Conceptual Art and Painting

Charles Harrison, 2001 In Conceptual Art and Painting a companion to his Essays on Art and Language Charles Harrison reconsiders Conceptual Art in light of renewed interest in the original movement and of the various forms of neo Conceptual art Publisher's description

Robert Qualters Vicky A. Clark, 2014-02-15 Teeming with convulsive energy raw brush strokes and Fauvist colors the paintings of Robert Qualters reflect the multifaceted and kinetic spirit of the artist himself In these pages the art historian Vicky A Clark presents the first in depth study of the art and life of this iconic Pittsburgh artist Complemented by over eighty color images Clark follows Qualters's development from early childhood sketches through his recent autobiographical work As she reveals Qualters is truly a quotidian raconteur who infuses allegory narrative and memory into his paintings of urban landscapes neighborhoods lunch counters and amusement parks Here we witness coming of age and sexuality economic hardship working class identities death and rebirth and many other themes both personal and universal As Clark shows Qualters's oeuvre is the culmination of a lifelong artistic journey recalling a host of influences from Japanese prints to Matisse Bruegel and Rembrandt Throughout his career and despite the popularity of his contemporaries many of whom adopted abstract painting Qualters has maintained a distinctly representational style keeping a close link to his audience through the power of visual storytelling

Saint Paul and Philosophy

Gert Jan van der Heiden, George Henry van Kooten, Antonio Cimino, 2017-08-07 The much acclaimed present day philosophical turn to the letters of Saint Paul points to a profound consonance between ancient and modern thought Such is the bold claim of this study in which scholars from contemporary continental philosophy new testamentary studies and ancient philosophy discuss with each other the meaning Paul's terms pistis faith In this volume this theme discusses in detail the threefold relation between Paul and 1 continental thought 2 the Graeco Roman world and 3 political theology It is shown that pistis does not only concern a mode of knowing but rather concerns the human ethos or mode of existence as a whole Moreover it is shown that the present day political theological interest in Paul can be seen as an attempt to recuperate Paul's pistis in this comprehensive sense Finally an important discussion concerning the specific ontological implications and background of this reinterpretation of pistis is examined by comparing the ancient ontological commitments to those of the present day philosophers Thus the volume offers an insight in a crucial consonance of ancient and modern thought concerning the question of pistis in Paul while not

Andrew Spira, 2020-06-25 This book is an examination of personal identity exploring both who we think we are and how we construct the sense of ourselves through art It proposes that the notion of personal identity is a psycho-social construction that has evolved over many centuries While this idea has been widely discussed in recent years Andrew Spira approaches it from a completely new point of view Rather than relying on the thinking subject's attempts to identify itself consciously and verbally it focuses on the traces that the self-sense has unconsciously left in the fabric of its environment in the form of non-verbal cultural conventions Covering a millennium of western European cultural history it amounts to an anthropology of personal identity in the West Following a broadly chronological path Spira traces the self-sense from its emergence from the collectivity of the medieval Church to its consummation in the individualistic concept of artistic genius in the nineteenth century In doing so it aims to bridge a gap that exists between cultural history and philosophy Regarding cultural history especially art history it elicits significances from its material that have been thoroughly overlooked Regarding philosophy it highlights the crucial role that material culture plays in the formation of philosophical ideas It argues that the sense of personal self is as much revealed by cultural conventions and as a cultural convention as it is observable to the mind as an object of philosophical enquiry The Road to McCarthy Pete McCarthy, 2024-01-17 Pete McCarthy established one cardinal rule of travel in his bestselling debut McCarthy's Bar: Never pass a bar with your name on it In this equally wry and insightful follow-up his characteristic good humor curiosity and thirst for adventure take him on a fantastic jaunt around the world in search of his Irish roots from Morocco where he tracks down the unlikely chief of the McCarthy clan to New York and finally to remote McCarthy, Alaska The Road to McCarthy is a quixotic and anything but typical Irish odyssey that confirms Pete McCarthy's status as one of our funniest and most incisive writers Word & Image in Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures, 2009-01-01 Verbal imagery and visual images as well as the intricate relationships between verbal and visual representations have long shaped the imagination and the practice of intercultural relationships The

Andrew Wyeth Patricia A. Junker, Audrey M. Lewis, 2017-01-01 An insightful and essential new survey of Wyeth's entire career situating the milestones of his art within the trajectory of 20th century American life This major retrospective catalogue explores the impact of time and place on the work of beloved American painter Andrew Wyeth 1917-2009 While previous publications have mainly analyzed Wyeth's work thematically this publication places him fully in the context of the long 20th century tracing his creative development from World War I through the new millennium Published to coincide with the centenary of Wyeth's birth the book looks at four major chronological periods in the artist's career Wyeth as a product of the interwar years when he started to form his own war memories through military props and documentary photography he discovered in his father's art studio the change from his theatrical pictures of the 1940s to his own visceral responses to the landscape around Chadds Ford Pennsylvania and his family's home in Mai his sudden turn in 1968 into the realm of erotic art including a completely new assessment of Wyeth's Helga pictures a series of secret nude depictions of his neighbor Helga Testorf within his career as a who and his late self-reflective works which includes the discussion of his previously unknown painting entitled Goodbye now believed to be Wyeth's last work Art Therapy for Groups Marian Liebmann, 1986 Specific examples and real reminiscences Out Looking in Jan Cavanaugh, 2000 Cavanaugh's scholarship is distinguished by several qualities detailed knowledge a rare comparative awareness of adjacent disciplines and of course a substantial synthetic knowledge of modern artistic developments in Western Europe and the U S Out Looking In will be relevant to a large and varied public John E. Bowlt author of Forbidden Art: Soviet Nonconformist Art 1956-1988 This is an essential book for scholars of modernism who are eager in the wake of post-structuralist and post-modernist reevaluations of the construction of modernism's history to broaden discussions beyond a narrow French orientation. It will serve as an important stimulus for rethinking European art in general in this period. Linda Dalrymple Henderson, University of Texas at Austin. Clearly written and well organized, Out Looking In will be the indispensable reference work in English on early modern Polish art. Cavanaugh's treatment, based on solid research and critical insight, is illuminating. Wojtech Jirat Wasiutynski, Professor of Art, Queen's University. The visual richness and comprehensiveness of Out Looking In will make it a primary resource in the West for images of early modern Polish art as well as arguing for the centrality of Polish art to the discussion of European modernism. This is revisionism at its most insightful. Wendy Salmond, author of Arts and Crafts in Late Imperial Russia. This book goes a long way in correcting our geographically narrow understanding of European modernism. While arguing for Poland's place in the annals of artistic modernism, Cavanaugh elegantly manoeuvres between the sensitive issues determining national artistic identity and the international context of this debate. Myroslava M. Mudrak, Ohio State University. This is one of the most important critical analyses of turn of the century Polish art. Out Looking In will inspire a broad response from a wide international circle of historians of art, literature and artistic culture. Wiesław Juszczak, Art Institute of the Polish Academy of Sciences and Letters and Art History Department, University of Warsaw.

The Cell of a Soul Maria Logven, 2008-10. Maria Logven's short stories entwine daydream with desire, action with inner fantasy and prose with verse in an enchanting vision. In her story Trapped in Love, Logven's narrator is thrown into the turmoil of lost relationship when memories of what once was bubble through daily ritual and make believe. Created personalities are given to passengers on the train imbued with secret lives of the narrator's making. The text skips through perambulations of a mind rich in imagination, the likes of which compares to Alice's trip down the rabbit hole. Logven's tales offer a most seductive opportunity to escape the daily grind. Eve Rifkah, editor of Diner, a literary journal.

Thinking on Thresholds Subha Mukherji, 2011. Through a combination of case studies and theoretical investigations, the essays in this book address the imaginative power of the threshold as a productive space in literature and art.
