Philosophy and Psychoanalytic Theory Bert Olivier,2009 The essays brought together in this volume are written from the dual perspectives of philosophy and psychoanalytic theory Sometimes more weight is given to the one perspective than to the other and vice versa but always with the conviction that the rational argumentative and hermeneutic interpretive approach of philosophy requires the sobering influence of psychoanalytic theory s conception of the human being as a split subject prone to the laws of the unconscious no less than to those of reason Topics range from the question concerning the relation between discourse evil and the agency of the subject to that of the non relativistic ethical positioning of the psychotherapist from the problem of overcoming relativism by way of a poststructuralist understanding of language to that of a cogent Derridean philosophical response to global terrorism and from a Lacanian understanding of narrative identity of human knowledge as paranoid and of trauma literature to a Kristevan perspective on nature as abject in the light of the degradation of ecosystems globally

Mirrors to One Another E. M. Dadlez,2009-03-30 A compelling exploration of the convergence of Jane Austen's literary themes and characters with David Hume's views on morality and human nature Argues that the normative perspectives endorsed in Jane Austen's novels are best characterized in terms of a Humean approach and that the merits of Hume's account of ethical aesthetic and epistemic virtue are vividly illustrated by Austen's writing Illustrates how Hume and Austen complement one another each providing a lens that allows us to expand and elaborate on the ideas of the other. Proposes that literature may serve as a thought experiment articulating hypothetical cases which allow the reader to test her moral intuitions. Contributes to ongoing debates on the philosophy of literature, ethics, and emotion.

A Companion to the Works of Gotthold Ephraim Lessing
 Barbara Fischer, Thomas C. Fox, 2005. One of the most independent thinkers in German intellectual history, the Enlightenment author Gotthold Ephraim Lessing (1729–1781) contributed in decisive and lasting fashion to literature, philosophy, theology, criticism, and drama theory. Lessing invented the bürgerliches Trauerspiel (bourgeois tragedy) and wrote one of the first successful German tragedies as well as one of the finest German comedies. In his final dramatic masterpiece Nathan der Weise, he writes of Christianity, Judaism, and Islam, of religious tolerance and intolerance, and the clash of civilizations. Lessing's dramas are the oldest German theater pieces still regularly performed both in Germany and internationally, and both his plays and his drama theory have influenced such writers as Goethe, Schiller, Hebbel, Hauptmann, Ibsen, Strindberg, Schnitzler, and Brecht. Addressing an audience ranging from graduate students to seasoned scholars, this volume introduces Lessing's life and times and places him within the broader context of the European Enlightenment. It discusses his pathbreaking dramas, his equally revolutionary theoretical, critical, and aesthetic writings, his original fables, his innovative work in philosophy and theology, and his significant contributions to Jewish emancipation. The volume concludes by examining 20th-century reception of Lessing and his oeuvre.

Bonhoeffer the Assassin? Mark Thiessen Nation, Anthony G. Siegrist, Daniel P. Umbel, 2013-10-01. Most of us think we know the moving story of Dietrich Bonhoeffer's life: a pacifist pastor turns anti-Hitler conspirator due to horrors encountered during World War II, but does the evidence really support this prevailing view? This pioneering work carefully examines the biographical and textual evidence and finds no support for the theory that Bonhoeffer abandoned his ethic of discipleship and was involved in plots to assassinate Hitler. In fact, Bonhoeffer consistently affirmed a strong stance of peacemaking from 1932 to the end of his life, and his commitment to peace was integrated with his theology as a whole. The book includes a foreword by Stanley Hauerwas.

A Second Collection Bernard Lonergan, 2016-08-04. For the edition of A Second Collection prepared for the Collected Works of Bernard Lonergan, editors Robert M. Doran and John D. Didosky have added archival materials directly related to almost every one of the papers, bringing the reader closer to the original compositions. The papers date from 1966 to 1973 and span the most creative period in Lonergan's development. Two major themes run through these papers: the primacy of the fourth existential level of human consciousness and the significance of historical mindedness, with all its implications for culture, hermeneutics, and phenomenological thinking. The theme of conversion makes a grand entrance in
