Moving Image A Guide To Cinematic Literacy:

The Moving Image Robert Gessner, 1970 Ends of Cinema Richard Grusin, Jocelyn Szczepaniak-Gillece, 2020-12-29 At the dawn of the digital era in the final decades of the twentieth century film and media studies scholars grappled with the prospective end of what was deemed cinema analog celluloid production darkened public movie theaters festival culture The notion of the end of cinema had already been broached repeatedly over the course of the twentieth century from the introduction of sound and color to the advent of television and video and in Ends of Cinema contributors reinvigorate this debate to contemplate the ends as well as directions and new beginnings of cinema in the twenty first century In this volume scholars at the forefront of film and media studies interrogate multiple potential ends of cinema its goals and spaces its relationship to postcinema its racial dynamics and environmental implications and its theoretical and historical conclusions Moving beyond the predictable question of digital versus analog the scholars gathered here rely on critical theory and historical research to consider cinema alongside its media companions television the gallery space digital media and theatrical environments Ends of Cinema underscores the shared project of film and media studies to open up what seems closed off and to continually reinvent approaches that seem unresponsive Contributors Caetlin Benson Allott Georgetown U James Leo Cahill U of Toronto Francesco Casetti Yale U Mary Ann Doane U of California Berkeley Andr Gaudreault U de Montr al Michael Boyce Gillespie City College of New York Mark Paul Meyer EYE Filmmuseum Jennifer Lynn Peterson Woodbury U Los Angeles Amy Villarejo Cornell U Cinema's Original Sin Paul McEwan, 2022-12-13 For over a century cinephiles and film scholars have had to grapple with an ugly artifact that sits at the beginnings of film history D W Griffith's profoundly racist epic The Birth of a Nation inspired controversy and protest at its 1915 release and was defended as both a true history of Reconstruction although it was based on fiction and a new achievement in cinematic art Paul McEwan examines the long and shifting history of its reception revealing how the film became not just a cinematic landmark but also an influential force in American aesthetics and intellectual life In every decade since 1915 filmmakers museums academics programmers and film fans have had to figure out how to deal with this troublesome object and their choices have profoundly influenced both film culture and the notion that films can be works of art Some critics tried to set aside the film's racism and concentrate on the form while others tried to relegate that racism safely to the past McEwan argues that from the earliest film retrospectives in the 1920s to the rise of remix culture in the present day controversies about this film and its meaning have profoundly shaped our understandings of film race and art Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities How to Read a Film James Monaco, 2000 Explores the medium of film as both art and craft sensibility and science tradition and technology Joyce/Lowry Patrick A. McCarthy, Paul Tiessen, 2021-10-21 While James Joyce was a central figure of high modernism Malcom Lowry spoke for the next generation of modernist writers and despite his denials was almost certainly influenced by Joyce Wherever the truth lies there are correspondences and differences to be explored between Joyce and Lowry that are far more interesting than the question of direct influence Despite numerous differences their works have much in common verbal richness experimentation with narrative structure and perspective a fascination with cultural and historical forces as well as with the process of artistic creation and the inclusion of artist figures who are in varying degrees ironic self portrayals The contributors to Joyce Lowry examine the relationship of these two expatriates writers both to each other and to broader issues in the study of literary modernism and its aftermath This collection embraces a variety of approaches The volume begins with a consideration of Joyce and Lowry as practitioners of Expressionist art and concludes with an essay on John Huston s cinematic interpretation of works by both writers In between are explorations of nationalism anti Semitism syphilis mental illness and authorial design Guidebook to Film Ronald Gottesman, Harry M. Geduld, 1972 Films of Arab Loutfi and Heiny Srour Terri Ginsberg, 2021-11-15 This book places long overdue focus on the Palestine solidarity films of two important Arab women directors whose cinematic works have never received due attention within the scholarly literature or the cultural public sphere Through an analysis that situates these largely overlooked films within the matrix of an anti Zionist critique of cinematic ontology this book offers a materialist feminist appreciation of their political aesthetics while critiquing the ideological enabling conditions of their academic absenting The study of these daring films fosters a much needed sustained understanding of the meaning and significance of Palestine solidarity filmmaking for and within the Arab world To Create the American Film Institute as an Independent Agency United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor, 1974 Suggestions for Instructors to Accompany Film Scripts One and Film Scripts Two ,
