Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1986 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1996 Modern movements in European philosophy Richard Kearney, 1988 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1994-01-01 This text surveys the work of 19 of the 20th century's most influential European thinkers and acts as an introduction to three major movements: phenomenology, critical theory, and structuralism. This edition includes a chapter devoted to Julia Kristeva whose work in the fields of semiotics and psychoanalytic theory has made a significant contribution to recent continental thought.

Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1986 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1995-01-15 In this now classic textbook Richard Kearney surveys the work of nineteen of this century's most influential European thinkers. The second edition has a new chapter devoted to Julia Kristeva whose work in the fields of semiotics and psychoanalytic theory has made a significant contribution to recent continental thought.

The Future of Reason, Science and Faith J. Andrew Kirk, 2016-12-05 Focusing on the history of ideas this book explores important questions concerning knowledge in relation to philosophy, science, ethics, and Christian faith. Kirk contributes to the current debate about the intellectual basis and integrity of Western culture, exploring controversial issues concerning the notions of modernity and post modernity. Repositioning the Christian faith as a valid dialogue partner with contemporary secular movements in philosophy and ethics, Kirk seeks to show that in post-Christian Europe the Christian faith still possesses intellectual resources worthy to be reckoned with. This book's principal argument is that contemporary Western society faces a cultural crisis. It explores what appears to be an historical enigma: namely the question of why Western intellectual endeavours in philosophy and science seem to have abandoned the search for a source of knowledge able to draw together disparate pieces of information provided by different disciplines. Kirk draws conclusions particularly in the area of ethical decision making from this apparent failure and invites readers to consider Christian theism afresh as a means for the renewal of culture and society.

100 years of European Philosophy Since the Great War Matthew Sharpe, Rory Jeffs, Jack Reynolds, 2017-02-14 This book is a collection of specifically commissioned articles on the key continental European philosophical movements since 1914. It shows how each of these bodies of thought has been shaped by their responses to the horrors set in train by World War I and considers whether we are yet post-war. The outbreak of World War I in August 1914 set in chain a series of crises and re-configurations which have continued to shape the world for a century: industrialized slaughter, the end of colonialism and European empires, the rise of the USA, economic crises, fascism, Soviet Marxism, the gulags, and the Shoah. Nearly all of the major movements in European thinking: phenomenology, psychoanalysis, Hegelianism, Marxism, political theology, critical theory, and neoliberalism were forged in or shaped by attempts to come to terms with the global trauma of the World Wars. This is the first book to describe the development of these movements after World War I and as such promises to be of interest to philosophers and historians of philosophy around the world Architecture and Narrative Sophia Psarra, 2009-01-06 Conceptual ordering spatial and social narrative are fundamental to the ways in which buildings are shaped used and perceived This intriguing book explores the ways in which these three dimensions interact in the design and life of buildings Poetics of Imagining Richard Kearney, 1998 With an extended foreword and an afterword chapter and fascinating new material on the narrative imagination Poetics of Imagining Modern to Post modern provides a critically developed and accessible account of the major theories of imagination in modern European thought
