Library of Congress Subject Headings, 2009 Essays on Art and Language Charles Harrison, 2003-09-12 Critical and theoretical essays by a long time participant in the Art Language movement These essays by art historian and critic Charles Harrison are based on the premise that making art and talking about art are related enterprises They are written from the point of view of Art Language the artistic movement based in England and briefly in the United States with which Harrison has been associated for thirty years Harrison uses the work of Art Language as a central case study to discuss developments in art from the 1950s through the 1980s According to Harrison the strongest motivation for writing about art is that it brings us closer to that which is other than ourselves In seeing how a work is done we learn about its achieved identity we see for example that a drip on a Pollock is integral to its technical character whereas a drip on a Mondrian would not be Throughout the book Harrison uses specific examples to address a range of questions about the history theory and making of modern art questions about the conditions of its making and the nature of its public about the problems and priorities of criticism and about the relations between interpretation and judgment

Pablo Picasso Dr Enrique Mallen, 2023-03-18 Exactly when Matisse and Picasso first met is open to debate Their earliest encounter may have taken place during the Matisse retrospective at Galerie Druet right before the 1906 Salon des Indépendants The latter marked the first time all the Fauves exhibited together The centerpiece was Matisse's monumental Le bonheur de vivre Leo Stein bought the painting while the Salon was still running regarding it as the most important work of our time This opinion undoubtedly annoyed Picasso Jealousy of the other man's success goaded him to greater innovations In his view the new art would have to match the sense of endless discovery that science and technology were offering The 1900 Exposition Universelle had already shown the latest marvels in engineering If painting wanted to keep the public s attention instead of merely reproducing what the eye saw it had to generate its own reality on the surface of the canvas a reality more vivid than and bearing only the most cursory resemblance to anything found in nature Matisse was also a catalyst in that he was the one who introduced Picasso to African sculptures Max Jacob recalls Matisse took a black wooden statuette from a table and showed it to Picasso It was the first piece of Negro wooden art Picasso held onto it all evening The next morning when I arrived at the studio the floor was strewn with sheets of paper and on each sheet was drawn the head of a woman all of them were more or less the same one eye an oversized nose attached to the mouth and a lock of hair on the shoulders Cubism was thus born cited in Janine Warnod Washboat Days New York Grossman Publishers Warnod 1972 p 128      Modern Art Meyer Schapiro,1978
