Raeder Roman:

Roman Portraits in Context Jane Fejfer, 2009-03-13 The highest honour a Roman citizen could hope for was a portrait statue in the forum of his city While the emperor and high senatorial officials were routinely awarded statues strong competition existed among local benefactors to obtain this honour which proclaimed and perpetuated the memory of the patron and his family for generations There were many ways to earn a portrait statue but such local figures often had to wait until they had passed away before the public finally fulfilled their expectations It is argued in this book that our understanding and contemplation of a Roman portrait statue is greatly enriched when we consider its wider historical context its original setting the circumstances of its production and style and its base which in many cases bore a text that contributed to the rhetorical power of the image

Greek Athletics in the Roman World Zahra Newby, 2005-10-06 Exploring a key area of Greek culture as it developed under Rome and the Second Sophistic this work investigates questions of how identity is constructed through a cultural appropriation of the past

Sculptures from Roman Syria II Mustafa Koçak, Detlev Kreikenbom, 2022-12-05 For the first time this publication comprehensively documents and analyzes the Greek and Roman statuary discovered to date in the greater area of Syria The text portion describes nearly all monuments in detail and classifies them in the context of the history of ancient sculpture The associated volume of plates documents every item in detail typically with four photographic views

Roman Landscape: Culture and Identity Diana Spencer, 2010 This survey explores how and why Romans of the late Republic and early Principate were fascinated with landscaped nature Thematic discussions and case studies work through what landscape represented and how studying Roman identity in terms of place environment and the natural world helps us better to understand Rome itself exchanged over the expanding Roman trade routes In this respect Romans treated Egyptian art surprisingly similarly to Greek art By examining the concrete mechanisms through which Egyptian objects were acquired and displayed in Rome this book offers a new understanding of this impressive material at the crossroads of Hellenistic Roman and Egyptian culture
