Institute Recommended Book If you care as I do about disrupting the perverse politics of criminal justice there is no better place to start than Prisoners of Politics James Forman Jr author of Locking Up Our Own The United States has the highest rate of incarceration in the world The social consequences of this fact recycling people who commit crimes through an overwhelmed system and creating a growing class of permanently criminalized citizens are devastating A leading criminal justice reformer who has successfully rewritten sentencing guidelines Rachel Barkow argues that we would be safer and have fewer people in prison if we relied more on expertise and evidence and worried less about being tough on crime A groundbreaking work that is transforming our national conversation on crime and punishment Prisoners of Politics shows how problematic it is to base criminal justice policy on the whims of the electorate and argues for an overdue shift that could upend our prison problem and make America a more equitable society A critically important exploration of the political dynamics that have made us one of the most punitive societies in human history A must read by one of our most thoughtful scholars of crime and punishment Bryan Stevenson author of Just Mercy Barkow's analysis suggests that it is not enough to slash police budgets if we want to ensure lasting reform We also need to find ways to insulate the process from political winds David Cole New York Review of Books A cogent and provocative argument about how to achieve true institutional reform and fix our broken system Emily Bazelon author of Charged The Medical/Health Humanities-Politics,

Aftermath Tim Haughton,2016-03-23 Focusing on three of the defining moments of the twentieth century the end of the two World Wars and the collapse of the Iron Curtain this volume presents a rich collection of authoritative essays covering a wide range of thematic regional temporal and methodological perspectives By re examining the traumatic legacies of the century s three major conflicts the volume illuminates a number of recurrent yet differentiated ideas concerning memorialisation mythologisation mobilisation commemoration and confrontation reconstruction and representation in the aftermath of conflict The post conflict relationship between the living and the dead the contestation of memories and legacies of war in cultural and political discourses and the significance of generations are key threads binding the collection together While not claiming to be the definitive study of so vast a subject the collection nevertheless presents a series of enlightening historical and cultural perspectives from leading scholars in the field and it pushes back the boundaries of the burgeoning field of the study of legacies and memories of war Bringing together historians literary scholars political scientists and cultural studies experts to discuss the legacies and memories of war in Europe 1918 1945 1989 the collection makes an important contribution to the ongoing interdisciplinary conversation regarding the interwoven legacies of twentieth century Europe s three major conflicts

Emotions and Crime Michael Hviid Jacobsen,Sandra Walklate,2019-06-11 In spite of the fact that crime is an emotive topic the question of emotion has been largely overlooked in criminological research which has tended instead to examine criminal conduct in terms of structural background variables or rational decision making Building on research into emotions within sociology this book seeks to show how criminologists can in fact take emotions seriously and why criminology needs to begin considering emotions as a central element of its theoretical conceptual and methodological apparatus Thematically organised and presenting both empirical and theoretical studies Emotions and Crime pays attention to the different emotional dimensions of crime victimhood the criminal justice system the practice of criminological research and the discipline of criminology Bringing together the work of an international team of authors and discussing research into violence punishment gender imprisonment and mass atrocity this volume shows how crime and emotions are inextricably connected and illustrates both the hidden and pervasive role of emotions in criminological work

The Politics of Prison Crowding Simone Santorso, 2023-02-14

The Politics of Prison Crowding investigates recent transformations in Italy's penal system to make the key analytical observation that conditions of overcrowding have become the new normal under which the modern prison system continues to operate and deliver punishment Engaging with the politics of crowding thus entails a direct and pertinent engagement with the modern state's politics of criminal justice and social control Worldwide over the last decades a growing number of jurisdictions have prison systems operating above or to the limit of their capacity yet little attention has been paid to these elements in the analysis of prison politics and day to day functions By exploring the crowding issue this book offers an original and interesting insight into the politics and dynamics characterising contemporary prison systems The hypothesis of this book is that the politics of prison crowding have become the template for the daily administration of the prison system which incorporates not just policy and rules but day to day functions and practices regulating life behind bars Through interviews in modern Italian prisons the book brings to light a radical redefinition of a carceral system that harshens the delivery of punishment while justifying this exacerbation of pain by adding new bureaucratic logic to the administration of the penal system within a narrative of compliance to human rights standards By shedding new light on prison politics to open new critical perspectives and research paths The Politics of Prison Crowding offers a fundamental tool to scholars students and all professional policymakers and practitioners dealing with prison policies and the politics of justice

Let Them Eat Junk Robert Albritton, 2009-03-20 This book analyses the food industry from a Marxist perspective Let Them Eat Junk argues that the capitalist system far from delivering on the promise of cheap nutritious food for all has created a world where 25% of the world population are over fed and 25% are hungry This malnourishment of 50% of the world s population is explained systematically a refreshing change from accounts that focus on cultural factors and individual greed Robert Albritton details the economic relations and connections that have put us in a situation of simultaneous oversupply and undersupply of food This explosive book provides yet more evidence that the human cost of capitalism is much bigger than those in power will admit

The Politics of Kinship Mark Rifkin,2024-01-29 What if we understood the idea of family as central to representing alternative forms of governance as expressions of racial deviance In The Politics of Kinship Mark Rifkin shows how ideologies of family including notions of kinship recast Indigenous and other forms of collective self organization and self determination as disruptive racial tendencies in need of state containment and intervention Centering work in Indigenous studies Rifkin illustrates how conceptions of family and race work together as part of ongoing efforts to regulate assault and efface other political orders The book examines the history of anthropology and its resonances in contemporary queer scholarship contemporary Indian policy from the 1970s onward the legal history of family formation and privacy in the United States and the association of blackness with criminality across US history In this way Rifkin seeks to open new possibilities for envisioning what kinds of relations networks and formations can and should be seen as governance on lands claimed by the United States

Globalization and the Post-Creole Imagination Patricia Marie Northover,Michaeline Crichlow,2009-07-07 An interdisciplinary argument that the concept of cultural creolization must be expanded to encompass cultural productions by vulnerable populations living in situations of modern power inequalities anywhere in the world

Questioning Punishment Henrique Carvalho,Anastasia Chamberlen,2023-10-06 This book questions punishment as concept social phenomenon and contemporary practice It unpacks punishment s nature and the assumptions that underpin it examines its targets objectives and implications locates punishment and punitivity within their social contexts and aims to unsettle the idea that there is something common sensical necessary and unavoidable about punitive justice Questioning Punishment develops its argument through an innovative structure organised around five central questions what punishment is who punishment s targets and subjects are how punishment is perpetuated and experienced when and where punishment unfolds and why we punish It ends by considering the implications of this enquiry to understandings of punishment and broader pursuits of justice This book is essential reading for all those engaged with the sociology of punishment and prisons criminal justice and theoretical criminology
