Technical Highlights of the National Bureau of Standards United States. National Bureau of Standards,1969 Abundance Effects in Classification B. Hauck,P.C. Keenan,1976-09-30 The general discussions of the roles of photometric and spectroscopic classification at Cordoba in 1971 IAU Symposium No 50 and of the calibration of classification indices at Geneva in 1972 IAU Symposium No 54 revealed clearly the steadily in creasing importance of abundance parameters The multipliCity of these however raised so many new problems that it was logical that the 1975 meeting at Lausanne should be concerned with ways in which differences in abundance affect both spectral types and photometric indices Commissions 29 and 36 joined with Commission 45 in sponsoring this Symposium Since the date of the meeting came shortly after the formal retirement of Professor William W Morgan from the University of Chicago it was quickly agreed that this meeting should be dedicated to him in recognition of his unique contributions to spectral classification In the opening paper of the Symposium Dr Bengt Stromgren has summarized these To his remarks we should add only that it was about 1940 that Morgan first distinguished the group of G and K type stars with weak CN bands and metallic lines stars which have since been recognized as having the abundance of all metals relative to hydrogen much lower than in stars of the solar population Spectra of two of these HD 81192 Boss 2527 and 8 Lep were later shown as examples of the group in the Yerkes Atlas of 1943 Hydrogen Deficient Stars and Related Objects K. Hunger,Detlef Schönberner,N.K. Rao,2012-12-06 The first helium star was discovered in 1942 the first scientific meeting on the subject however took place in 1985 The meeting was hence long overdue for in the meantime a substantial amount of material had been accumulated by a rather small but active scientific community Hence it appeared necessary to review the field in order to define the subject assess its present status and discuss future developments Hydrogen deficiency is a widespread phenomenon occurring in a large variety of stellar and nonstellar objects It can be readily detected in B stars as these exhibit both hydrogen and helium lines if the elements are present in appreciable amounts It becomes less manifest in cool stars where the temperature is too low to excite helium and where one has to devise indirect methods for proving hydrogen deficiency Clearly it was not possible to discuss the whole complex of hydrogen deficiency i e in both stars and diffuse matter but rather to concentrate on the issue of helium stars International Aerospace Abstracts ,1968-03
