communities religious leaders and troops as a critical element in the experience of war

Persuasion and Conversion

Torrance Kirby,2013-08-22 The early modern public sphere emerges out of a popular culture of persuasion fostered by the Protestant Reformation By 1600 religious identity could no longer be assumed as given within the hierarchical institutions and elaborate apparatus of late medieval sacramental culture Reformers insisted on a sharp demarcation between the inner subjective space of the individual and the external public space of institutional life Gradual displacement of sacramental culture was achieved by means of argument textual interpretation exhortation reasoned opinion and moral advice exercised through both pulpit and press This alternative culture of persuasion presupposes a radically distinct notion of mediation The common focus of the essays collected here is the dynamic interaction of religion and politics which provided a crucible for the emerging modern public sphere
