Modern Life Modern Subjects British Art:

Modern Life & Modern Subjects Lisa Tickner, 2000 In May 1914 the Whitechapel Art Gallery in London opened its exhibition of Twentieth Century Art The catalogue identified four main strands in modern painting but included a fifth group of Jewish artists hung in the Small Gallery In this illuminating book art historian Lisa Tickner takes a fresh look at the work of artists from each of these strands In a series of innovative case studies combining analysis with substantial new research she examines the artists radical approaches to the process of painting and their resources in the defining conditions of modern life Tickner discusses Walter Sickert's Camden Town Murder and L. Affaire de Camden Town in the context of tabloid crime Augustus John's Lyric Fantasy is seen as rooted in but also as qualifying the Edwardian fascination with gypsies and tramping while memorialising John's dead wife Ida The studies for Wyndham Lewis's lost Kermesse are connected to popular dance and to his sense of the wild body Vanessa Bell's Studland Beach is related to the emergence of the beach as a social and psychic space and to childhood summers in St Ives drawn on by her sister Virginia Woolf in To the Lighthouse And David Bomberg

The Victorian Painting of Modern Life Pamela Fletcher, 2024-12-30 This text offers a comprehensive and tightly focused account of the emergence and flourishing of British modern life paintings at midcentury Contemporary subjects were new and risky in the late 1840s and early 1850s immensely popular and much debated by 1858 and already falling out of fashion by the mid 1860s The book follows this story chronologically moving from the anxious attempts by young artists such as William Powell Frith and William Holman Hunt to capture modern life in a visual language that conveyed both the literal and emotional truths of contemporary experience through the new genre's explosion into popularity in the later 1850s and early 1860s and the critical debates and changing fashions that led to its diminishment by the end of that decade The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history British studies visual culture exhibition culture museum studies and the sociology of art

The Modern Woman Revisited Whitney Chadwick, Tirza True Latimer, 2003 Between the two world wars Paris served as the setting for unparalleled freedom for expatriate as well as native born French women who enjoyed unprecedented access to education and opportunities to participate in public artistic and intellectual life Many of these women including Colette Tamara de Lempicka Sonia Delaunay Djuna Barnes Augusta Savage and Lee Miller made lasting contributions to art and literature

Subject Index of the Modern Books Acquired by the British Museum in the Years 1916-1920 British Museum. Department of Printed Books, 1922 A Dictionary of Modern and Contemporary Art Ian Chilvers, John Graves-Smith, 2009 This unique and authoritative reference work contains more than 2 000 clear and concise entries on all aspects of modern and contemporary art Its impressive range of terms includes movements styles techniques artists critics dealers schools and galleries There are biographical entries for artists worldwide from the beginning of the 20th century through to the beginning of the 21st from the Finnish architect Alvar Aalto to the French sculptor Jacques Zwobada With international coverage indications of public collections and publicly sited works and in depth entries for key topics for example Cubism and abstract art this dictionary is a fascinating and thorough guide for anyone with an interest in modern and contemporary culture amateur or professional Formerly the Dictionary of 20th Century Art the text has been completely revised and updated for this major new edition 300 entries have been added and it now contains entries on photography in modern art With emphasis on recent art and artists for example Damien Hirst it has an exceptionally strong coverage of art from the 1960s which makes it particularly ideal for contemporary art enthusiasts Further reading is provided at entry level to assist those wishing to know more about a particular subject In addition this edition features recommended web links for many entries which are accessed and kept up to date via the Dictionary of Modern Art companion website The perfect companion for the desk bedside table or gallery visits A Dictionary of Modern and Contemporary Art is an essential A Z reference work for art students artists and art lovers We Are Kings Spencer Jackson, 2020-09-03 When British and American leaders today talk of the nation whether it is Boris Johnson Barack Obama or Donald Trump they do so in part in terms established by eighteenth century British literature The city on a hill and the sovereign individual are tropes at the center of modern Anglo American political thought and the literature that accompanied Britain's rise to imperial prominence played a key role in creating them We Are Kings is the first book to interpret eighteenth century British literature from the perspective of political theology Spencer Jackson returns here to a body of literature long associated with modernity's origins without assuming that modernity entails a separation of the religious from the profane The result is a study that casts this literature in a surprisingly new light From the patriot to the marriage plot the narratives and characters of eighteenth century British literature are the products of the politicization of religion Jackson argues the real story of this literature is neither secularization nor the survival of orthodox Judeo Christianity but rather the expansion of a movement beginning in the High Middle Ages to transfer the transcendent authority of the Catholic Church to the English political sphere The novel and the modern individual then are in a sense both secular and religious at once products of a modern political faith that has authorized Anglo American exceptionalism from the eighteenth century to the present

AngloModern Janet Wolff, 2018-05-31 Early twentieth century art and art practice in Britain and the United States were Janet Wolff asserts marginalized by critics and historians in very similar ways after the rise of post Cubist modern art In a masterly book on the sociology of modernism Wolff explores work that was primarily realist and figurative and investigates the social institutional political and aesthetic processes by which that art fell by the wayside in the postwar period Throughout she shows that questions of gender and ethnicity play an important role in critical curatorial and historical evaluations For example Wolff finds that the work of the artists central to the development of the Whitney Museum was relegated to a secondary status in the postwar period when realism was labeled feminine in contrast to the aggressive masculinity of abstract expressionism The three key periods considered in AngloModern are the early twentieth century when modernist art and existing and new realist traditions coexisted in a certain tension the postwar period in which modernism claimed superiority over realism and the late twentieth century when a retrieval of the realist and figurative traditions seemed to occur Wolff concludes by considering this re emergence as well as the limitations of earlier discussions of the struggles of realist and figurative art to endure the currents of modernism Narrating Modernity: The British Problem Picture, 1895-1914 Pamela M. Fletcher, 2018-02-05 This title was first published in 2003 Problem pictures were very popular during the Edwardian period These pictures invited multiple interpretations of modern life and were often slightly risqué Pamela Fletcher explores how these works of art engaged with questions of gender sexuality and identity during their heyday The British Controversialist and Literary Magazine ,1870 Reality Gendervision Brenda R. Weber, 2014-03-03 This essay collection focuses on the gendered dimensions of reality television in both the United States and Great Britain Through close readings of a wide range of reality programming from Finding Sarah and Sister Wives to Ghost Adventures and Deadliest Warrior the contributors think through questions of femininity and masculinity as they relate to the intersections of gender race class and sexuality They connect the genre s combination of real people and surreal experiences of authenticity and artifice to the production of identity and norms of citizenship the commodification of selfhood and the naturalization of regimes of power Whether assessing the Kardashian family brand portrayals of hoarders or big family programs such as 19 Kids and Counting the contributors analyze reality television as a relevant site for the production and performance of gender In the process they illuminate the larger neoliberal and postfeminist contexts in which reality TV is produced promoted watched and experienced Contributors David Greven Dana Heller Su Holmes Deborah Jermyn Misha Kavka Amanda Ann Klein Susan Lepselter Diane Negra Laurie Ouellette Gareth Palmer Kirsten Pike Maria Pramaggiore Kimberly Springer Rebecca Stephens Lindsay Steenberg Brenda R Weber The Making of English Photography: Allegories , Since the production of the first negative by William Henry Fox Talbot in Wiltshire s Lacock Abbey in 1835 English photography has played a central role in revolutionizing the production of images yet it has largely evaded critical attention The Making of English Photography investigates this new enterprise and specifically how professional photographers shaped a strange aesthetic for their practice The Making of English Photography examines the development of English photography as an industrial commercial and most problematically artistic enterprise Concentrating on the first decades of photography s history Edwards tracks the pivotal distinction between art and document as it emerged in the writings of the men of science and professional photographers suggesting that this key opposition is rooted in social fantasies of the worker Through a close reading of the photographic press in the 1860s he both reconstructs the ideological world of photographers and employs the unstable category of photography to cast light on art class and industrial knowledge Bringing together an array of early photographs recent historical and theoretical scholarship and extensive archival sources The Making of English Photography sheds new light on the prevailing discourses of photography as well as the antinomies of art and work in a world shaped by social division Apocalypse in British Art and Visual Culture in the Early Twentieth Century Thomas Bromwell, 2024-11-29

This book is the first substantial study of the presence and relationship with the concepts of apocalypse eschatology and millennium in modern British art from 1914 to 1945 addressing how and why practitioners in both religious and secular spheres turned to the subjects The volume examines British art and visual culture's relationship with the then contemporary anxieties and hopes regarding the orientation of society and culture arguing that there is an acute relationship to the particular forms of cultural discourse of eschatology apocalypse and millennium Chapters identify the continued relevance of religion and religious themes in British art during the period and demonstrate that eschatology apocalypse and millennium were thriving and surprisingly mainstream concepts in the period that remained vital in early to mid twentieth century society and culture This book is a research monograph aimed at an audience of scholars and graduate students already familiar with the core focus of modern British art and cultural histories especially those working on the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries or the concepts of apocalypse eschatology and millennium in Theology Sociology or other disciplinary settings It will also be of interest to scholars and students working on war and visual culture or histories of imperialism It will benefit scholars of early twentieth century British art demonstrating the intersection of art and religion in the modern era and critically qualifies the standard secular canon and narrative of modern British art and the general neglect of religion in existing art historical literature

Art and Masculinity in Post-War Britain Gregory

Salter, 2020-05-18 In this book Gregory Salter traces how artists represented home and masculinities in the period of social and personal reconstruction after the Second World War in Britain Salter considers home as an unstable entity at this historical moment imbued with the optimism and hopes of post war recovery while continuing to resonate with the memories and traumas of wartime Artists examined in the book include John Bratby Francis Bacon Keith Vaughan Francis Newton Souza and Victor Pasmore Case studies featured range from the nuclear family and the body to the nation Combined they present an argument that art enables an understanding of post war reconstruction as a temporally unstable long term phenomenon which placed conceptions of home and masculinity at the heart of its aims Art and Masculinity in Post War Britain sheds new light on how the fluid concepts of society nation masculinity and home interacted and influenced each other at this critical period in history and will be of interest to anyone studying art history anthropology sociology history and cultural and heritage studies

Shaping the City to Come Deborah Lewittes, 2022-02-15 This study reassesses modern architecture and town planning in mid twentieth century England highlighting ideas and debates that were in circulation as modernist ideals gradually took root The book reveals an architectural culture that was serious active and visionary with impact that extended into the postwar years Through close studies of specific works and writings the author acknowledges the importance of the international context of modern architecture as it intersected with the variety of narratives that defined English modernism such as national identity the New Empiricism and the picturesque taking into account the large community of migr architects who settled in England with the approach of World War II as well as a more general dissemination of international style forms and theories from continental Europe The book places familiar figures such as Berthold Lubetkin and Ern Goldfinger as well as projects such as Tecton s Penguin Pool and the Festival of Britain s Live Architecture Exhibition in new light presenting a rich picture of the modern architectural climate in England The study draws attention to the debates proposals and processes that fed into the development of modernist urban minded and forward looking architectural ideals Book Review Digest ,1913 From Space in Modern Art to a Spatial Art History Jutta

Vinzent,2019-12-02 This book traces artists theories of constructive space in the first half of the twentieth century Drawing on these concepts and recent theories on space it develops a methodology termed Spatial Art History that conceives of artworks as physical spatio temporal things which produce the social to overcome the reductive understanding of art as a mere mirror or facilitator of society Imperial Emotions Javier Krauel,2013-11-13 A ground breaking work that considers myths of the Spanish empire from the perspective of cultural responses to its demise Woolfian Boundaries Anna Burrells,Steve Ellis,2023-12-15 Woolfian Boundaries explores Woolf s work from perspectives beyond the boundary of her own positions and attitudes taking her coolness toward the provinces and prejudice against the regional novel Letters 6 381 as the starting point for considering her writing in the light of its own limits self declared and otherwise Chapter topics range from Woolf s connections with the Birmingham School of novelists in the 1930s to her interests in environmentalism portraiture photography and the media and her endlessly fascinating relationship with the writings of her contemporaries and predecessors Everyday Media Culture in Africa Wendy Willems,Winston Mano,2016-11-10 African audiences and users are rapidly gaining in importance and increasingly targeted by global media companies social media platforms and mobile phone operators This is the first edited volume that addresses the everyday lived experiences of Africans in their interaction with different kinds of media old and new state and private elite and popular global and national material and virtual So far the bulk of academic research on media and communication in Africa has studied media through the lens of media state relations thereby adopting liberal democracy as the normative ideal and examining the potential contribution of African media to development and democratization Focusing instead on everyday media culture in a range of African countries this volume contributes to the broader project of provincializing and decolonizing audience and internet studies

Radical Art and the Formation of the Avant-Garde David Cottington,2022-01-01 An authoritative re definition of the social cultural and visual history of the emergence of the avant garde in Paris and London Over the past fifty years the term avant garde has come to shape discussions of European culture and modernity ubiquitously taken for granted but rarely defined This ground breaking book develops an original and searching methodology that fundamentally reconfigures the social cultural and visual context of the emergence of the artistic avant garde in Paris and London before 1915 bringing the material history of its formation into clearer and more detailed focus than ever before Drawing on a wealth of disciplinary evidence from socio economics to histories of sexuality bohemia consumerism politics and popular culture David Cottington explores the different models of cultural collectivity in and presumed hierarchies between these two focal cities while identifying points of ideological influence and difference between them He reveals the avant garde to be at once complicit with resistant to and a product of the modernizing forces of professionalization challenging the conventional wisdom on this moment of cultural formation and offering the means to reset the terms of avant garde studies
