Catalog of the Communications Library University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign campus). Library, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Communications Library, 1975 The Spectator ,1920 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art Books of 1926(-1928). Cumulated from the Book Bulletin of the Chicago Public Library CHICAGO. Chicago Public Library, 1928 The American Educational Catalogue ,1922 The End of Literature, Hegel, and the Contemporary Novel Francesco Campana, 2019-11-28 This book explores the concept of the end of literature through the lens of Hegel's philosophy of art In his version of Hegel's end of art thesis Arthur Danto claimed that contemporary art has abandoned its distinctive sensitive and emotive features to become increasingly reflective Contemporary art has become a question of philosophical reflection on itself and on the world thus producing an epochal change in art history The core idea of this book is that this thesis applies quite well to all forms of art except one namely literature literature resists its end Unlike other arts which have experienced significant fractures in the contemporary world Campana proposes that literature has always known how to renew itself in order to retain its distinguishing features so much so that in a way it has always come to terms with its own end Analysing the distinct character of literature this book proposes a new and original interpretation of the end of art thesis showing how it can be used as a key conceptual framework to understand the contemporary novel The Publishers Weekly ,1922 Resources in Education ,1995-05 Twentieth-Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context Linda De Roche, 2021-06-04 This four volume reference work surveys American literature from the early 20th century to the present day featuring a diverse range of American works and authors and an expansive selection of primary source materials Bringing useful and engaging material into the classroom this four volume set covers more than a century of American literary history from 1900 to the present Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context profiles authors and their works and provides overviews of literary movements and genres through which readers will understand the historical cultural and political contexts that have shaped American writing Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context provides wide coverage of authors works genres and movements that are emblematic of the diversity of modern America Not only are major literary movements represented such as the Beats but this work also highlights the emergence and development of modern Native American literature African American literature and other representative groups that showcase the diversity of American letters A rich selection of primary documents and background material provides indispensable information for student research How to Write About Contemporary Art Gilda Williams, 2014-10-14 An essential handbook for students and professionals on writing eloquently accurately and originally about contemporary art How to Write About Contemporary Art is the definitive guide to writing engagingly about the art of our time Invaluable for students arts professionals and other aspiring writers the book first navigates readers through the key elements of style and content from the aims and structure of a piece to its tone and language Brimming with practical tips that range across the complete spectrum of art writing the second part of the book is organized around its specific forms including academic essays press releases and news articles texts for auction and exhibition catalogues gallery guides and wall labels op ed journalism and exhibition reviews and writing for websites and blogs In counseling the reader against common pitfalls such as jargon and poor structure Gilda Williams points instead to the power of close looking and research showing how to deploy language effectively how to develop new ideas and how to construct compelling texts More than 30 illustrations throughout support closely analysed case studies of the best writing in Source Texts by 64 authors including Claire Bishop Thomas Crow T J Demos Okwui Enwezor Dave Hickey John Kelsey Chris Kraus Rosalind Krauss Stuart Morgan Hito Steyerl and Adam Szymczyk Supplemented by a general bibliography advice on the use and misuse of grammar and tips on how to construct your own contemporary art library How to Write About Contemporary Art is the essential handbook for all those interested in communicating about the art of today Catalogue Columbia University,1927 Catalogue of the Officers and Students of Columbia College, for the Year ... Columbia College (New York, N.Y.),1926 Mixed Media Simone Murray,2004-02-20 The feminist press movement transformed the publishing industry literary culture and educational curricula during the last quarter of the 20th century This book is both a survey of the movement internationally and a detailed critique of its long term impact Feminist presses are described as mixed media always attempting to balance politics with profit making Using a series of detailed case studies Simone Murray highlights the specific debates through which this dilemma plays out the nature of independence the politics of race feminist publishing and the academy radical writing and publishing practice and feminism s interface with mainstream publishing Scholastic Editor ,1923 Bulletin Stanford University,1923 Sameness and Repetition in Contemporary Media Culture Susana Tosca,2023-08-02 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access and freely available to read online Our culture has an uneasy relationship with repetition and sameness On the one hand we find familiarity pleasurable and soothing on the other we crave novelty and long for a sense of discovery We blame algorithms intent on selling us more of the same and on a media industry too greedy to risk investing in intellectually challenging radically new products Sameness and Repetition in Contemporary Media Culture takes a comprehensive approach that both theorises and historically grounds the idea of repetition in relation to media as something that is deeply embedded in our cultural tradition This project received funding from the Carlsberg Foundation 21st Century Communication: A Reference Handbook William F. Eadie,2009-05-15 The discipline of communication has grown in popularity from the time professors of journalism and speech decided in the mid 1960s that the term communication was an excellent general descriptor for the theory and research that each group aspired to create Over time the two groups grew closer and recognized significant overlap in their theoretical and research interests but there were also differences in their traditions that kept them apart While both groups agreed that communication is a practical discipline journalism professors focused a great deal of their attention on the education of media professionals Speech professors on the other hand often were more oriented to the liberal arts and valued the fact that communication could be approached from a variety of traditions including the arts humanities social sciences and even the sciences A key term in 21st Century communication however is convergence Not only are media and technology converging with each other to produce new means of communicating but individuals are increasingly using both new and existing communication tools to create new forms of communication This convergence forces the various camps within the communication discipline to draw upon each other's theories and research methods to keep up with explaining the rapidly changing communication environment This convergence of ideas and theories provides a space to challenge conventional ways of thinking about the communication discipline and that's the goal of the SAGE 21st Century Reference Series volumes on Communication General Editor William F Eadie has sought to honor the diversity of the study of communication but also integrate that diversity into a coherent form dividing communication study into four basic properties 1 processes 2 forms and types of communication 3 characteristics to consider in creating messages and 4 relationships between communicators Via 100 chapters this 2 volume set available in both print and electronic formats highlights the most important topics issues questions and debates any student obtaining a degree in the field of communication ought to have mastered for effectiveness in the 21st Century The purpose is to provide undergraduate majors with an authoritative reference source that will serve their research needs going forward in this exciting field with more detailed information than encyclopedia entries but not as much jargon detail or density as a journal article or a research handbook chapter Comprehensive coverage captures all the major themes and subfields within communication For instance Volume 1 themes include the discipline of communication approaches to the study of communication key processes of communication forms and types of communication key characteristics of messages key communication relationships factors affecting communication and challenges and opportunities for communication Themes in Volume 2 are media as communication communication as a profession journalism public relations advertising and media management Authoritative content is provided by a stellar casts of authors who bring diverse approaches diverse styles and different points of view Curricular driven emphasis provides students with initial footholds on topics of interest in researching for term papers in preparing for GREs in consulting to determine directions to take in pursuing a senior thesis graduate degree career etc Uniform chapter structures make it easy for students to locate key information with a more or less common chapter format of Introduction Theory Methods Applications Comparisons Future Directions Summary Bibliography Suggestions for Further Reading and Cross References Availability in print and electronic formats provides students with convenient easy access Announcement of Courses Stanford University,1920

Adolescent Girlhood and Literary Culture at the Fin de Siècle Beth Rodgers,2016-10-06 This book examines the construction of adolescent girlhood across a range of genres in the closing decades of the nineteenth century It argues that there was a preoccupation with defining characterising and naming adolescent girlhood at the fin de siècle These daughters of today juvenile spinsters and modern girls as the press variously termed them occupying a borderland between childhood and womanhood were seen to be inextricably connected to late nineteenth century modernity they were the products of changes taking place in education and employment and of the challenge to traditional conceptions of femininity presented by the Woman Question The author argues that the shifting nature of the modern adolescent girl made her a malleable cultural figure and a meeting point for many of the prevalent debates associated with fin de siècle society By juxtaposing diverse material from children's books and girls magazines to New Woman novels and psychological studies the author contextualises adolescent girlhood as a distinct but complex cultural category at the end of the nineteenth century

Victor Turner and Contemporary Cultural Performance Graham St John, 2008-04-01 Upon the 25th anniversary of his passing this collection addresses the wide application of Victor Turner's thought to cultural performance in the early 21st century From anthropology sociology and religious studies to performance cultural and media studies Turner's ideas have had a prodigious interdisciplinary impact Examining his relevance in studies of performance and popular culture media and religion along with the role of Edith Turner in the Turnerian project contributors explore how these ideas have been re-engaged renovated and repurposed in studies of contemporary cultural performance
