Making Music at the Piano Barbara English Maris, 2000. Beginners can make music at the piano and play musically even during the earliest phases of piano study and this book shows how. Written for early level adult piano students of any age, the book enables students to play gratifying music while continuing to develop their skills steadily, whether they are working in a private studio or in a piano class environment. Throughout the book features numerous Concepts to Consider focusing on conceptual learning and Activities to Explore which build on the Concepts and emphasize ways to strengthen the kinesthetic aspects of learning. The author discusses nearly every aspect encountered by the beginner from appropriate goals and good playing habits to the basics of how people learn and how the piano works. She provides a hands on explanation of the characteristics of music playing and suggests specific strategies for using practice time effectively and for developing rhythmic security and technical control of sound. For students who to play as well as practice, this book is the ideal guide.

Making Music in Music City John Markert, 2023-08-18. At least since the rise of the Nashville sound in the 1950s, Tennessee's capital city has attracted numerous books and articles offering insight into the celebrity machine known as Music City. But behind the artist in the limelight are a host of support personnel and contributors who shape the artist's music. Of these myriad occupations within the music industry, only two have received significant attention: executives at the major labels and elite songwriters who have forged a path to the top of the charts. In Making

Music in Music City sociologist John Markert compiles and assesses more than one hundred interviews with industry professionals whose roles have been less often examined producers publishers songwriters management studio musicians and more The book naturally pivots around the country music industry but also discusses Nashville's role in other forms of modern music such as rock Christian and rap Markert's in depth interviews with key music professionals provide a fresh perspective on the roles of critical players in Nashville's music industry This book sheds light not only on the complexities of the industry and the occupational changes taking place but on the critical role of those who work behind the scenes to shape the music that ultimately reaches the public Through firsthand accounts Making Music in Music City analyzes just what it takes to create produce and disseminate the Nashville sound Making Music at the Bottom of the World in Southland, Aotearoa/New Zealand Sally Bodkin-Allen, 2020-01-21 This volume brings together a number of perspectives on the musical landscape of Invercargill a city at the bottom of Aotearoa New Zealand Invercargill is in many ways unique it is relatively isolated its access to liquor is controlled by a licensing trust and it is home to the longest serving mayor in Aotearoa The musicking that occurs within Invercargill is surprisingly diverse and wide ranging This book acknowledges and explores many of the South's musical communities and in doing so illustrates the importance of music in local communities It highlights the ways in which social connectedness local identity and individual lives are enriched through musical activities being interwoven through communities Making Music and Enriching Lives Bonnie Blanchard, Cynthia Blanchard Acree, 2007-06-22 Addresses comprehensive across the board issues that affect the teachers students and musicians This book shows specifics not only about how to teach music but also about how to motivate and inspire students of any age
