Modern Irish Stories ,1985 Irish Women Writers and the Modern Short Story Elke D'hoker,2016-07-28 This book traces the development of the modern short story in the hands of Irish women writers from the 1890s to the present George Egerton Somerville and Ross Elizabeth Bowen Mary Lavin Edna O'Brien Anne Enright and Claire Keegan are only some of the many Irish women writers who have made lasting contributions to the genre of the modern short story yet their achievements have often been marginalized in literary histories which typically define the Irish short story in terms of its oral heritage nationalist concerns rural realism and outsider hero Through a detailed investigation of the short fiction of fifteen prominent writers this study aims to open up this critical conceptualization of the Irish short story to the formal properties and thematic concerns women writers bring to the genre What stands out in thematic terms is an abiding interest in human relations whether of love the family or the larger community In formal terms this book traces the overall development of the Irish short story highlighting both the lines of influence that connect these writers and the specific use each individual author makes of the short story form The Irish Short Story at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century Madalina

Armie,2022-12-30 In the mid 1990s Ireland was experiencing the best of times The Celtic Tiger seemed to instil in the national consciousness that poverty was a problem of the past The impressive economic performance ensured that the Republic occupied one of the top positions among the world's economic powers During the boom dissident voices continuously criticised what they considered to be a mirage identifying the precariousness of its structures and foretelling its eventual crash The 2008 recession proved them right Throughout this time the Irish contemporary short story expressed distrust Enabled by its capacity to reflect change with immediacy and dexterity the short story saw through the smokescreen created by the Celtic Tiger discourse of well being It reinterpreted and captured the worst and the best of the country and became a bridge connecting tradition and modernity The major objective of this book is to analyse the interactions between fiction and reality during this period in Ireland by studying the short stories written by old and emergent voices published between the birth of the Celtic Tiger in 1995 up to its immediate aftermath in 2013 Modernism in Irish Women's Contemporary Writing Paige Reynolds,2024 This volume explores the relationship between contemporary Irish women

The Modern Irish Sonnet Tara Guissin-Stubbs,2020-10-10 The Modern Irish Sonnet Revision and Rebellion discusses how and why the sonnet appeals to Irish poets and has grown in popularity over the last century Using a thematic approach Tara Guissin Stubbs argues for the significance of the Irish sonnet as a discrete entity within modern and contemporary poetry and shows how the Irish sonnet has become a debating chamber for discussions concerning the relationship between Irish and British culture poetry and gender and revision and rebellion The text reshapes the poetic and critical field exploring canonical and non canonical poems by male and female poets so as to challenge outmoded views of the thematic and formal limitations of the sonnet

Abortion and Ireland David Ralph, 2020-10-21 This book asks the crucial question of how it came to pass that on the 25 May 2018 the Irish electorate voted by a landslide in favour of changing its abortion legislation that for the previous thirty five years had been one of the most restrictive regimes in Europe The author shows how alongside traditional campaigning tactics such as street demonstrations door to door canvassing and the distribution of pro choice merchandise and information leaflets a key strategy of pro choice advocacy groups was to encourage first person abortion story sharing by women in their efforts to repeal the Eighth Amendment which had effectively banned abortion provision in the country The book argues that a normalizing of abortion talk took place in the lead up to the referendum with women speaking publicly in unprecedented numbers about their abortion histories These women storytellers were mirroring certain pro choice movements in other contexts where a new sound it loud say it proud narrative around abortion experiences has emerged as a central contemporary strategy for destigmatizing abortion discourse Students and scholars across a range of disciplines including law gender studies sociology and human geography will find this book of interest

Reviews and Essays of Austin Clarke Austin Clarke, 1995 Austin Clarke is widely regarded as one of 20th century Ireland's most important poets In this selection of nearly fifty essays and reviews written over Clarke's long career he demonstrates that he is an astute and provocative literary critic as well Having grown up in Dublin when the excitement of the Irish Literary Revival was still running high Clarke knew many of the principal figures of that movement personally and his readings of Yeats Joyce Synge O'Casey Lady Gregory George Moore and others enjoy the advantages of an insider's point of view Moreover committed in his own poetry to the basic assumption that fuelled the Literary Revival that the most productive course for Irish literature lay in the direction not of England but of Ireland Clarke in his criticism provides a way of understanding and judging the Revival's major writers in terms of their relationships to Ireland's rich literary and cultural traditions At the same time these essays call attention to a number of distinctly Irish but often overlooked writers working on the margins of the revival As Yeats observed more than once the Irish for all the contributions that they have made to modern fiction poetry and drama have fallen somewhat short in the genre of literary criticism Austin Clarke's essays and reviews many of which were written under a pseudonym and so not attributed to Clarke for years go a long way towards filling that gap

In a Harbour Green George O'Brien, 2019-07-29 Novelist short story writer critic memoirist broadcaster and journalist Benedict Kiely 1919-2007 was not only one of the best known but one of the most artistically and culturally distinctive men of letters of his day His fascination with the island of Ireland the myths and memories of its people and the many voiced quality of its traditions has secured for him a unique place in the country's literary history His substantial body of fiction and non fiction is a repository of lore and learning and amply rewards not only the interest shown in it over many years by his popularity among the general public but also that of Irish and international literary scholarship Strangely however despite his renowned reputation and canonical status Kiely remains a writer whose work has generated surprisingly little secondary literature academic or otherwise This charming collection of twelve essays by some of Ireland's foremost writers and esteemed international critics in this his centenary year will breathe new life into Kiely's work and place him back where he belongs at the heart of Irish literature

Irish Theatre in the Twenty-First Century Nicholas Grene, 2024-09-27 Irish Theatre in the Twenty First Century is the first in depth study of the subject It analyses the ways in which theatre in Ireland has developed since the 1990s when emerging playwrights Martin McDonagh Conor McPherson and Enda Walsh turned against the tradition of lyrical eloquence with a harsh and broken dramatic
