Gorman,2014-06-27 In this groundbreaking book Michael Gorman asks why there is no theory or model of the atonement called the new covenant model since this understanding of the atonement is likely the earliest in the Christian tradition going back to Jesus himself Gorman argues that most models of the atonement over emphasize the penultimate purposes of Jesus death and the mechanics of the atonement rather than its ultimate purpose to create a transformed Spirit filled people of God The New Testament s various atonement metaphors are part of a remarkably coherent picture of Jesus death as that which brings about the new covenant and thus the new community promised by the prophets which is also the covenant of peace Gorman therefore proposes a new model of the atonement that is really not new at all the new covenant model He argues that this is not merely an ancient model in need of rediscovery but also a more comprehensive integrated participatory communal and missional model than any of the major models in the tradition Life in this new covenant Gorman argues is a life of communal and individual participation in Jesus faithful loving peacemaking death Written for both academics and church leaders this book will challenge all who read it to re think and re articulate the meaning of Christ s death for us
