Making Of Contemporary Europe:

The Making of Contemporary Europe R. Ben Jones, 1980-01-01 Contemporary Europe Richard Sakwa, Anne Stevens, 2012-03-28 This fully revised third edition provides a wide ranging introduction to political economic and social life across the whole continent Ideal for students new to the subject this popular text stimulates fresh thinking on issues and debates Contemporary Europe William Outhwaite, 2016-10-04 Europe is one of the most dynamic and interesting areas of the world pioneering in the European Union a new form of governance for half a billion people represented in the world's first directly elected transnational parliament This book situates the European Union in a broader European global historical and geographical context providing a readable presentation of the most important facts and drawing on the theoretical approaches which have transformed the study of contemporary Europe over the past two decades The European Union is still on the road to what has been called an unknown destination and this book presents its economic political legal and social trajectory from the middle of the last century to the present Contemporary Europe covers some of these issues in an interdisciplinary framework aiming to situate the development of the European Union in a broader context of pan European and global processes Europe has been cut down to size but it does not have to become a global backwater and the study of contemporary Europe's institutional reality does not have to be boring The book counter this misperception conveying the essential facts and theories of contemporary European reality in a clear and approachable analysis It will serve as a readable introduction both to the academic field of European studies and to contemporary Europe itself Dissonant Heritages and Memories in Contemporary Europe Tuuli Lähdesmäki, Luisa Passerini, Sigrid Kaasik-Krogerus, Iris van Huis, 2019-08-13 This open access book discusses political economic social and humanitarian challenges that influence both how people deal with their past and how they build their identities in contemporary Europe Ongoing debates on migration on local national inter and transnational levels prove that it is a divisive issue with regards to understanding European integration and identity At the same time the European Union increasingly invests in projects related to European heritage museums and cultural memory networks while having to take dissonant heritages into account These processes in their combination offer an interesting dynamic and form the complex puzzle that poses challenging questions for anyone involved in academic research heritage practices and policy debates With this puzzle at its core this book explicitly focuses on slippery and transforming notions of Europe and critically discusses ongoing and transforming power structures of heritage and memory in today's Europe The book combines theoretical and methodological contributions to the debates on European heritage and memory studies and in depth analyses of empirical case studies Its main aim is to bring research fields concerning memory and heritage into a closer dialogue and thus explore the cultural and political dynamics of contemporary Europe Contemporary European Foreign Policy Walter Carlsnaes, Helene Sjursen, Brian White, 2004-05-24 Bogen behandler europas udenrigspolitik i bred forstand og kommer ind på forsvarspolitik diplomati menneskerettigheder og sikkerhedspolitik Sexual Politics in Contemporary Europe Sharron FitzGerald, May-Len Skilbrei, 2022-02-01 The legal regulation of gender and sexuality has undergone dramatic changes throughout Europe in the last 40 years and this has shaped what it means to be a European citizen Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary research this book uses the discourses around current European sexual politics as an entry point to interrogate how and with what effect the EU and its Member States harness issues of gender and sexuality to support issues of higher political importance It takes recent and ongoing political debates and legislative changes around prostitution and sexual assault as a focus Using four national case studies Poland Germany Sweden and Italy it illuminates how the EU's desire for increased harmonisation across the Union around gender and sexuality norms and values operates differently and with specific effects across Member States The book's structure provides a detailed map of how and why contemporary European sexual politics is changing and how this contributes to establishing European norms and values in developments in law and policy around prostitution and sexual assault By examining how and why the EU and its Member States implement their policies in these two policy areas we can begin to illuminate how contemporary European sexual politics serve some groups interests while marginalizing Others

Citizens and borderwork in contemporary Europe Chris Rumford, 2013-10-31 The extent to which ordinary people can construct shift and dismantle borders is seriously neglected in the existing literature The book explores the ability of citizens to participate in the making of borders and the empowerment that can result from this bordering and debordering activity Borderwork is the name given to the ways in which ordinary people can make and unmake borders Borderwork is no longer only the business of nation states it is also the business of citizens and indeed non citizens This study of borderwork extends the recent interest in forms of bordering which do not necessarily occur at the state's external borders However the changing nature of borders cannot be reduced to a shift from the edges to the interior of a polity To date little research has been conducted on the role of ordinary people in envisioning constructing maintaining shifting and erasing borders creating borders which facilitate mobility for some while creating barriers to mobility for others appropriating the political resources which bordering offers contesting the legitimacy of or undermining the borders imposed by others This book makes an original contribution to the literature and stands to set the agenda for a new dimension of border studies This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity

The Figure of the Migrant in Contemporary European Cinema explores contemporary debates around the concepts of Europe and European identity through an examination of recent European films dealing with various aspects of globalization the refugee crisis labour migration the resurgence of nationalism and ethnic violence neoliberalism post colonialism with a particular attention to the figure of the migrant and the ways in which this figure challenges us to rethink Europe and its core Enlightenment values citizenship justice ethics liberty tolerance and hospitality in a post national context of ephemerality volatility and contingency that finds people desperately looking for firmer markers of identity The book argues that a compelling case can be made for re orienting the study of contemporary European cinema around the figure of the migrant viewed both as a symbolic figure representing post national citizenship urbanization the gap between ethics and justice and as a figure occupying an increasingly central place in European cinema in general rather than only in what is usually called migrant and diasporic cinema By drawing attention to the structural and affective affinities between the experience of migrants and non migrants Europeans and non Europeans Trifonova shows that it is becoming increasingly difficult to separate stories about migration from stories about life under neoliberalism in general Facets of Migration in Contemporary Europe Irina Angelescu,Sergiu Gherghina,Paul Flather,2010-04-01 The literature on migration realities in Europe is usually centered around the role played by the EU on member states migration policies In order to offer a comparative cross country approach previous research often allows too much to fall through the cracks Facets of Migration in Contemporary Europe Interdisciplinary Approaches to Specific Challenges directly addresses this issue Through its multidisciplinary approach it includes contributions ranging from policy oriented chapters dedicated to the role of low skilled and illegal migrants to the securitization of migration in Europe as well as the role of Diasporas and language policies for the integration of migrants The central theme of the volume is that experiences of migration in Western European countries can help the emerging countries of immigration in Central and Eastern Europe to improve their migration policies and living conditions produce a work that is both original and accessible The volume explores the rich but sadly neglected tradition of thought on non territorial cultural autonomy as exemplified by the work of Karl Renner and Otto Bauer and the European Nationalities Congress of the 1920s Through a combination of theoretical analysis and case study approaches the authors challenge conventional thinking on how best to reconcile competing claims over territory and cultural expression Drawing upon a range of examples from countries such as Russia Romania and Hungary and by comparing the situation of territorially based ethnic minorities with those principally the Roma who lack identification with a given state or states the authors of this volume seek to supply answers and question received truths

Nation and Identity in Contemporary Europe Brian Jenkins, Spyros A. Sofos, 2003-09-02 The resilience of nationalism in contemporary Europe may seem paradoxical at a time when the nation state is widely seen as being in decline The contributors of this book see the resurgence of nationalism as symptomatic of the quest for identity and meaning in the complex modern world Challenged from above by the supranational imperatives of globalism and from below by the complex pluralism of modern societies the nation state in the absence of alternatives to market consumerism remains a focus for social identity Nation and Identity in Contemporary Europe takes a fully interdisciplinary and comparative approach to the national question Individual chapters consider the specifics of national identity in France Germany Britain Italy Iberia Russia the former Yugoslavia and Poland while looking also at external forces such as economic globalisation European supranationalism and the end of the Cold War Setting current issues and conflicts in their broad historical context the book reaffirms that nations are not natural phenomena but constructed forms of social identity whose future will be determined in the social arena

Citizenship in Contemporary Europe Michael Lister, 2008-05-12 This book seeks to analyse the impact of globalisation European integration mass migration changing patterns of political participation and welfare state provision upon citizenship in Europe Uniting theory with empirical examples the central theme of the book is that how we view such changes is dependent upon how we view citizenship theoretically The authors analyse the three main theoretical approaches to citizenship 1 classical positions liberal communitarian and republican primarily concerned with questions of rights and responsibilities 2 multiculturalist and feminist theories concerned with the question of difference and 3 postnational or cosmopolitan theories which emphasise how citizen rights and behaviours are increasingly located beyond the nation state Using these theoretical perspectives the second section of the book assesses four key social economic and political developments which pose challenges for citizenship in Europe migration political participation the w
