interviews the women themselves and visits their clubs fairs and homes to understand what makes the dolls so irresistible Lifelike but freakish novelties that profess to be antiques pricey kitsch These dolls are the product of powerful emotions and big business Life Like Dolls pursues why middle class educated women obsessively collect these dolls and what this phenomenon says about our culture
