Social Reinsurance David M. Dror, Alexander S. Preker, 2002-01-01 Annotation This volume views community based microinsurance as an incremental first step to improved financial protection and better access to health services for the poor While community based financing can be structured in various ways this volume focuses on reinsurance as a mechanism for improving micro level health insurance units It outlines strategies and policies that can be applied by countries and donors to improve access to health care services Going Universal Daniel Cotlear, Somil Nagpal, Owen Smith, Ajay Tandon, Rafael Cortez, 2015-09-25

The quest for universal health coverage UHC has gathered real momentum over the past decade with countries on every continent now taking part. This is welcome news since a lack of universal coverage means that hundreds of millions of people around the world either do not get the health care services they need or they have to pay dearly for them often falling into poverty as a result. But the UHC agenda also poses an enormous challenge to policy makers across the globe and many countries are eager to learn from the experiences of others as they undertake the long journey toward UHC. Going Universal: How 24 Developing Countries Are Implementing Universal Health Coverage Reforms from the Bottom Up draws on a wealth of new evidence to help enrich the global knowledge base on UHC. It provides a synthesis of UHC reform programs that placed a special focus on expanding coverage in ways inclusive of the poor. The main objective was to document and analyze their experiences based on a systematic data collection effort that sought to capture in great detail how they have been implementing UHC reforms. The main chapters offer an in-depth analysis of how countries are addressing five key challenges covering people expanding benefits, managing money, improving the supply of health care services, and strengthening accountability. The UHC reform programs described in the volume are new, massive, and transformational. Most were launched during the past decade and together they now cover more than 2 billion people. But most importantly, the authors find that the programs are fundamentally changing the way health systems operate, offering the potential to achieve greater equity and better results for the money spent. The authors identify key risks that lie ahead as well as an emerging agenda that requires more country and global learning. Overall, this book offers those contributing to the achievement of UHC worldwide a valuable new resource to help chart a way forward.

Health Insurance Ermanno Pitacco, 2014-11-04

Health Insurance aims at filling a gap in actuarial literature attempting to solve the frequent misunderstanding in regards to both the purpose and the contents of health insurance products and protection products more generally on the one hand and the relevant actuarial structures on the other. In order to cover the basic principles regarding health insurance techniques, the first few chapters in this book are mainly devoted to the need for health insurance and a description of insurance products in this area: sickness insurance, accident insurance, critical illness covers, income protection, long term care insurance, health related benefits as riders to life insurance policies. An introduction to general actuarial and risk management issues follows. Basic actuarial models are presented for sickness insurance and income protection, i.e. disability annuities. Several numerical examples help the reader understand the main features of pricing and reserving in the health insurance area. A short introduction to actuarial models for long term care insurance products is also provided. Advanced undergraduate and graduate students in actuarial sciences, graduate students in economics, business and finance, and professionals and technicians operating in insurance and pension areas will find this book of benefit.

IMF Engagement on Health Spending Issues in Surveillance and Program Work Mauricio Soto, Mr. Geremia Palomba, Carolina Bloch, Nick Carroll, Tohid

Atashbar,Deeksha Kale,Baoping Shang,Kiichi Tokuoka,2023-12-22 IMF country teams have become increasingly engaged on health spending issues in surveillance and program work and more so since the COVID 19 pandemic The primary objectives of health spending are to improve health outcomes and provide protection to households against high financial costs of health care The Fund s engagement on health spending issues is guided by an assessment of its macro criticality with the scope and purpose of engagement varying across countries and depending on whether it occurs in surveillance or program contexts This technical note discusses how to assess the macro criticality of health spending and reviews appropriate policy responses The design and implementation of macro critical health reforms often require specific sectoral knowledge and experience Thus this note emphasizes the importance of collaborating with development partners on health policy issues

Actuarial Practice in Social Security Pierre Plamondon,2002 The actuarial analysis of social protection schemes is a challenge that requires a balancing act between the demographic economic financial and actuarial fields This text provides a practical tool to enhance and modernize social protection systems while maintaining this balance Actuarial

Mathematics of Social Security Pensions Subramaniam Iyer,1999 Describes the application of actuarial principles and techniques to public social insurance pension schemes Aims to establish a link between public social security and occupational pension scheme methods Part one discusses actuarial theory Part two deals with two techniques the projection technique and the present value technique There is also a brief description of actuarial mathematics Social Policy in an

Ageing Society D. Reisman,2009-01-01 Around half the world s population live in countries where the fertility rate is far below the replacement rate and where life expectancy is increasing dramatically Using Singapore as a case study Social Policy in an Ageing Society explores what might happen in a dynamic and prosperous society when falling births longer life expectancy and rising expectations put disproportionate pressure on scarce resources that have alternative uses David Reisman investigates the challenges facing Singapore where a rapidly rising median age and the growing pressure of the elderly upon medical attention are threatening to disrupt the economic and even the political status quo The dependency of the old upon the young is becoming a financial and an emotional burden Health care is swelling in quantity and price Voluntary and compulsory savings are being used up New demands for pensions and subsidies are challenging the national ideology of family network and self reliance Despite a wealth of prospective problems the author argues that viable solutions can be found Discretionary savings can increase Reverse mortgages can monetise owner occupied property A higher participation rate can give the elderly the opportunity to earn a living for themselves This book concludes that public policy must play its part in facilitating these solutions It must ensure that the old retain their dignity The old should not lie where they fall This comprehensive intelligible and highly original cross disciplinary study will appeal to a wide ranging audience Readers will include academics researchers and students with an interest in health economics the economics of development social policy and administration public policy and the socio economic aspects of medicine Sixth European Regional
