Nueva historia de la nación argentina, 2001 Nueva historia de la nación argentina: La Argentina del siglo XX, c.1914-1983, 2001 Transformations and Crisis of Liberalism in Argentina, 1930-1955 Jorge A. Nállim, 2014-08-14

Nállim chronicles the decline of liberalism in Argentina during the volatile period between two military coups the 1930 overthrow of Hipólito Yrigoyen and the deposing of Juan Perón in 1955 While historians have primarily focused on liberalism in economic or political contexts Nállim instead documents a wide range of locations where liberalism was claimed and ultimately marginalized in the pursuit of individual agendas Nállim shows how concepts of liberalism were espoused by various groups who invented traditions to legitimize their methods of political religious class intellectual or cultural hegemony In these deeply fractured and corrupt processes liberalism lost political favor and alienated the public These events also set the table for Peronism and stifled the future of progressive liberalism in Argentina Nállim describes the main political parties of the period and deconstructs their liberal discourses He also examines major cultural institutions and shows how each attached liberalism to their cause Nállim compares and contrasts the events in Argentina to those in other Latin American nations and reveals their links to international developments While critics have positioned the rhetoric of liberalism during this period as one of decadence or irrelevance Nállim instead shows it to be a vital and complex factor in the metamorphosis of modern history in Argentina and Latin America as well Genoese Trade and Migration in the Spanish Atlantic, 1700-1830 Catia Brilli, 2016-04-26 The Republic of Genoa was once a major commercial power Following the Republic's decline in the seventeenth century Genoese merchants adapted and thrived in the changing Atlantic market Scholars have examined how other foreign merchant groups operated within the Spanish empire but until now no one has examined how the Genoese adapted to the challenges of increasing competition in Atlantic trade Here Catia Brilli explores how Genoese intermediaries maintained a strong presence in Spanish colonial trade by establishing themselves at the port of Cadiz with its monopoly over American trade and through gradually consolidating strong commercial ties with the Río de la Plata Situated at the intersection of European Atlantic and Latin American history and making extensive use of Spanish Italian and Argentinian sources Genoese Trade and Migration in the Spanish Atlantic 1700-1830 provides a unique perspective on eighteenth and early nineteenth century transatlantic trade The Cambridge Economic History of Latin

Science and Catholicism in Argentina (1750-1960) Miguel de Asúa, 2022-05-09 Science and Catholicism in Argentina 1750 1960 is the first comprehensive study on the relationship between science and religion in a Spanish speaking country with a Catholic majority and a Latin pattern of secularisation The text takes the reader from Jesuit missionary science in colonial times through the conflict ridden 19th century to the Catholic revival of the 1930s in Argentina The diverse interactions between science and religion revealed in this analysis can be organised in terms of their dynamic of secularisation The indissoluble identification of science and the secular which operated at rhetorical and institutional levels among the liberal elite and the socialists in the 19th century lost part of its force with the emergence of Catholic scientists in the course of the 20th century In agreement with current views that deny science the role as the driving force of secularisation this historical study concludes that it was the process of secularisation that shaped the interplay between religion and science not the other way around

The Western Codification of Criminal Law Aniceto Masferrer, 2018-03-09 This volume addresses an important historiographical gap by assessing the respective contributions of tradition and foreign influences to the 19th century codification of criminal law More specifically it focuses on the extent of French influence among others in European and American civil law jurisdictions In this regard the book seeks to dispel a number of myths concerning the French model s actual influence on European and Latin American criminal codes The impact of the Napoleonic criminal code on other jurisdictions was real but the scope and extent of its influence were significantly less than has sometimes been claimed The overemphasis on French influence on other civil law jurisdictions is partly due to a fundamental assumption that modern criminal codes constituted a break with the past The question as to whether they truly broke with the past or were merely a degree of reform touches on a difficult issue namely the dichotomy between tradition and foreign influences in the codification of criminal law Scholarship has unfairly ignored this important subject an oversight that this book remedies

A Woman, a Man, a Nation Jeffrey M. Shumway, 2019-11-01 In 1837 Mariquita S nchez de Mendevidle was so fed up with governor Juan Manuel de Rosas that she chose to leave her beloved city of Buenos Aires Leaving was especially hard because Mariquita felt that she had played an influential role in transforming Buenos Aires from a Spanish colonial outpost into a brilliant capital in a world of republics Juan Manuel de Rosas s version of order alienated Mariquita who chose self imposed exile in Montevideo over living under Rosas's stifling rule. The struggle went on for nearly two decades until Mariquita finally came home for good in 1852 while Rosas went into exile. Mariquita's and Juan Manuel's lives corresponded with the major events and processes that shaped the turbulent beginnings of the Argentine nation, many of which also shaped Latin America and the Atlantic World during the Age of Revolution, 1750-1850. Their lives provide an overarching narrative for Argentine history that both scholars and students will find intriguing.
