Modern in the Making Austin Porter, Sandra Zalman, 2020-10-29 Today the Museum of Modern Art is widely recognized for establishing the canon of modern art yet in its early years the museum considered modern art part of a still unfolding experiment in contemporary visual production By bracketing MoMA's early history from its later reputation this book explores the ways the Museum acted as a laboratory to set an ambitious agenda for the exhibition of a multidisciplinary idea of modern art Between its founding in 1929 and its 20th anniversary in 1949 MoMA created the first museum departments of architecture and design film and photography in the country marshaled modern art as a political tool and brought consumer culture into a versatile yet institutional context Encompassing 14 essays that investigate the diversity of modern art this volume demonstrates how MoMA's programming shaped a version of modern art that was not elitist but fundamentally intertwined with all levels of cultural production

Modern Art David Cottington, 2005-02-24 As public interest in modern art continues to grow as witnessed by the spectacular success of Tate Modern and the Bilbao Guggenheim there is a real need for a book that will engage general readers offering them not only information and ideas about modern art but also explaining its contemporary relevance and history This book achieves all this and focuses on interrogating the idea of modern art by asking such questions as What has made a work of art qualify as modern or fail to How has this selection been made What is the relationship between modern and contemporary art Is postmodernist art no longer modern or just no longer modernist in either case why and what does this claim mean both for art and the idea of the modern Cottington examines many key aspects of this subject including the issue of controversy in modern art from Manet's Dejeuner sur l'Herbe 1863 to Picasso's Les Femmes d'Alger and Tracey Emin's Bed 1999 and the role of the dealer from the main Cubist art dealer Kahnweiler to Charles Saatchi ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Making the Modern Terry Smith, 1993 Smith reveals how this visual revolution played an instrumental role in the complex psychological social economic and technological changes that came to be known as the second industrial revolution From the role of visualization in the invention of the assembly line to office and building design to the corporate and lifestyle images that filled new magazines such as Life and Fortune he traces the extent to which the second wave of industrialization engaged the visual arts to project a new iconology of progress

The Making of a Modern Art World Pui Chan, 2017-03-06 The Making of A Modern Art World explores the artistic institutions and discursive practices prevailing in Republican Shanghai aiming to reconstruct the operational logic and the stratified hierarchy of Shanghai's art world Using guohua as the point of entry this book interrogates the discourse both of guohua itself and the wider discourse of Chinese modernism in the visual arts In the light of the sociological definition of art world this book contextualizes guohua through focusing on the modes of production and consumption of painting in Shanghai examining newly adopted modern artistic practices namely art associations periodicals art colleges exhibitions and the art market Making It Modern: Essays on the Art of the Now Linda Nochlin, 2022-03-08 A selection of key essays on art from the nineteenth century to the present day by one of the most influential voices in art history This illustrated collection of essays brings together some of art historian Linda Nochlin's most important writings on modernism and modernity from across her six decade career Before the publication of her seminal essay on feminism in art Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists she had already firmly established herself as a major practitioner of a politically sophisticated and class conscious social art history Nochlin was part of an important cohort of scholars writing on modernity determined to rethink the narratives of the subject under the pressure of contemporary events such as student uprisings the women's liberation movement and the Vietnam War with the help of politically engaged literary criticism that was emerging at the same time Nochlin embraced Charles Baudelaire's conviction that modernity is meant to be of one's time and that the role of an art historian was to understand the art of the past not only in its own historical context but according to the urgencies of the contemporary world From academic debates about the nude in the eighteenth century to the work of Robert Gober in the twenty first whatever she turned her analytic eye to was conceived as the art of the now Including seven previously unpublished pieces this collection highlights the breadth and diversity of Nochlin's output across the decades including discussions on colonialism fashion and sex

Modern Art in the Making George Pratt Shultz, 1959

Making and Effacing Art Philip Fisher, 1991 In his 1923 essay The Problem of Museums Paul Valery called the museum a strange organized disorder and likened it to a room where ten orchestras played simultaneously Malraux similarly argued that the museum was a place for pitting works of art against each other But regardless of their problems museums have become powerful influences in modern culture deciding which artists and which of their works are to be preserved as part of our history Indeed such is their power that some critics have remarked that it has become the museum and not the artist who creates art In Making and Effacing Art Philip Fisher charts the pivotal role the museum has played in modern culture revealing why the museum has become central to industrial society and how in turn artists have adapted to the museum's growing power shaping their works with the museum in mind For instance Fisher contends that just as a medieval sculptor would link a statue stylistically to the cathedral it would adorn the modern artist creates his work to mirror its ultimate destination the museum Using Jasper Johns Divers 1962 as an example he shows how this painting is almost like distinct works placed side by side that is Divers is itself a wall of paintings that mirror the wall of paintings in a museum gallery He also points out that artists such as Frank Stella create sequences within their own work to echo one of the museum's main functions the sequential ordering of styles In addition Fisher includes an extensive discussion of the function of the museum in industrialized society as the organization mediating between the realm of technology and that of art making and consumption and he describes a major shift in both the theory and practice of the visual arts which he argues have been brought about ultimately by the processes of modern technological production Along the way he offers insightful commentary on the work of major artists including Jasper Johns Frank Stella Degas Picasso Klee Jackson Pollock Robert Rauschenberg and many others Vividly illustrated with numerous halftones and 14 color plates Making and Effacing Art is an important contribution to our understanding of modern art and culture
