Committee on Integrating the Science of Early Childhood Development of the Board on Children Youth and Families of the National Research Council National Academy of Sciences and the Institute of Medicine convened a workshop for researchers and practitioners to examine the underlying knowledge base that informs current best practices in early childhood services from the prenatal period to school entry Early Childhood Intervention discusses the diversity of working assumptions theories of change and views about child development and early intervention that currently shape a wide variety of social policies and service delivery systems for young children and their families

From Generation to Generation National Research Council and Institute of Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on the Health and Adjustment of Immigrant Children and Families, 1998-10-10 Immigrant children and youth are the fastest growing segment of the U S population and so their prospects bear heavily on the well being of the country However relevant public policy is shaped less by informed discussion than by politicized contention over welfare reform and immigration limits From Generation to Generation explores what we know about the development of white black Hispanic and Asian children and youth from numerous countries of origin Describing the status of immigrant children and youth as severely understudied the committee both draws on and supplements existing research to characterize the current status and outlook of immigrant children The book discusses the many factors family size fluency in English parent employment acculturation delivery of health and social services and public policies that shape the outlook for the lives of these children and youth The committee makes recommendations for improved research and data collection designed to advance knowledge about these children and as a result their visibility in current policy debates

Sleep Needs, Patterns, and Difficulties of Adolescents Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Forum on Adolescence, 2000-08-24 Sleep is not only a biological necessity but also a physiological drive In today s fast paced world though a good night s sleep is often the first thing to go The effects of inadequate sleep are more than mere annoyances they affect our mood and how we perform at school work and home and behind the wheel Lost sleep also accumulates over time the more sleep debt an individual incurs the greater the negative consequences according to researchers in the field Research on adolescents and sleep has been under way for more than two decades and there is growing evidence that adolescents are developmentally vulnerable to sleep difficulties To discuss current research in this area and its implications in the policy public health and educational arenas the Forum on Adolescence of the Board on Children Youth and Families held a workshop entitled Sleep Needs Patterns and Difficulties of Adolescents on September 22 1999

National Academies National Academies (U.S.), Children of Immigrants National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on the Health and Adjustment of Immigrant Children and Families, 1999-10-12 Immigrant children and youth are the fastest growing segment of the U S population and so their prospects bear heavily on the well being of the country Children of Immigrants represents some of the very best and most extensive research efforts to date on the circumstances health and development of children in immigrant families and the delivery of health and social services to these children and their families This book presents new detailed analyses of more than a dozen existing datasets that constitute a large share of the national system for monitoring the health and well being of the U S population Prior to these new analyses few of these datasets had been used to assess the circumstances of children in immigrant families The analyses enormously expand the available knowledge about the physical and mental health status and risk behaviors educational experiences and outcomes and socioeconomic and demographic circumstances of first and second generation immigrant children compared with children with U S born parents Risks and Opportunities National Research Council and Institute of Medicine, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Institute of Medicine, Forum on Adolescence, 1999-12-16 This report constitutes one of the first activities of the Forum on Adolescence a cross cutting activity of the Institute of Medicine and the National Research Council of the National Academies Established under the auspices of the Board on Children Youth and Families the forum s overarching mission is to synthesize analyze and evaluate scientific research on critical national issues that relate to youth and their families as well as to disseminate research and its policy and programmatic implications The goals of the forum are to 1 review and establish the science base on adolescent health and development and make efforts to foster this development 2 identify new directions and support for research in this area approaching research as a resource to be developed cumulatively over time 3 showcase new research programs and policies that have demonstrated promise in improving the health and well being of adolescents 4 convene and foster collaborations among individuals who represent diverse viewpoints and backgrounds with a view to enhancing the quality of leadership in this area and 5 disseminate research on adolescence and its policy implications to a wide array of audiences from the scientific community to the lay public Protecting Youth at Work National Research Council and Institute of Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on the Health and Safety Implications of Child Labor, 1998-11-18 In Massachusetts a 12 year old girl delivering newspapers is killed when a car strikes her bicycle In Los Angeles a 14 year old boy repeatedly falls asleep in class exhausted from his evening job Although children and adolescents may benefit from working there may also be negative social effects and sometimes danger in their jobs Protecting Youth at Work looks at what is known about work done by children and adolescents and the effects of that work on their physical and emotional health and social functioning The committee recommends specific initiatives for legislators regulators researchers and employers This book provides historical perspective on working children and adolescents in America and explores the framework of child labor laws that govern that work The committee presents a wide range of data and analysis on the scope of youth employment factors that put children and adolescents at risk in the workplace and the positive and negative effects of employment including data on educational attainment and lifestyle choices Protecting Youth at Work also includes discussions of special issues for minority and disadvantaged youth young workers in agriculture and children who work in family owned businesses
