Modern Arabic Literary Language:

The Modern Arabic Literary Language Jaroslav Stetkevych, 1970 The Modern Arabic Literary Language Jaroslav Stetkevych, 2006 The Modern Arabic Literary Language is a thoughtful examination of the changes that the Arabic language has undergone in its transition from its roots in classical Arabic to a language able to meet the demands of twentieth century life In this volume a respected and masterful scholar of the Arabic language Jaroslav Stetkevych notes the ways that new words have been incorporated into the language ranging from deriving new terms from existing roots for example the word for newspaper derives from the word meaning sheet to write on to downright assimilation of foreign words Also noting the changes in grammar and semantics Stetkevych illustrates how literary Arabic has become a more flexible language Originally published in 1970 this volume is a clear assessment of lexical and stylistic developments in Modern Literary Arabic This classic book is an important resource for scholars and advanced students of Arabic language and linguistics who wish to study the complexities of language change and lexical expansion An Introduction to Modern Literary Arabic David Cowan, 1958 The lessons are clear in non technical language and have generous examples with plenty of exercises for translation from Arabic to English and from English to Arabic This is the manual that students interested in Arabic as a living and expanding world language will prefer It is the first to deal mainly with modern literary Arabic In Mr Cowan s words The purpose is to explain to the students in as concise a manner as possible the grammatical structure of the modern Arabic literary language as it is found today in newspapers magazines books the radio and public speaking I have endeavoured to restrict the material to the minimum which may serve as a stepping stone to a deeper study of Arabic As the fundamental grammar of written Arabic has hardly changed as an introduction to the classical language also Having once mastered its contents the student should have a sound grasp of Arabic grammar and can then direct his studies towards modern literature or classical according to his needs and inclinations Genre and Language in Modern Arabic Literature Sasson Somekh, 1991 An introduction to modern literary Arabic David Cowan, 2003-01 The lessons are clear in non technical language and have generous examples with plenty of exercises for translation from Arabic to English and from English to Arabic This is the manual that students interested in Arabic as a living and expanding world language will prefer It is the first to deal mainly with modern literary Arabic In Mr Cowan s words The purpose is to explain to the students in as concise a manner as possible the grammatical structure of the modern Arabic literary language as it is found today in newspapers magazines books the radio and public speaking I have endeavoured to restrict the material to the minimum which may serve as a stepping stone to a deeper study of Arabic As the fundamental grammar of written Arabic has hardly changed as an introduction to the classical language also Having once mastered its contents the student should have a sound grasp of Arabic grammar and can then direct his studies towards modern literature or classical according to his needs and inclinations Modern Arabic Literature Reuven Snir, 2001 Modern Arabic Literature Reuven Snir, 2017-06-02 The study of Arabic literature is blossoming This book provides a comprehensive theoretical framework to help research this highly prolific and diverse production of contemporary literary texts Based on the achievements of historical poetics in particular those of Russian formalism and its theoretical legacy this framework offers flexible transparent and unbiased tools to understand the relevant contexts within the literary system The aim is to enhance our understanding of Arabic literature throw light on areas of literary production that traditionally have been neglected and stimulate others to take up the fascinating challenge of mapping out and exploring them Modern Arabic Literature Roger Allen,1987 Genre and Language in Modern Arabic Literature Sasson Somekh,1991 Teaching Modern Arabic Literature in Translation Michelle Hartman,2018-02-01 Understanding the complexities of Arab politics history and culture has never been more important for North American readers Yet even as Arabic literature is increasingly being translated into English the modern Arabic literary tradition is still often treated as other controversial dangerous difficult esoteric or exotic This volume examines modern Arabic literature in context and introduces creative teaching methods that reveal the literature s richness relevance and power to anglophone students Addressing the complications of translation head on the volume interweaves such important issues such as gender the Palestinian Israeli conflict and the status of Arabic literature in world literature Essays cover writers from the recent past like Emile Habiby and Tayeb Salih contemporary Palestinian Egyptian and Syrian literatures and the literature of the nineteenth century Nahda
