Rise From Want:

Rise from Want James Cushman Davis, 1986 Rise From Want explores the ways in which a family of poor peasants from the Karst plateau above Trieste Italy lived through the great changes brought about by industrialization and modernization The book is a careful and imaginative reconstruction of the lives of some humble and illiterate people who left behind them few traces of their existence Through a gripping narrative of the Zuzek family Davis explores the social changes that accompanied the peasants rise from want During the Middle Ages the first Zuzeks were serfs of the lords in the nearby castle of Duino Two centuries ago the Zuzeks were freed from serfdom but for another hundred years they continued to be poor and illiterate In recent decades they have left the land In each chapter Davis focuses on the ways in which the Zuzeks responded to broad social changes He looks for example at how the Zuzeks viewed the end of serfdom and how it affected their ability to make a living how changes in diet housing and medicine reduced the number of infant deaths how their move from farming to other kinds of work affected relations between husbands wives and children how they survived through World War II and how the prosperity of the industrialized world that began in the 1950s affected their lives And while Davis focuses on the Zuzeks reactions to these events he puts them into a context relevant to the historical experience of millions of people As source material Davis used not only written sources such as castle charters church registers tax collectors reports travel diaries and police records but also interviews with the surviving Zuzeks and many elderly villagers who remembered the Karst as it was on the eve of the great changes of the twentieth century Rise From Want will be of interest to students and scholars of history especially those concerned with serfdom industrialization and modernization population change Italy and the Austro Hungarian Empire It will also be of interest to those who have somewhere among their ancestors a poor peasant or two
