Gated Communities? Bert De Munck, Anne Winter (Ph. D.), 2012 Contrary to earlier views of pre industrial Europe as an essentially sedentary society research over the past decades has amply demonstrated that migration was a pervasive characteristic of early modern

Europe In this volume the theme of urban migration is explored through a series of historical contexts The Cambridge Survey of World Migration Robin Cohen,1995-11-02 This extensive survey of migration in the modern world begins in the sixteenth century with the establishment of European colonies overseas and covers the history of migration to the late twentieth century when global communications and transport systems stimulated immense and complex flows of labour migrants and skilled professionals In ninety five contributions leading scholars from twenty seven different countries consider a wide variety of issues including migration patterns the flights of refugees and illegal migration Each entry is a substantive essay supported by up to date bibliographies tables plates maps and figures As the most wide ranging coverage of migration in a single volume The Cambridge Survey of World Migration will be an indispensable reference tool for scholars and students in the field

Innovation and Creativity in Late Medieval and Early Modern European Cities Karel Davids,Bert De Munck,2016-05-23 Late medieval and early modern cities are often depicted as cradles of artistic creativity and hotbeds of new material culture Cities in renaissance Italy and in seventeenth and eighteenth century northwestern Europe are the most obvious cases in point But how did this come about Why did cities rather than rural environments produce new artistic genres new products and new techniques How did pre industrial cities evolve into centres of innovation and creativity As the most urbanized regions of continental Europe in this period Italy and the Low Countries provide a rich source of case studies as the contributors to this volume demonstrate They set out to examine the relationship between institutional arrangements and regulatory mechanisms such as citizenship and guild rules and innovation and creativity in late medieval and early modern cities They analyze whether in what context and why regulation or deregulation influenced innovation and creativity and what the impact was of long term changes in the political and economic sphere

The Whole Economy Catriona Macleod,Alexandra Shepard,Maria Ågren,2023-06-15 Advocating a gender inclusive approach to the history of work this book both counts and accounts for women s as well as men s economic activity Showcasing novel conceptual methodological and empirical perspectives it highlights the transformative potential of including women s work in wider assessments of continuity and change in economic performance Focusing on the period of European history 1500 1800 that generated unprecedented growth in the northwest which in turn was linked to the global redistribution of resources and upon which industrialisation depended the book spans key arenas in which women produced change households care agriculture rural manufacture urban markets migration and war The analysis refutes the stubborn contention of mainstream economic history that we can generalise about economic performance by focusing solely on the work of adult men and demonstrates that women were active agents in the early modern economy rather than passively affected by changes wrought upon them

The Unsettling of Europe Peter Gatrell,2019-08-27 An acclaimed historian examines postwar migration s fundamental role in shaping modern Europe Migration is perhaps the most pressing issue of our time and it has completely decentered European politics in recent years But as we consider the current refugee crisis acclaimed historian

Peter Gatrell reminds us that the history of Europe has always been one of people on the move The end of World War II left Europe in a state of confusion with many Europeans virtually stateless Later as former colonial states gained national independence colonists and their supporters migrated to often unwelcoming metropolises The collapse of communism in 1989 marked another fundamental turning point Gatrell places migration at the center of post war European history and the aspirations of migrants themselves at the center of the story of migration This is an urgent history that will reshape our understanding of modern Europe     Individuals, Families, and Communities in Europe, 1200-1800 Katherine A.

Lynch, 2003-08-21 A study of the family s function in western society from 1200 1800 first published in 2003     Mobility in Transition Izabela Grabowska-Lusinska, Aimee Kuvik, 2025-10-01 This volume presents new research on post accession migration from Central and Eastern Europe in the short period since the EU enlargements of 2004 and 2007 Explanations of post accession migration patterns trends and mechanisms delve into the complexities of these phenomena New groups of migrants and types of migrations are identified such as young migrants often students or graduates without family obligations and without clear plans concerning their future life Case studies on Poland Romania Hungary and Latvia as well as the United Kingdom and Germany being major destination countries divulge the multifaceted nature of transition whether in the form of labour migration short term mobility including among international students or return migration The volume insightfully points towards future migration trends and sets guidelines for further research
