Great Britain

Making Of The United Kingdom:

The Making of the United Kingdom, 1660-1800 Jim Smyth, 2001 The three kingdoms or four nations which became the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in 1801 have distinct but not separate histories Sensitive questions of religion local loyalty and allegiance to the state shaped politics within and between the four nations and still give an edge to politics in parts of modern Britain In 1660 the restoration of Charles II to all three of his kingdoms was followed by an attempt to impose religious uniformity across his kingdoms It failed The make up of the British Isles was too diverse Tories Jacobites radicals and Whigs each had strong links to a Church or religious faction Politics and religion could intermingle dangerously Fear of popery was a major cause of the revolution of 1688 and at the beginning of the eighteenth century Presbyterians led Scottish opposition to a union until they were recognised as an established church At the end of the century the architects of the act of union with Ireland hoped finally to resolve the Catholic Question but as it does today constitutional change brought issues of national identity to the fore The eighteenth century witnessed the triumph of unionism on the larger island and the rise of nationalism and separatism across the Irish sea The Making of the United Kingdom seeks to explain that crucial divergence and gives an incisive account of the forging of Britishness the sense of a new nation Jim Smyth is Professor of History University of Notre Dame

United Kingdom: Financial Sector Assessment Program-Banking Supervision and Issues in Financial Stability International Monetary, International Monetary Fund. Monetary and Capital Markets Department, 2022-04-08 The Financial Sector Assessment Program FSAP carried out a targeted evaluation of issues relating to the effectiveness of banking regulation and supervision in the United Kingdom It leverages on the 2016 FSAP which concluded that the United Kingdom U K had a high degree of compliance with the 2012

Basel Core Principles BCPs with some shortcomings The 2021 FSAP reviewed the progress in addressing them and examined the main supervisory and regulatory developments since the last FSAP The FSAP evaluation also focuses on steps taken to minimize disruptions in the U K banking system at the end of the Brexit transition period and on the regulatory and supervisory measures introduced to contain spillovers from the ongoing COVID 19 pandemic on the U K banking system

The United Kingdom's Future Nuclear Deterrent Capability Great Britain. National Audit Office,2008 The programme aims to maintain the UK s nuclear deterrent beyond the life of the current system with the introduction into service of the first of a new class of submarines in 2024 The timetable is challenging and the MoD needs to manage key risks if continuous nuclear deterrence is to be maintained The current two year initial concept phase for the new class of submarines requires a series of important and difficult decisions to be taken by September 2009 to keep the programme on track The MoD has appointed a Senior Responsible Owner to co ordinate these decisions The current predicted cost of procuring the new nuclear deterrent is between 15 billion and 20 billion 2006 7 prices as outlined in the 2006 White Paper The future of the UK s nuclear deterrent Cm 6994 ISBN 9780101699426 The estimated operating costs once the new class of submarines comes into operation are similar to those of the current deterrent and the MoD recognises the need by September 2009 to produce robust estimates of whole life costs There are major areas of uncertainty in the budget including the provision for contingency and VAT The submarine industry is a highly specialised industrial sector with a number of monopoly suppliers and there are real difficulties in providing the right incentives for these suppliers to deliver to time and budget The tight timetable set for ensuring the seamless transition from the present Vanguard class of submarines to the future class is challenging A further risk to the programme is a shortage of nuclear related skills in industry and within MoD potentially aggravated by competition from civil nuclear projects
