Phil Swing and Boulder Dam Beverley Bowen Moeller, 1971-01-01 Phil Swing and Boulder Dam Beverly B. Moeller,

The Struggle for Boulder Dam and Other Reminiscences of Phil D. Swing Philip David Swing, Margaret Carry, Robert R. Hind, 1965 The History of Large Federal Dams David P. Billington, Donald C. Jackson, Martin V.

Melosi, 2005 Explores the story of Federal contributions to dam planning design and construction Big Dams of the New Deal Era David P. Billington, Donald C. Jackson, 2017-04-20 The massive dams of the American West were designed to serve multiple purposes improving navigation irrigating crops storing water controlling floods and generating hydroelectricity Their construction also put thousands of people to work during the Great Depression Only later did the dams baneful effects on river ecologies spark public debate Big Dams of the New Deal Era tells how major water storage structures were erected in four western river basins David P Billington and Donald C Jackson reveal how engineering science regional and national politics perceived public needs and a river s natural features intertwined to create distinctive dams within each region In particular the authors describe how two federal agencies the Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation became key players in the creation of these important public works By illuminating the mathematical analysis that supported large scale dam construction the authors also describe how and why engineers in the 1930s most often opted for massive gravity dams whose design required enormous quantities of concrete or earth rock fill for stability Richly illustrated Big Dams of the New Deal Era offers a compelling account of how major dams in the New Deal era restructured the landscape both politically and physically and why American society in the 1930s embraced them wholeheartedly Hoover Dam Joseph E. Stevens, 2014-09-12 In the spring of 1931 in a rugged desert canyon on the Arizona Nevada border an army of workmen began one of the most difficult and daring building projects ever undertaken the construction of Hoover Dam Through the worst years of the Great Depression as many as five thousand laborers toiled twenty four hours a day seven days a week to erect the huge structure that would harness the Colorado River and transform the American West Construction of the giant dam was a triumph of human ingenuity yet the full story of this monumental endeavor has never been told Now in an engrossing fast paced narrative Joseph E Stevens recounts the gripping saga of Hoover Dam Drawing on a wealth of material including manuscript collections government documents contemporary newspaper and magazine accounts and personal interviews and correspondence with men and women who were involved with the construction he brings the Hoover Dam adventure to life Described here in dramatic detail are the deadly hazards the work crews faced as they hacked and blasted the dam s foundation out of solid rock the bitter political battles and violent labor unrest that threatened to shut the job down the deprivation and grinding hardship endured by the workers families the dam builders gambling drinking and whoring sprees in nearby Las Vegas and the stirring triumphs and searing moments of terror as the massive concrete wedge rose inexorably from the canyon floor Here too is an unforgettable cast of characters Henry Kaiser Warren Bechtel and Harry

Morrison the ambitious headstrong construction executives who gambled fortune and fame on the Hoover Dam contract Frank Crowe the brilliant obsessed field engineer who relentlessly drove the work force to finish the dam two and a half years ahead of schedule Sims Ely the irascible teetotaling eccentric who ruled Boulder City the straightlaced company town created for the dam workers by the federal government and many more men and women whose courage and sacrifice greed and frailty made the dam s construction a great human as well as technological adventure Hoover Dam is a compelling irresistible account of an extraordinary American epic The Bureau of Reclamation Brit Allan Storey,2008 Hoover Dam Barbara Vilander,2022-02-22 Hoover Dam was constructed during one of the most depressed economic climates in American history in a remote desert canyon where temperatures ranged from single to triple digits In order to visually document the project the Bureau of Reclamation assigned employee Ben Glaha to photograph all aspects of the dam s construction Glaha s photographs were used in press releases periodicals books pamphlets and slide shows to demonstrate that the dam was structurally sound and that government funds were being used wisely Hoover Dam The Photographs of Ben Glaha is the first detailed examination of Glaha s images of the project some of which have never before been published Glaha photographed every aspect of the construction process from details of how the dam was assembled to the overall progress as the dam rose from the bottom of the dry riverbed Glaha not only provided the Bureau with the photographs it required he also employed his own artistic abilities to produce images of the dam that were exhibited in museums and galleries as works of art Because Glaha was able to create a selection of Hoover Dam photographs worthy of exhibition he was unique among government documentary photographers Art historian Barbara Vilander s text places Glaha s efforts within the historical context of western landscape exploration and development and reveals how his particular qualifications led to his selection as the project photographer Vilander then examines the many publications and venues in which the Bureau used Glaha s photographs to create support for the project She also discusses how Glaha was recognized in his own era as an influential artist and teacher and compares his work with that of other contemporary landscape photographers addressing western water management Glaha s Hoover Dam images were widely published although in accordance with Bureau policy he was not usually given personal credit and therefore his name remains largely unknown Vilander s book corrects that oversight by giving Glaha the technical and artistic credit he is due within the context of one of the most ambitious projects in American history H.R. 123, H.R. 2498 and H.R. 2535 United States,2008 America's Fight Over Water Kevin Wehr,2005-01-01 This book inquires into the relations between society and its natural environment by examining the historical discourse around several cases of state building in the American West the construction of three high dams from 1928 to 1963 Hoover, Conservation, and Consumerism Kendrick A. Clements,2000 To some extent Hoover s policies anticipated directions that would be pursued by modern environmentalists The National Conference on Outdoor Recreation brought together wilderness advocates and urban planners and passage of the first federal law to limit oil pollution in navigable waters marked the beginning of an ongoing effort to control the effects of industrialization on the environment Hoover's advocacy of pleasant affordable housing introduced the idea that our everyday environment is the starting point for environmental concerns BOOK JACKET Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources United States. Reclamation Reform Act of 1979 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Energy and Natural Resources. Subcommittee on Energy Research and Development, 1979 La Reina, Los Angeles in Three Centuries Laurance Landreth Hill, 1929 Effective at the close of business March 30 1929 the Security Trust Savings Bank and the Los Angeles First National Trust Savings Bank consolidate to form the Security First National Bank of Los Angeles The Emergence of Routines Daniel M. G. Raff, Philip Scranton, 2017 This book explains how things get organized and how routines emerge in businesses and business life The chapters explore historical episodes in a wide variety of settings and encourage a view of firm operations and development that is much more realistic and much more practically helpful than the standard economic perspective Protection and Development of Lower Colorado River Basin United States. Congress. House. Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation, 1924 How Local Politics Shape Federal Policy Sarah S. Elkind, 2011-08-15 Focusing on five Los Angeles environmental policy debates between 1920 and 1950 Sarah Elkind investigates how practices in American municipal government gave business groups political legitimacy at the local level as well as unanticipated influence over federal politics Los Angeles's struggles with oil drilling air pollution flooding and water and power supplies expose the clout business has had over government Revealing the huge disparities between big business groups and individual community members in power influence and the ability to participate in policy debates Elkind shows that business groups secured their political power by providing Los Angeles authorities with much needed services including studying emerging problems and framing public debates As a result government officials came to view business interests as the public interest When federal agencies looked to local powerbrokers for project ideas and political support local business interests influenced federal policy too Los Angeles with its many environmental problems and its dependence upon the federal government provides a distillation of national urban trends Elkind argues and is thus an ideal jumping off point for understanding environmental politics and the power of business in the middle of the twentieth century The Boulder Dam All-American Canal Project Imperial Irrigation District (Calif.), 1924 A Bloc of One Richard Coke Lower, 1993 This is the first full length study of one of the major political figures of twentieth century America Hiram Johnson 1866 1945 Elected governor of California in 1910 reelected in 1914 and elevated to the United States Senate in 1916 he characteristically cut his own political path bringing an apocalyptic intensity to the many battles he waged Armed with a sharp wit a talent for invective and a capacity for self righteousness he invigorated the political order around him with the passion he invested in it Stubbornly independent he pursued his goals with a fighter's determination For Johnson politics was an art not of compromise but of confrontation As he himself put it he preferred to be a bloc of one Johnson began his political career as an insurgent a progressive in the stamp of Robert La Follette and Theodore Roosevelt As governor he thoroughly revamped California s political and social order creating a legacy that can still be felt today He helped shape a progressive movement on the national level as well and was Theodore Roosevelt s running mate on the Progressive party ticket in 1912 Johnson left the governorship in 1917 midway through his second term to enter the United States Senate where he served until his death in 1945 Arriving on the eve of America s entry into World War I he continued to define himself as a reformer but quickly embraced a second cause as well becoming one of the nation s most adamant proponents of American isolationism He opposed American entry into the League of Nations in 1919 fought persistently against U S entanglement abroad throughout the inter war years and from his deathbed voted in 1945 against American entry into the United Nations Although today he is best remembered as a fierce and uncompromising isolationist his accomplishments in the Senate as a progressive such as his decade long fight for Hoover Dam were significant and lasting Johnson s public career encompasses and illuminates almost all the significant political issues both domestic and international in American life during the first half of the twentieth century Water and the West Norris Hundley,2009-05-15 Back in print for the first time in over ten years this classic account of the numerous struggles national state and local that have occurred over western American water rights since the late 1800s is thoroughly expanded and updated to trace the continuing battles raging over the West s most valuable and contentious resource
