Modeling Farm Decisions For Policy Analysis:

Modeling Farm Decisions For Policy Analysis Kenneth H Baum, 2019-03-08 Microeconomic modeling has been an important tool for agricultural economists for several decades and promises to be important for addressing the research problems of the 1980s as well. This volume explores the possibilities for using micromodeling to analyze how individual farm businesses react to and are affected by farm policies. Although this purpose represents only one potential use of micro modeling, effective modeling for policy analysis necessitates a broad look from several historical, analytical, and institutional perspectives. The Micromodeling Conference held November 18-20, 1981 at Airlie House, Virginia, under the auspices of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service and the Farm Foundation reflected these concerns. Applications of Systems Approaches at the Farm and Regional Levels P.S. Teng, M.J. Kropff, H.F.M. ten Berge, J.B. Dent, F.P. Lansigan, H.H. Van Laar, 2012-12-06 Systems approaches for agricultural development are needed to determine rational strategies for the role of agriculture in national development. Mathematical models and computer simulation provide objective tools for applying science to determine and evaluate options for resource management at field, farm, and regional scales. However, these tools would not be fully utilizable without incorporating social and economic dimensions into their application. The second international symposium, Systems Approaches for Agricultural Development, held in Los Angeles 6-8 December 1995, fostered this link between the biophysical sciences and the social sciences in the choice of keynote papers and oral presentations, a selection of which is included in this book. The book's contents further reflect how systems approaches have definitely moved beyond the research mode into the application mode. The large number and high quality of interdisciplinary research projects reported from different parts of the globe to determine land use options that will meet multiple goals and yet sustain natural resource bases is a key indicator of this coming of age. At the farm level, where trade-off decisions between processes and products/commodities feature strongly, much progress is also evident in the development of systems-based tools for decision making. This book will be of particular interest to all agricultural scientists and planners as well as students interested in multidisciplinary and holistic approaches for agricultural development. Mathematical Modeling in Agriculture Sabyasachi Pramanik, Niranjanamurthy M., Ankur Gupta, Ahmed J.

Obaid, 2024-10-16 The main goal of the book is to explore the idea behind data modeling in smart agriculture using information and communication technologies and tools to make agricultural practices more functional fruitful and profitable The research in the book looks at the likelihood and level of use of implemented technological components with regard to the adoption of different precision agricultural technologies To identify the variables affecting farmers choices to embrace more precise technology zero inflated Poisson and negative binomial count data regression models were utilized Outcomes from the count data analysis of a random sample of various farm operators show that various aspects including farm dimension farmer demographics soil texture urban impacts farmer position of liabilities and position of the farm in a state were significantly associated with the approval severity and likelihood of precision farming technologies Farm management information systems FMIS have constantly advanced in complexity as they have incorporated new technology the most recent of which is the internet However few FMIS have fully tapped into the internet s possibilities and the newly developing idea of precision agriculture receives little or no support in the FMIS that are now being sold FMIS for precision agriculture must meet a few more criteria beyond those of regular FMIS which increases the technological complexity of these systems deployment in a number of ways In order to construct an FMIS that meet these extra needs the authors here evaluated various cutting edge web based methods The goal was to determine the requirements that precision agriculture placed on FMIS Agricultural Risk Modeling Using Mathematical Programming Richard N.
