Representing the Post Impressionists and Their Predecessors Brooklyn Museum, 1921 Impressionism John I. Clancy, 2003 Defining an artistic era or movement is often a difficult task as one tries to group individualistic expressions and artwork under one broad brush. Such is the case with impressionism which culls together the art of a multitude of painters in the mid 19th century including Monet C. Zanne Renoir Degas and van Gogh. Basically impressionism involved the shedding of traditional painting methods. The subjects of art were taken from everyday life as opposed to the pages of mythology and history. In addition, each artist painted to express feelings of the moment instead of hewing to time-honoured standards. This description of impressionism obviously is quite broad and can apply to a wide array of styles. Nonetheless, it remains a very important school in the annals of art. Any current or budding art aficionado should become familiar with the impressionist movement and its impact on the art world. This book presents a sweeping study of this artistic period from its origins to its manifestations in the works of some of art history's most revered painters. Following this overview is a substantial and selective bibliography featuring access through author title and subject indexes A Reader's Guide to Modern Art, 1914

Modern French Masters Edwin Fagg, 1930 Discusses works in the Tate Gallery and the National Gallery Brooklyn Museum Quarterly, 1920 The New York Market for French Art in the Gilded Age, 1867-1893 Leanne M. Zalewski, 2022-12-15 This transatlantic study analyses a missing chapter in the history of art collecting: the first art market bubble in the United States. In the decades following the Civil War, French art monopolized art collections across the United States. During this Gilded Age, picture rush, the commercial art system, art dealers, galleries, auction houses, exhibitions, museums, art journals, press coverage, art histories, and collection catalogues established a strong foothold; it has not relinquished to this day. In addition, a pervasive concern for improving aesthetics and providing the best contemporary art to educate the masses led to the formation not only of private art collections but also of institutions such as the Metropolitan Museum of Art and to the publication of art histories richly informed by collectors and art dealers' diaries, letters, stock books, journals, and hitherto neglected art histories. The New York Market for French Art in the Gilded Age, 1867-1893 offers a fresh
