Raid On The Breme:

Daring Raids of World War Two Peter Jacobs, 2015-06-30 The Second World War saw a host of heroic raids enacted across the various theatres all delivered valiantly in a variety of ways by British combatants on land by sea and from the air Daring exploits such as the raid on Rommel the endeavours of the Cockleshell Heroes and the Dam Busters have become legendary in the annals of warfare All feature here alongside details of fascinating lesser known operations It goes without saying that not all the raids were a success in fact some went disastrously wrong but the men who carried them out did so with extreme courage and in the knowledge that they might not return Here Peter Jacobs tells the gripping stories of some of the most heroic raids of the entire conflict These include the disastrous landings at Dieppe the amphibious assault on the dry dock at St Nazaire more Victoria Crosses were won during this raid than in any other operation of the war the airborne assaults on the German radar installation at Bruneval and later on Pegasus Bridge as a prelude to D Day and the low level raid by RAF Mosquitos on the prison at Amiens to release members of the French Resistance This is an intriguing and insightful historical record of thirty of the most daring and strategic raids of military history and is sure to appeal to all enthusiasts of the genre The War at Sea, 1939-1945 Stephen Wentworth Roskill, 1961 Destined to Live Kristin Gilpatrick, 2001 Bodies and Ruins David F. Crew, 2017-05-19 Bodies and Ruins explores changing German memories of World War II as it analyzes the construction of narratives in the postwar period including the depiction of the bombing of individual German cities The book offers a corrective notion rising in the late 1990s notion that discussions of the Allied bombing were long overdue because Germans who had endured the bombings had largely been condemned to silence after 1945 David Crew shows that far from being marginalized in postwar historical consciousness the bombing war was in fact a central strand of German memory and identity Local narratives of the bombing war including photographic books had already established themselves as important vectors of memory in the late 1940s and early 1950s The bombing war had allowed Germans to see themselves as victims at a time when the Allied liberation of the concentration camps and the Nuremberg trials presented Germans to the world as perpetrators or at least as accomplices The bombing war continued to serve this function even as Germans became more and more willing directly to confront the genocide of European Jews which by the 1960s was beginning to be referred to as the Holocaust Bodies and Ruins examines a range of local publications that carried photographic images of German cities destroyed in the air war images that soon entered the visual memory of World War II Despite its obvious importance historians have paid very little attention to the visual representation of the bombing war This book follows the search for what were considered to be the right stories and the right pictures of the bombing war in local publications and picture books from 1945 to the present and is intended for historians as well as general readers interested in World War II the Allied bombing of German cities the Holocaust the history of memory and photographic visual history Bremer Vulkan, Vegesack, Germany United States Strategic Bombing Survey, 1947 The Heavy Bomber

Offensive of WWII Martin W. Bowman, 2015-05-31 This book contains fourteen stirring accounts each conveying an authentic sense of what it was really like to fly as a member of air crew during the various bombing operations of the Second World War. The storytellers are an eclectic mix of pilots, navigators, bomb aimers, wireless operators and gunners who flew on operations in heavy bombers. It conveys the terror of being coned by German searchlights over the target, attacks by Luftwaffe night fighters, often catastrophic damage to aircraft and the ensuing struggle to keep the machine airborne on the return trip to base. It tells of the comradeship between the crew and the humour between them, often borne of fear. The gentle and unassuming narratives include Millennium One of Our Aircraft Is Missing, Bomber's Moon, Bombing Berlin, The Ordeal Of Pilot Officer Romans, DFC Last Man Out, operations on Whitleys and Halifaxes, Flying Officer X Stirlings, Rescue At Sea, The Incendiary Load, s Alight The Night Of The Bombs and The Kassel Raids of 1943 as well as BBC broadcasts and stories by Allied war correspondents. Each of these accounts conveys the sense of purpose that these men felt in doing one of the most dangerous jobs of the war. It is a fitting tribute to those that survived and the many thousands who died in the struggle against Hitler's dreadful ambitions in Europe. Impact of Air Attack in World War II, 1953 Impact of Air Attack in World War II Stanford Research Institute, 1953 Bulletins from Britain, 1942 The RAF's Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2 Graham Waterton, 2024-08-30 Having left his grammar school just before his 16th birthday, Brian Slade falsified his age to pursue his dream of becoming a pilot. Within a few days of his 17th birthday, he was awarded his wings. It was the start of this teenager's remarkable wartime career. Soon after being awarded his pilot's brevet, Brian was posted to his first squadron. Flying the venerable Vickers Wellington, he found himself experimenting with early target marking techniques. It was also there that Brian gained the nickname 'The Boy Slade'. Though Brian's journey through the wartime RAF mirrored the experiences of tens of thousands of young men, what was different, if not unique, was the fact that before he had turned 18, which was the minimum age to begin aircrew training, Brian had already completed thirty-four operations, more than was needed for a tour. This tally included the three 1,000 bomber raids against Cologne, Essen and Bremen. He was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross for nursing his badly damaged Wellington, which sustained flak and night fighter damage, home after a raid on Bremen. Undaunted, Brian soon after volunteered for his second tour of operations. It was at this stage that he joined the Lancaster-equipped 83 Squadron in the newly formed 8 Group, becoming an experienced Pathfinder skipper. It was a role in which he marked targets in the Battle of the Ruhr, the bombing of Hamburg, Operation Gomorrah and the Peenemünde raid. The RAF's Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2, told by his nephew, a former officer in the British Army, details all of Brian's fifty-nine missions and captures his compelling progress with Bomber Command alongside the technological advances in aircraft, pathfinder strategy and tactics. Sadly, Brian's Lancaster was shot down over Berlin in August 1943. The details of its loss remained shrouded in mystery until the puzzle of his aircraft's demise was eventually solved by tracing the family of the only survivor. The relentless dangers, not just in operations but also in training and the continuous loss of life, are drawn into sharp focus But on account of his age Brian s story is unique There may have never been nor will ever be an RAF pilot of 19 years old with his flying and operational experience Complemented with a collection of previously unpublished photographs The RAF s Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2 is one of the Second World War s most amazing tales Impact of Air Attack in World War II: Summary of civil defense experience. v. 3.
