for Teaching is a contribution to understanding and improving the teaching profession and brings new insights to the work and lives of teachers. It is written for all teachers, teacher educators and student teachers who have a passion for education, who love learners, the learning life and the teaching life. The Passion of Teaching Robert Lee Smith, James Hurst, Denise Skarbek, 2005. Here the authors offer a deeper understanding of the various concepts and relevance of dispositions to teaching and other professions that serve in school settings. This book provides a broad basis for conceptualizing the what and how of dispositions. Features: Historical and definitional perspectives of dispositions as traits and beliefs. Pragmatic application. Contemporary views of dispositions in teaching and teacher education. An overview of the various methods that have been utilized to incorporate dispositions and dispositional concepts in educational curricula. Strategies for identifying features of effective professionals. Discussions on issues in the selection and retention of candidates in professional preparation programs and critical dispositions. A valuable reference given the current emphasis on dispositions as expected components in many state and professional organization standards; it also presents the legal and political implications and religious traditions of dispositions in teacher education programs; a model for the classification of research related to dispositions. Will be of interest to teacher educators, administrators, teachers and others in school-related professions.

Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning Dennis M. McInerney, 2013-08-15. Educational Psychology: Constructing Learning 6e sets the standard for educational psychology texts in Australia and New Zealand with its comprehensive authoritative and research-based coverage of the subject. This edition includes completely updated content to reflect recent advances in the discipline, including revised theory into practice features from 39 international developmental psychologists. The author has retained the constructivist approach that made previous editions so engaging and relevant to student teachers, and content has been constructed around the new Australian Profession Standards for Teachers. Classroom Motivation Eric M. Anderman, Lynley H. Anderman, 2020-11-26. Classroom Motivation is a comprehensive introduction to the practical applications of research on academic motivation to teaching and learning. Though grounded in theory, the book is uniquely structured around instructional practices that teachers use daily in schools, such as rewards, group activities, academic tasks, student assessment, and parent interaction. This thoroughly revised third edition includes new content on interventions, mindsets, technologies, engagement, and social emotional learning. Each chapter's case studies, application exercises, and updated empirical findings will further connect preservice teachers with motivation in practice. Teachers' Goals, Beliefs, Emotions, and Identity Development Paul A. Schutz, Ji Hong, Dionne Cross Francis, 2020-04-21. Teachers' Goals, Beliefs, Emotions, and Identity Development discusses the nonlinear, multifaceted processes of teacher development by foregrounding constructs related to well-being and professional standards. Teachers lead full, complex lives that are set in both immediate and social-historical realities that significantly shape their ongoing successes and challenges. Informed by a range of psychological and educational theories and perspectives and meaningfully situated in contemporary perspectives of teacher well being this book offers comprehensive and holistic approaches to the processes and contexts of teacher development The authors research and implications for practice will be useful for prospective and practising teachers teacher educators classroom researchers school administrators and policymakers Proceedings of IAC-ETeL 2013
