Modern Classics in Regional Science Kenneth J. Button, Peter Nijkamp, 1996 Handbook on Transport and Land Use João de Abreu e Silva, Kristina M. Currans, Veronique Van Acker, Robert J. Schneider, 2023-06-01 Synthesizing current understandings on the relationship between transport and land use this timely Handbook proposes an agenda for research and practice that leads toward more human centered communities within an increasingly urbanized world facing rapid technological change Chapters explore the role of institutional policies and informal cultural contexts in influencing transport and land use systems before examining the impacts of transportation and land use decisions across multiple areas including equity public health climate environment and lifestyle preferences The City and Its Sciences Cristoforo S. Bertuglia, Giuliano. Bianchi, Alfredo Mela, 2012-12-06 Recent developments in the field of urban analysis and management are investigated in this book It is a wide ranging collection of essays on the subject drawn from a long term project and seminar held in Italy to review the state of the art and speculate on the future influence on the sciences of the city of the complexity concept Of particular interest is the variety of points of view often contrasting and the attempt to go beyond the conventional approaches to the analysis and the planning of the city While focussing mainly on the European and in particular Italian context the discussion is of general relevance and valuable to anyone concerned with the prospects for the city in the new millenium Modern Classics in Regional Science: no. 1 Regional dynamics I Kingsley E. Haynes, Peter Nijkamp, Kenneth John Button, 1996 Spatial Economic Science Aura Reggiani, 2012-12-06 With the dawn of the twenty first century comes the awareness that current rapid political economic social and technological transformations will affect our of living by producing new forms of information communications common way market work style and leisure In this context human behaviour will certainly change its fixed parameters It is likely that the relationships between internal structures and external influences between individual components and collective behaviour as well as between multi scale networks and interrelated dynamics will show spatio temporal patterns which will be difficult to predict by means of our usual tools As a consequence academic research is increasingly being required to play an active role in addressing new ways of understanding and forecasting the sets of interacting structures ranging from the technical to the organizational and from the social to the economic and political levels while at the same time incorporating concerns about the new economy environment society information and technology It is now evident that social science especially spatial and economic science needs innovative paths together with continuous cross fertilization among the many disciplines involved In order to investigate these intriguing perspectives we seem to have embarked on an era of methodological reflections rather than developing strong theoretical foundations This volume aims to provide an overview of these new insights and frontiers for theoretical methodological studies and research applications in the space economy My Los Angeles Edward W. Soja, 2014-03-14 At once informative and entertaining inspiring and challenging My Los Angeles provides a deep understanding of urban development and change over the past forty years in Los Angeles and other city regions of the world. Once the least dense American metropolis, Los Angeles is now the country's densest urbanized area and one of the most culturally heterogeneous cities in the world. Soja takes us through this urban metamorphosis, analyzing urban restructuring, deindustrialization and reindustrialization, the globalization of capital and labor, and the formation of an information-intensive New Economy. By examining his own evolving interpretations of Los Angeles and the debates on the so-called Los Angeles School of urban studies, Soja argues that a radical shift is taking place in the nature of the urbanization process, from the familiar metropolitan model to regional urbanization. By looking at such concepts as new regionalism, the spatial turn, the end of the metropolis era, the urbanization of suburbia, the global spread of industrial urbanism, and the transformative urban industrialization of China, Soja offers a unique and remarkable perspective on critical urban and regional studies.

Reintegrating Severance Nora M. Isacoff, Jennifer Dawes, 2024-07-22. Manifesting the zeitgeist of our post-pandemic world, Apple TV's Severance probes the margins of work-life balance, the medicalization of normal human emotions, and the turbulence of disinformation, resistance, and reclamation. Fundamentally, the series grapples with systemization: how we organize and construct our histories, art, and architecture, social orders, and bodies and minds. Written for both fans and scholars, Reintegrating Severance collects fifteen critical essays, each offering deep insights into an issue spurred by the series. Constructing History explores identity in the context of historical revisionism and corporate mythology. Art Agency: Autonomy and Alienation dives deep into the political theories that earlier chapters have touched upon. Finally, Multifaceted Bodies and Minds strays from and ultimately finds a way back to the intuitive wisdom and intraconnection of the self.

Empirical Regional Economics Richard S. Conway Jr., 2022-04-23. This textbook offers an introduction to empirical regional economics, including a comprehensive and systematic overview of the fundamentals, history, development, and applications of economic base models. It not only provides a sound basis for regional economics and regional economic analysis but it also includes numerous applications of the underlying theory. The book has an empirical orientation, highlighting the value of observation and testing in order to explain regional economic behavior. Theory plays an important role in this study, but it is only a starting point. The book is divided into three parts: the first discusses the economic base theory of regional growth and the empirical evidence supporting it; while the second part covers the specification and application of four increasingly complex regional economic models: the economic base model, the input-output model, the interindustry econometric model, and the structural time series model. Lastly, the third part presents forty-eight regional economic case studies organized under seven headings, including economic cycles, economic policy, and regional forecasting. Given its scope, the book appeals to upper undergraduate and graduate students majoring in economics, economic geography, and business, as well as to anyone in the private or public sector interested in gaining a better understanding of practical methods of regional economic forecasting and analysis.
