Radical Change Through Communication in Mao's China Godwin C. Chu,1977 The Rhetoric of Mao Zedong Xing Lu,2022-04-13 This thorough examination of Mao s speeches and writings and how they reshaped a nation is critical to an understanding of modern China Choice Mao Zedong fundamentally transformed China from a Confucian society characterized by hierarchy and harmony into a socialist state guided by communist ideologies of class struggle and radicalization It was a transformation made possible largely by Mao s rhetorical ability to attract persuade and mobilize millions of Chinese people In this book Xing Lu analyzes Mao s speeches and writings over a span of sixty years tracing the sources and evolution of his discourse analyzing his skills as an orator and mythmaker assessing his symbolic power and continuing presence in contemporary China and observing that Mao s rhetorical legacy has been commoditized culturally consumed and politically appropriated since his death Applying both Western rhetorical theories and Chinese rhetorical concepts to reach a more nuanced and sophisticated understanding of his rhetorical legacy Lu shows how Mao employed a host of rhetorical appeals and strategies drawn from Chinese tradition and how he interpreted the discourse of Marxism Leninism to serve foundational themes of his message She traces the historical contexts in which these themes his philosophical orientations and his political views were formed and how they transformed China and Chinese people Lu also examines how certain ideas are promoted modified and appropriated in Mao s rhetoric His appropriation of Marxist theory of class struggle his campaigns of transforming common people into new communist advocates his promotion of Chinese nationalism and his stand on China s foreign policy all contributed to and were responsible for reshaping Chinese thought patterns culture and communication behaviors Practising Global Journalism John Herbert,2013-02-11 From this book you will gain an understanding of the global media marketplace the technology the players and the issues The role of news agencies sources and networks are explored covering the issues of ethics global media ownership and control Find out how journalists are using the web and learn even newer ways to collect and communicate information Essential reading for today s practising and trainee journalists John Herbert examines the global environment in which journalists operate and describes the latest technology and its impact on print broadcast and online journalism practice Practising Global Journalism is a unique overview of the profession providing a comparative study of journalism practice worldwide Case studies are drawn from Europe Australia the Asia Pacific South Asia China Africa and the Americas Communication Yearbook 12 James A. pioneers of the study of television with new work by cutting edge television scholars who refine and extend intellectual debates in the field Chinese Propaganda Posters: From Revolution to Modernization Stefan Landsberger, 2020-11-26 Brightly coloured prints portraying model behaviour or a better future have been a ubiquitous element of Chinese political culture from Imperial times until present As economic reform swept the People's Republic in the 1980s visual propaganda ceased to depict the tanned and muscular labourers in a proletarian utopia so typical of preceding decades Instead Western icons of progress and development were employed high speed bullet trains spacecraft high rise buildings gridlocked free ways and projections of general affluence Socialist Realism was phased out by design and mixed media techniques that were influenced by Western advertising This lavishly illustrated study traces the development of the style and content of the Chinese propaganda poster in the decade of reform from its traditional origins to its use as a tool for political and economic purposes Rhetoric of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Xing Lu, 2020-08-05 A startling look at revolutionary rhetoric and its effects Now known to the Chinese as the ten years of chaos the Chinese Cultural Revolution 1966-76 brought death to thousands of Chinese and persecution to millions In Rhetoric of the Chinese Cultural Revolution Xing Lu identifies the rhetorical practices and persuasive effects of the polarizing political language and symbolic practices used by Communist Party leaders to legitimize their use of power and violence to dehumanize people identified as class enemies Lu provides close readings of the movement's primary texts political slogans official propaganda wall posters and the lyrics of mass songs and model operas She also scrutinizes such ritualistic practices as the loyalty dance denunciation rallies political study sessions and criticism and self criticism meetings Lu enriches her rhetorical analyses of these texts with her own story and that of her family as well as with interviews conducted in China and the United States with individuals who experienced the Cultural Revolution during their teenage years In her new preface Lu expresses deep concern about recent nationalism xenophobia divisiveness and violence instigated by the rhetoric of hatred and fear in the United States and across the globe She hopes that by illuminating the way language shapes perception thought and behavior this book will serve as a reminder of past mistakes so that we may avoid repeating them in the future Asia.com K. Problems of Communism, 1981

The Buddha Party John Powers, 2017 The Buddha Party tells the story of how the People's Republic of China employs propaganda to define Tibetan Buddhist belief and sway opinion within the country and abroad The narrative they create is at odds with historical facts and deliberately misleading but John Powers argues it is widely believed by Han Chinese Most of China's leaders appear to deeply believe the official line regarding Tibet which resonates with Han notions of themselves as China's most advanced nationality and as a benevolent race that liberates and culturally uplifts minority peoples This in turn profoundly affects how the leadership interacts with their counterparts in other countries Powers's study focuses in particular on the government's patriotic education campaign an initiative that forces monks and nuns to participate in propaganda sessions and repeat official dogma Powers contextualizes this within a larger campaign to transform China's religions into patriotic systems that endorse Communist Party policies This book offers a powerful comprehensive examination of this ongoing phenomenon how it works and how Tibetans resist it
