Modern Japanese Architecture Masters And Mannerists In The 1950s60s:

Architectural Conservation in Asia John H. Stubbs, Robert G. Thomson, 2016-11-10 At a time when organized heritage protection in Asia is developing at a rapid pace Architectural Conservation in Asia provides the first comprehensive overview of architectural conservation practice from Afghanistan to the Philippines The country by country analysis adopted by the book draws out local insights experiences best practice and solutions for effective cultural heritage management that will inform study and practice both in Asia and beyond Whereas architectural conservation in much of the Western world has been extensively documented this book brings together coverage of many regions where architectural conservation has been understudied Following on from the highly influential companion volumes on global architectural conservation and architectural conservation in Europe and the Americas with this book the authors extend their pioneering global examination to the dynamic and evolving field of architectural conservation in Asia Throughout the book the authors and regional experts provide local case studies and profile topics that bring depth and insight to this ambitious study As architectural conservation becomes increasingly global in practice this book will be of considerable assistance to architectural conservation practitioners site managers and students of architecture planning archaeology and heritage studies worldwide Jahrbuch 2022 der Deutschen Gesellschaft für Geschichte der Sportwissenschaft e.V. Stewart, 2002 This is a definitive history of the rise and evolution of modernism in Japanese architecture Illustrated with over 400 photographs the study explores the influence of 20th century Western architectural ideas on the development of Japan's urban landscapes Uncovering the Japanese House: Junzo Yoshimura, Antonin Raymond, and George Nakashima Yuka Yokoyama, William Whitaker, 2022-04-05 Midcentury modernism meets Japanese design in three revolutionary American buildings the products of a unique sustained cross cultural collaboration In 1953 Japanese architect Junzo Yoshimura designed a now classic Japanese house and garden that he called Shofuso It was built in Nagoya Japan and shipped to New York in 1954 where it was exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art and then relocated to Philadelphia s Fairmount Park The curators of MoMA s House in the Garden exhibition highlighted its synthesis of historic Japanese architecture with modern architecture the clarity of the house s post and beam structure its flexibility of use and the close relationship of indoor and outdoor spaces This extensively illustrated volume centers on Yoshimura s design for Shofuso and two allied sites located in New Hope Bucks County Pennsylvania Raymond Farm 1939 41 a live work residence built by Antonin and No mi Raymond within the fabric of an existing 18th century Quaker farmhouse and Nakashima Studios a complex of structures designed by George Nakashima over three decades 1947 77 to serve his furniture making business and as his family s home Each site in its own way is the embodiment of the personal relationships and cross cultural collaborations among this group of architects and designers The Raymonds along with Yoshimura Nakashima and others came to understand Japan s changing environment through the act of building through collaboration and travel Together they extended these lessons into the furniture and furnishings of modern living in both Japan and the United States This volume documents an exhibition of objects and ephemera mounted at Shofuso New York based architectural photographer Elizabeth Felicella captures each site in a portfolio of newly commissioned images Essays by Ken Tadashi Oshima and William Whitaker illustrated with historical photographs family snapshots and architectural drawings further elucidate this important chapter in the history of modern architecture and design

New Directions in Japanese Architecture Robin Boyd, 1968 Japan has managed to build up one of the most consistent and instantly recognizable styles of modern architecture and has done this in hardly more than a decade The full impact of the international modern movement did not strike Japanese architects until well after World War II and then their vision was concentrated on the work of one master Le Corbusier Yet in a remarkably short time after that they turned from copying to creating subtly flavoring the international movement with the essence of their own country Today Japan is one of the growth points of world architecture Why this sudden surge of sophistication How could so many Japanese architects step up so quickly and with such unison into command of the modern building arts and technologies How genuine is their style The question of its validity and the reasons for its rapid maturation provide the theme underlying this study of the new direction which Japanese architecture is now forcefully taking Robin Boyd finds some reasons in the inescapable if indirect influences of Japan s great architectural traditions some in the social background of today and some in the special kind of insularity which colors the Japanese experience poised as they see it between East and West The new work of a number of Japanese architects is illustrated and analyzed Some of these architects are world famous all are working in the forefront of national development and share responsibility for the vigor and promise that cannot fail to excite a visitor from the West

The Making of a Modern Japanese Architecture David B. Stewart, 1987 Na een overzicht van de 19e

eeuwse architectuur volgt een uitgebreide studie over de bouwkunst van de 20e eeuw The Architecture of Japan
Arthur Drexler, 2007-10 The Japanese House Alexandra Black, 2000 The simple beauty of Japanese architecture and design has inspired many of the world's top architects and designers The grace and elegance of the Japanese sensibility is reflected in both modern and traditional Japanese homes from their fluid floor plans to their use of natural materials In The Japanese House renowned Japanese photographer Noboru Murata has captured this Eastern spirit with hundreds of vivid color photographs of 15 Japanese homes As we step behind the lens with Murata we witness to the unique Japanese aesthetic to the simple proportions modeled after the square of the tatami mat to refined rustic decor to earthy materials like wood paper straw ceramics and textiles This is a glorious house tour readers can return to again and again for ideas inspiration or simply admiration
