The Collected Poems and Journals of Mary Tighe Mary Tighe, 2014-10-17 Mary Blachford Tighe was born in Dublin in 1772 and became a poet by the age of seventeen Her enormously popular 1805 epic poem Psyche or The Legend of Love made her a fixture of English literary history for much of the nineteenth century For much of the twentieth century however Tighe was better known for her influence on Keats's poetry than the considerable merits of her own work The Collected Poems and Journals of Mary Tighe restores Tighe to the general canon of English literature of the period With over eighty five poems including the complete Psyche and extracts from several journals both by and about Tighe Harriet Kramer Linkin's annotated edition is the most complete collection of Mary Tighe's work to be published in one volume

The Longman Anthology of British Literature: The Romantics and their contemporaries David Damrosch, 2003 The Longman Anthology of British Literature is the most comprehensive and thoughtfully arranged book on the market Approaching literature from a broad cultural perspective the anthology offers a rich selection of fiction drama and poetry by major British authors The second edition of The Longman Anthology of British Literature includes key additions of important works and an expanded illustration program Fresh and up to date introductions and notes are written by an editorial team whose members are all actively engaged in teaching and in current scholarship and one hundred illustrations show both artistic and cultural developments from the Romantic Period to the present Perspectives sections shed light on individual periods but are also positioned to link with surrounding works Companion readings provide additional context for and special insight into key readings For avid readers of British Literature

Swedish Women's Writing 1850-1995 Helena Forsas-Scott, 2000-12-01 Provides a survey of women's writing in Sweden from the beginnings of the struggle for emancipation in the 1850s to the present day These writers are seen within the political cultural and economic context of women's lives Modern critical currents are also assessed and Swedish feminist criticism is considered alongside the French and American traditions

Private Fire Matthew James Babcock, 2011-04-18 Matthew J Babcock's Private Fire Robert Francis's Ecopoetry and Prose is an examination of the life and work of one of America's most intriguing but tragically obscure writers Babcock uses his own personal relationship Robert Francis's work which emphasizes conservation and connectedness to our natural surroundings to illuminate both overtones and nuances that are undoubtedly useful to those interested in poetry and ecology Babcock begins with a brief biographical section intended to set the tone for readers previously unfamiliar with Robert Francis and then continues into an analysis of the influence of Emily Dickinson and Robert Frost on Francis's work. Starting in Chapter Three, Private Fire shifts into the realm of literary analysis and discusses various angles of Francis's work from representations of gender and sexual identity, prose contributions both fiction and non-fiction, religion and politics, to themes of conservation, place-making, experimental poetic styles, and asceticism, finishing with a discussion of Francis's only long narrative poem, Valhalla. This poem joins other prophetic works in musing upon environmental apocalypticism. Matthew J. Babcock finishes this detailed and thoughtful volume with concluding meditations that situate Robert Francis with his contemporaries, helping readers to locate him historically and contextually amongst other 20th-century writers. By using biography and literary theory as the lens through which one interprets Francis's work, Private Fire, Robert Francis's Ecopoetry and Prose successfully navigates the literary and cultural environment surrounding a poet who himself was so connected with the world around him.
