The Virgin Mary and Catholic Identities in Chinese History Jeremy Clarke, 2013-08-01 The Chinese Catholic Church traces its living roots back to the late sixteenth century and its historical roots back even further to the Yuan dynasty This book explores paintings and sculptures of the Virgin Mary and the communities that produced them over several centuries It argues for the emergence of distinctly Chinese Catholic identities as artistic representations of the Virgin Mary at different times and in different places absorbed and in turn influenced representations of Chinese figures from Guanyin to the Empress Dowager At other times indigenous styles have been diluted by Western influences following the influx of European missionaries in the nineteenth century for example or with globalization in recent years The book engages with history theology and art and draws on imagery and archival photographs that have been largely neglected As a study of the social and cultural histories of communities that have survived over many centuries this book offers a new view of Catholicism in China one that sees its history as more than simply a cycle of persecution and resistance Fr Jeremy Clarke SJ is an Australian Province Jesuit teaching as an assistant professor in the History Department of Boston College He is also a school visitor in the Australian Center for China in the World at the Australian National University Canberra
