Supplement to the fourth edition* Dorothy Nyren Curley, 1979 Modern American Literature, 1967 A Library of Literary Criticism Dorothy Nyren Curley, 1976 Modern American Literature, 1970 The Cambridge Companion to Arthur Miller C. W. E. Bigsby, 1997-11-13 Arthur Miller is regarded as one of the most important playwrights of the twentieth century His work is performed and studied around the world and this Companion provides an introduction to this influential dramatist In addition to analyses of Miller's plays including All My Sons Death of a Salesman and The Crucible his work is also placed within the context of the social and political climate of the time The impact of the Depression the Holocaust and McCarthyism are explored in light of the plays and the contributors also discuss Miller's fiction and work in film In the last twenty years Miller has written a host of new plays and the Companion also examines these works including The Ride Down Mount Morgan The Last Yankee and Broken Glass The volume closes with a bibliographic essay which reviews the key studies of Miller It also contains a detailed chronology of Miller's work and illustrations from important productions The Quest for Epic in Contemporary American Fiction Catherine Morley, 2008-09-25 This volume explores the confluences between two types of literature in contemporary America the novel and the epic It analyses the tradition of the epic as it has evolved from antiquity through Joyce to its American manifestations and describes how this tradition has impacted upon contemporary American writing Maximalism in Contemporary American Literature Nick Levey, 2016-11-18 This book begins a new and foundational discussion of maximalism by investigating how the treatment of detail in contemporary literature impels readers to navigate tolerate and enrich the cultural landscape of postindustrial America It studies the maximalist novels of David Foster Wallace Nicholson Baker Thomas Pynchon and others considering how overly detailed writing serves the institutional emotional and intellectual needs of contemporary readers and writers The book argues that maximalist novels not only exceed perceived limits of style subject matter and scope but strive to remake the usefulness of books in contemporary culture refreshing the act of reading Levey shows that while these novels are preoccupied with detail and description they are relatively unconcerned with the traditional goals of representation Instead they use detail to communicate particular values and fantasies of intelligence enthusiasm and ability attached to the management of complex and excessive information Whether reinvigorating the banal and trivial in mainstream culture or soothing anxieties of human insufficiency in the age of automation and the internet these texts model significant abilities rather than just objects of significance and encourage readers to develop habits of reading that complement the demands of an increasingly detailed culture Drawing upon a diverse range of theoretical schools and cultural texts including Thing Theory Marxism New Formalism playlists blogs and archival manuscripts the book proposes a new understanding of maximalist writing and a new way of approaching the usefulness of literary objects in contemporary culture
