Riggisberger Berichte 10:

Textiles in Motion Audrey Gouy, 2023-06-30 Dress is at the core of dance. It adorns dancers, defines various roles and forms symbolic expressions that for example either bind people together or opposes them. It is a communicative tool that gives crucial information for understanding the dance as well as the culture and the sociological effects of a group of people. As such, dress transcends how it is seen visually to address what is being communicated. Nonetheless, studies in ancient dance have rarely taken clothing into consideration. Therefore, this publication gathers articles that give new perspectives and insights on ancient dances and their ancient textiles. Comprehension of ancient dance benefits from investigations undertaken through the lens of dress. And research on ancient dress is understood through its relation to body movement and performative rituals, thus reinforcing the progressive integration of an anthropological and sociological dimension into historical analysis of ancient textiles. For the first time, the two-way transfer of knowledge between dance studies and costume studies is connected via an innovative approach. Among the issues that are specifically addressed are the movement design of dress for dance, its sensory experience, gender and identity, reenactment and reception. The chronological range of the publication is limited to the ancient world, 3rd millennium BC to 5th century AD, and the geographical definition is meant to be broad in order to promote a comparative approach and cross-cultural dialogue as well as discourse between fields and disciplines.

A Companion to Textile Culture Jennifer Harris, 2020-08-17 A lively and innovative collection of new and recent writings on the cultural contexts of textiles. The study of textile culture is a dynamic field of scholarship which spans disciplines and crosses traditional academic boundaries. A Companion to Textile Culture is an expertly curated compendium of new scholarship on both the historical and contemporary cultural dimensions of textiles, bringing together the work of an interdisciplinary team of recognized experts in the field. The Companion provides an expansive examination of textiles within the broader area of visual and material culture and addresses key issues central to the contemporary study of the subject. A wide range of methodological and theoretical approaches to the subject are explored: technological, anthropological, philosophical and psychoanalytical, amongst others, and developments that have influenced academic writing about textiles over the past decade are discussed in detail. Uniquely, the text embraces archaeological textiles from the first millennium AD as well as contemporary art and performance work that is still ongoing. This authoritative volume offers a balanced presentation of writings from academics, artists and curators. Presents writings from disciplines including histories of art and design, world history, anthropology, archaeology and literary studies. Covers an exceptionally broad chronological and geographical range. Provides diverse global, transnational and narrative perspectives. Included numerous images throughout the text to illustrate key concepts. A Companion to Textile Culture is an essential resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students, instructors and researchers of textile history, contemporary textiles, art and design, visual and material culture, textile crafts and museology.

textile deposits from the bog sites of Thorsberg in Germany and Nydam Vimose and Illerup dal in Denmark All four sites are well known for containing a substantial amount of archaeological materials particularly weapons but they also contain as integral parts of the weapon deposits a smaller number of preserved textiles which nevertheless constitute outstanding assemblages With the exception of Thorsberg publications dealing particularly with textiles from weapon deposits are almost non-existent The textiles from each site are analysed then compared to one another and described as a unit characterising the particular site Comparisons are then made between the four sites with emphasis on the overall context A final chapter by Lise Røder Knudsen analyses tablet woven textiles in the deposits a textile technique used to make bands edges and borders Although the state of preservation of the textiles at the different locations varies hugely the research has extracted a large amount of information allowing conclusions on status origin function and role in the deposits to be drawn The fabrics presented here were unquestionably consecrated textiles They had been worn by the defeated foreign warriors during the battle and were considered worthy as sacrificial offerings to the gods Some individual high status textiles were perceived to have a value comparable to certain metal items Others probably the majority were used for covering and wrapping other offerings for the subsequent sacrifice All were committed to the lakes in a sacred act of remembrance to celebrate victorious battles
