End Colin Caffell,2020-01-09 THE TRUE STORY BEHIND MAJOR ITV DRAMA WHITE HOUSE FARM NOW ON NETFLIX An extraordinary book both deeply moving and quietly inspiring FREDDIE FOX A beautiful very moving book CRESSIDA BONAS In 1985 the shocking murder of a family of five in a quiet country house in Essex rocked the nation The victims were Nevill and June Bamber their adopted daughter Sheila Caffell divorced from her husband Colin and Sheila and Colin s twin sons Nicholas and Daniel Only one survivor remained the Bamber s other adopted child Jeremy Bamber Following his lead the police and later the press blamed the murders on Sheila who so the story went then committed suicide Written by Sheila s ex husband Colin and originally published in 1994 In Search of the Rainbow's End is the first and only book about the White House Farm murders to have been written by a family member. It is the inside story of two families into whose midst the most monstrous events erupted. When Jeremy Bamber is later convicted on all five counts of murder, Colin is left to pick up the pieces of his life after not only burying his ex-wife, two children and parents-in-law but also having to cope with memories of Sheila almost shattered by a predatory press hungry for stories of sex, drugs and the high life. Colin's tale is not just a rare insider's picture of murder but testimony to the strength and resilience of one man in search of healing after trauma; he describes his process of recovery, a process that led to his working in prisons helping to rehabilitate among others convicted murderers. By turns emotive, terrifying and inspiring, Colin Caffell's account of mass murder and its aftermath will not fail to move and astonish.

Resisting Theologies and the Everyday Wren Radford, 2025-06-26 This powerful volume provides dynamic ways of constructing theologies of resistance and liberation by engaging with the everyday practices of marginalised communities. In doing so, this collection of theological experts rejects abstracted concepts of modes and taxonomies of race, gender, sexuality and disability. Readers will find this a dynamic book with a variety of approaches that provide ways of constructing theologies of resistance and liberation. Experiences of marginalisation have provided a powerful reference point for developing theologies of justice and liberation; however, theological and political frameworks often reduce the complexity of lived experiences into categories and themes. Daily practices of resisting and surviving are frequently considered too fleshy, domestic or banal to be of theological meaning. Therefore, Radford and their coterie of academics draw on understandings of the everyday in feminist, womanist, Latinx and decolonial theologies as well as in cultural theory. This allows critical reflection on how theological approaches can shape alternative relations to self, society and the sacred. In recognising the lived and felt realities of struggling against oppressive colonial and racialised systems, contributors engage with academic and activist debates about the possibilities of remaking social relations and creating other ways of knowing and being. From Black theology to disabled activists on social media to queer clergy in South Africa, this volume holds together differences in contributors' approaches, modelling the view that there is not just one form of resistance nor a single approach to constructing theology.
