Ornstein,Linda S. Behar,1996-04-01 Peace Education in a Postmodern World Ian M. Harris,2013-12-16 This special issue of the Peabody Journal of Education provides a comprehensive overview of the latest developments in peace education reform School reforms based upon principles of peace education have in common a belief in the power of peace to create a positive learning climate in schools and to address the problems of violence in the broader culture A peace education strategy for improving school productivity rests upon three main assumptions 1 Violence contributes to the poor performance of many students 2 Adults in school settings need to address problems created by violence in order for schools to improve 3 Anxieties that make it hard for students to master traditional subject matter can best be addressed by a comprehensive peace education strategy that makes school a safe place to learn and provides students with knowledge about alternative nonviolent ways to resolve conflicts Peace building reforms go beyond responding to immediate forms of violence that may be overwhelming students and teachers to promoting positive images of peace through the study of nonviolence Written by established experts in the field of peace education from six different countries this collection of articles not only represents a wide variety of peace education practices from different corners of the globe but it also represents varying academic perspectives Educators can play a key role in helping human societies progress toward more sustainable ways of living by implementing peacemaking peacekeeping and peace building strategies in school programs Peace education reforms point to a new way of thinking about schools as vehicles for promoting a peace culture through insights offered by nonviolent theory Newly Emerging Global Issues Stephen P. Heyneman,2005-02-01 This study follows the aesthetic of the sublime from Burke and Kant through Wordsworth and the Shelleys into Thackeray Dickens Eliot and Hardy Exploring the continuities between the romantic and Victorian periods that have so often been rather read as differences the book demonstrate that the sublime mode enables the transition from a paradigm of overwhelming power exemplified by the body of the king to the pervasive power of surveillance utilized by the rising middle classes While the domestic woman connected with the rise of the middle class is normally seen as beautiful the book contends that the moral authority given to this icon of depth and interiority is actually sublime The binary of the beautiful and the sublime seeks to contain the sublimity of womanhood by insisting on sublimity s masculine character This is the book s most important claim rather than exemplifying masculine strength the sublime marks the transition to a system of power gendered as feminine and yet masks that transition because it fears the power it ostensibly accords to the feminine

This aesthetic is both an inheritance the Victorians receive from their romantic predecessors and more importantly a broad historical phenomenon that questions the artificial boundaries between romantic and Victorian

Peabody Journal of Education, 1973 Our Evolving Curriculum Allan C. Ornstein, Linda S. Behar-Horenstein, 1994 Mentors and Mentoring Robert C. Cienkus, Jennifer Grant Haworth, Jack A. Kavanagh, 2013-12-16 The definition and parameters of teacher education have recently been changed by the concept of mentoring Supporters of the concept maintain that it is an effective technique for inducting and retaining new teachers but who and what are mentors and what attributes do they possess Previous research has identified collaboration enthusiasm emotional commitment and sensitivity as the necessary traits of an effective mentor It has also been found that mentors are available give immediate feedback listen attentively and collaboratively solve problems with mentees Epistemological structures that best serve the mentor novice relationship gender issues between mentors and protégés and moral development orientations within the mentor intern relationship have also been investigated Thus mentoring is a complex activity that involves a mentor an intern or novice and a process within a predetermined structure The articles in this special issue validate the fact that the terms good mentor and effective mentoring relationship often elude easy definition However a common theme emerges The mentor mentee relationship is a transformative one that can change the course of one's life

Collaboration--across Campus, Across Town, and With K-12 Schools Jill F. Russell, Richard B. Flynn, 2013-12-16 First Published in 2000 This is Volume 75 Number 3 of the Peabody Journal of Education and focuses on collaboration across campus town and with K 12 schools The issue provides descriptions of a range of ways in which universities and schools and colleges of education can provide leadership for collaborative ventures involving the wider community The collaborative undertakings include working with community agencies other schools or colleges within or external to the institution P 12 schools and business groups The rationale for the theme is that in today's world the problems we are facing are so complex that solutions can no longer be generated and successfully implemented in a vacuum. Cross disciplinary and cross sector collaboration is required to have the desired impact. This necessitates collaboration.

Rendering School Resources More Effective James W. Guthrie, 2013-11-26. This is Volume 80 Issue 3 2005 of the Peabody Journal of Education and this special issue provides a collection of works on the topic of making school resources more effective in the U.S. The included articles look at educational finance, the Education Professions Act guidelines for more motivated teachers and leaders, licensing in public schools, a study on how teaching conditions impact teacher turnover in California, student achievement in relation to school facilities in Wyoming, and the value of econometric cost analysis in Texas. The final article includes the case of Williams vs the state of California where in August 2000 the American Civil Liberties Union filed a class action lawsuit on behalf of school children against the state of California. The suit Williams v State of California alleged that the state failed to exercise its constitutional obligation to provide equal access to education for all students in the state by allowing deficient facilities, uncredentialed teachers, and inadequate or insufficient instructional materials.

Home Schooling in China Xiaoming Sheng, 2019-11-15. Home Schooling in China seeks to provide a better understanding of the social movement of home schooling in China. In this book, the author addresses several major themes of home education including marketization, social stratification, culture, religion, Confucianism, gender, policy, gender, and home schooling. This book draws a broad attention to the in-depth information to the relationship of marketisation, social stratification, and home education in China. It offers an implication for a better understanding not only for influences of religion e.g. Christianity but also the effects of Confucianism on the growth of home education in China. With a strong theoretical foundation, the book comprehensively untangles the key possible factors that shape China's social movement of home education. The book offers a background on theories and research methodology as well as reports on empirical studies that analyse the influences of marketisation on home schooling, social stratification, and the development of home schooling. Transforming the Culture of Schools Jerry Lipka, With Gerald V. Mohatt, Esther Ilutsik, 2014-01-21. This book speaks directly to issues of equity and school transformation and shows how one indigenous minority teachers' group engaged in a process of transforming schooling in their community. Documented in one small locale far removed from mainstream America, the personal narratives by Yup'ik Eskimo teachers address the very heart of school reform. The teachers' struggles portray the first in a series of steps through which a group of Yup'ik teachers and university colleagues began a slow process of reconciling cultural differences and conflict between the culture of the school and the culture of the community. The story told in this book goes well beyond documenting individual narratives by providing examples and insights for others who are involved in creating culturally responsive education that fundamentally changes the role and relationship of teachers and community to schooling.
