citizens of the EU who travel regularly to metropolitan France and beyond Offering a series of ethnographic slices of life across time Island in the Stream highlights community members ethical engagement in their own history as they looked to the future acknowledged the past and engaged and transformed local forms of sociality exchange and ritual performance This is a unique account of the changing horizons and historical consciousness of an African community and an intimate portrait of the inhabitants and their concerns as well as a glimpse into the changing perspective of the ethnographer

Online Optimization of Large Scale Systems Martin Grötschel, Sven O. Krumke, Joerg Rambau, 2013-03-14 In its thousands of years of history mathematics has made an extraordinary career It started from rules for bookkeeping and computation of areas to become the language of science Its potential for decision support was fully recognized in the twentieth century only vitally aided by the evolution of computing and communication technology Mathematical optimization in particular has developed into a powerful machinery to help planners Whether costs are to be reduced profits to be maximized or scarce resources to be used wisely optimization methods are available to guide decision making Optimization is particularly strong if precise models of real phenomena and data of high quality are at hand often yielding reliable automated control and decision procedures But what if the models are soft and not all data are around Can mathematics help as well This book addresses such issues e.g. problems of the following type An elevator cannot know all transportation requests in advance In which order should it serve the passengers Wing profiles of aircrafts influence the fuel consumption Is it possible to continuously adapt the shape of a wing during the flight under rapidly changing conditions Robots are designed to accomplish specific tasks as efficiently as possible But what if a robot navigates in an unknown environment Energy demand changes quickly and is not easily predictable over time Some types of power plants can only react slowly

Real Knowing Linda Martín Alcoff, 2018-10-18 Real knowing always involves a political dimension Linda Martín Alcoff suggests But this does not mean we need to give up realism or the possibility of truth Recent work in continental philosophy insists on the influence that power and desire exert on knowing whereas contemporary analytic philosophy largely ignores these political concerns in its accounts of justification and truth Alcoff engages these traditionally conflicting approaches in a constructive dialogue effectively spanning the analytic continental divide In provocative readings of major figures in the continental tradition Alcoff shows that the work of Hans Georg Gadamer and Michel Foucault can help rectify key problems in coherence epistemology such as the link between coherence and truth She also argues that discussions about knowledge among continental philosophers can benefit from the work of analytic philosophers Donald Davidson and Hilary Putnam on meaning and ontology Alcoff makes a compelling case for the need to address truth as a metaphysical issue in contrast to minimalist tendencies in Anglo American philosophy and deconstructionism on the continent Her work persuasively argues for coherentist epistemology as a more realistic reconfiguration of the ontology of truth
