Polymnia Athanassiadi, 2017-07-05 The 21 studies in this volume which deal with issues of social and intellectual history religion and historical methodology explore the ways whereby over the course of a few hundred years roughly between the second and the fifth centuries A D an anthropocentric culture mutated into a theocentric one Rather than underlining the differences between a revamped paganism and the emergent Christian traditions the essays in the volume focus on the processes of osmosis interaction and acculturation which shaped the change in priorities among the newly created textual communities that were spreading across the entire breadth of the late antique oecumene The main issues considered in this connection include the phenomena of textuality and holy scripture canonicity and exclusion truth and error prophecy and tradition authority and challenge faith and salvation holy places and holy men in the context of the construction of new orthodox readings of the Greek philosophical heritage Moreover the volume suggests that intolerant attitudes which form a characteristic trait of monotheisms were not an exclusive preserve of Christianity as the Enlightenment tradition would insist but were progressively espoused by pagan philosophers and divine men as part of the theory and practice of Hellenism s theological koine Efforts to establish the monopoly of a revealed truth against any rival claims were transversal to the textual communities which emerged in late antiquity and remodelled the intellectual and spiritual landscape of the Greater Mediterranean

History as a Profession Pim den Boer, 2014-07-14 This is a vivid portrait of the French historical profession in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries concluding just before the emergence of the famous Annales school of historians It places the profession in its social academic and political context and shows that historians of the period have been unfairly maligned as amateurish and primitive in comparison to their more celebrated successors Pim den Boer begins by sketching the contours of French historiography in the nineteenth century examining the quantity of historical writing its subject matter and who wrote it He traces the growing influence of professional historians He shows the increasing involvement of the national government in historical studies paying special attention to the impact of political factions ranging from ultraroyalists to radical republicans He explores how historical research and teaching changed at schools and universities And he shows how nineteenth century historians keen understanding of the past and of historical methodology laid the foundations for historiography in the twentieth century archives including official documents confidential reports and personal letters Den Boer makes use of statistical biographical and methodological analysis and demonstrates comprehensive knowledge of both minor historians and leading scholars including Charles Seignobos and Charles Victor Langlois Originally published in 1998 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Graphic History Richard Iadonisi, 2012-11-30 When it comes to recounting history issues arise as to whose stories are told and how reliable is the telling This collection of fourteen essays explores the unique ways in which graphic novels can aid us in addressing those issues while shedding new light on a variety of texts including those by canonical North American and European writers Art Spiegelman Maus In the Shadow of No Towers Alan Moore From Hell The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen Frank Miller The Dark Knight Returns Chris Ware Jimmy Corrigan Chester Brown Louis Riel and Harvey Pekar Recognizing the global appeal of graphic novels this collection also provides a fresh look at history seen through the eyes of canonical non Western writers Marjane Satrapi Persepolis and Yoshihiro Tatsumi A Drifting Life and the highly vexed relationship of the West and the Middle East The array of contributors from the fields of art literature history and cultural studies is matched by the array of theoretical perspectives and by the
