indicates that opposed styles of poetry reveal subterranean correspondences that occasionally meet and run together Austerity or tomfoolery are two of the many valid responses to the human condition that create the contiguous traditions that cannot help touching and reacting to each other The poetry discussed in this book deals with the relation of individuals to strange or to familiar landscapes and what this means to their own sense of displacement or rootedness with the use of history as an escape from or as a challenge to an apparently failing present and with the role of nationalism either as a refuge for angry frustration or as a weapon against the affronting world or as an ambivalent loyalty that needs to be scoured or as all three Here we find poetry as a means of discovering true or false allegiances and valid or invalid public and private identities poetry as a medium for exploring the uses of the demotic in confronting the breakdowns and injustices of modern democracy poetry as play in the midst of private and public woe poetry as a spiritual quest as a spiritual scourging as a wrestling with spiritual absences and poetry as an intermittent and sporadic commemoration of the triumphs and delights of epiphanic encounters with the physical world

English Poetry Since 1940 Neil Corcoran, 2014-07-15 Neil Corcoran's book is a major survey and interpretation of modern British poetry since 1940 offering a wealth of insights into poets and their work and placing them in a broader context of poetic dialogue and cultural exchange The book is organised into five main parts beginning with a consideration of the late Modernism of T S Eliot and W H Auden and ranging decade by decade from the poetry of the Second World War and the New Romanticism of Dylan Thomas to the Movement the poetry of Northern Ireland the variety of contemporary women's poetry and the diversity of the contemporary scene The book will be especially useful for students as it includes detailed and lively readings of works by such poets as Ted Hughes Seamus Heaney and Philip Larkin

Chansky,2016-08-05 Auto biographical narratives of the Americas are marked by the underlying themes of movement and belonging This collection proposes that the impact of the historic or contemporary movement of peoples to in and from the Americas whether chosen or forced motivates the ways in which identities are constructed in this contested space Such movement results in a cyclical quest to belong and to understand belonging that reverberates through narratives of the Americas The volume brings together essays written from diverse national cultural linguistic and disciplinary perspectives to trace these transnational motifs in life writing across the Americas Drawing on international scholars from the seemingly disparate regions of the Americas North America the Caribbean and Latin America this book extends critical theories of life writing beyond limiting national boundaries The scholarship included approaches narrative inquiry from the fields of literature linguistics history art history sociology anthropology political science pedagogy gender studies critical race studies and indigenous studies As a whole this volume advances discourse in auto biography studies life writing and identity studies by locating transnational themes in narratives of the Americas and placing them in international and interdisciplinary conversations

Apuleius' Metamorphoses Stefan Tilg, 2014 This volume reveals how Apuleius Metamorphoses the only fully extant Roman novel and a classic of world literature works as a piece of literature exploring its poetics and the way in which questions of production and reception are reflected in its text Providing a roughly linear reading of key passages the volume develops an original idea of Apuleius as an ambitious writer led by the literary tradition rhetoric and Platonism and argues that he created what we could call a seriocomic philosophical novel avant la lettre The author focuses in particular on the ways in which Apuleius drew attention to his achievement and introduced the Greek ass story to Roman literature Thus the volume also sheds new light on the forms and the literary and intellectual potential of the genre of the ancient novel

Early Modern English Lives Ronald Bedford, Lloyd Davis, Philippa Kelly, 2007 Early Modern English Lives examines sixteenth and seventeenth century autobiographical practices in key contexts and modes of self representation Moving between diaries letters journals memoirs household and personal accounts and major autobiographical texts the study explores the social and historical conditions that shaped early modern life writing The authors argue that expressions of personal identity along with the notion of privacy itself involved an elaborate interplay of generic roles and cultural discourses
